One of the oldest men in this State is William Reese, who has just passed his 104th birthday. Mr. Reese lives in Bolivar, Westmoreland county, about fifty miles east of Pittsburg, and enjoys also the distinction of being a member of the only family in the United States in which the first-born of four successive generations has attained an age of over 100 years. Mr. Reese is one of the men who lent his aid in forming the Republican party in 1855. At the time of President Harrison's election he was visited by his son who urged the old gentleman to vote the Prohibition ticket. "I am afraid I'll have to refuse you, my son," said the centenarian. "I voted for 'Tippecanoe,' and I think I'll stick to the old party and vote for the grandson." His son did not urge the point any further, and Mr. Reese's vote was turned in for Benjamin Harrison.
