Pleasant Hill School. Harrisburg Notes. The Legislature re. sembled Tuesday, and the House had the conspiracy laws under consideration. Mr. Jones, of Allegheny, wants all the old laws repealed and a new one passed. MUDDYCREEK TWP., NO. 1.

In the Senate that day, the State Asy-um bill passed finally, and the Pittsburg treet bills were considered. The granger members of the two houses met that evening and unanimously agreed to oppose the Road bill, and to alter the Tax bill so as to exempt from taxation all bornes and cattle under 3 years and all sheep and swine under 1 year, also house-hold furniture, tools and unsold products.

MUDDTOREEK TWP., No. 1. To, CITIERS.—As there is always space open in your esteemed paper for common-school news, or, in fact, any other good and wholesome news, I feel at liberty to send you a few facts concerning the above-ment school, and especially of the last month and last day of the term. The school began very promisingly on Monday, Sept. 22, 1890, and closed very happily and peacefully on Wednesday, March 18, 1891. The per cent of attendance for the term is 90, which, owing to the inclement weather, the distance many have to go, and the number of small scholars, is very gratify-ing indeed. During the closing month, Henry Barkley, Eddie Millison, Charlie Stewart, Budd Garvey, Cartis and John White, Clara Gallaber, Mintie and Ada White, Annie Barkley, Chare Stewart, Mary, Eva and Maggie, and Sue Haworth
