HISTORICAL HORSE RACING.
Fabulous sums won by some Old-Time "Plungers."
It is quite probable that there are just now no gamblers quite so heavily, except in stocks, as did the "plungers" in the early part of this century, says W. B. Curtis, in Forum. There were in England a dozen men who made $300,000 "books" on the Derby alone, and as late as 1856 a "bookmaker" bet $500,000 to $5,000 against each of three horses on the Derby. In 1847 the owner of the Derby favorite "backed" him publicly to win $750,000, besides the amount of his private bet. The "plunging of bookmakers" paid to one circle of bettors a million dollars when Lottor won the Cesarewitch. The owner of more than one Derby winner collected $500,000 on the next setting day, and in several other years would have pocketed a million if their bets had been "backed" in the same manner. Most men who now have the money and the "nerve" to make such enormous bets have given up horse racing in favor of games which still higher possibilities, and instead of wagering $500,000 on a horse and calling it gambling, they deposit the same amount as "margin" in a stock speculation and call it business. Although individuals do not lay such heavy wagers as were sometimes made by the "plungers" of old, much more money is wagered now than was risked fifty years ago. The difference is, that while then one man bet $100,000, now ten men each bet $20,000, and the total amount wagered is doubled. Of single bets made on American horse races the records: Haughton bet Walton $14,000 to $10,000 against Giraffe; Haughton bet Kelly $20,000 to $5,000 against Hemlock; Haughton bet Johnson bet P. Lottard $11,000 to $10,000 against Pizarro and $25,000 to $5,000 against Leo in the same race. In each of these cases it is probable that the owners risked ten times these amounts on each of the races, as the bets above stated were only made with one bookmaker.

Tommy—Pa, Mr. Bixby said to-day they're very much like you.
Pa—I'm glad to hear it, my son. How do I come to say?

Politician—I don't know what of the matter with me, doctor. I can't lie on the right side.

CAPTURED.
Once upon a time a young man named Cobb met a beautiful young lady named Webb, and it is related that he fell in love as soon as he spied her. Our tale is told. We've caught your eye. Do you catch our? Well; just follow along a little further. That "birds of a feather, flock together" in little devices by themselves is no more truly verified than at our store. Those who are good Judges of goods in our line, and who wish to get the best goods in the market for the money, congregate at our store daily. There is always room for one more; so don't be backward, but call in and see us.
I did not think of advertising this fall, but I met a man who asked me who I was. I told him
Heck, The Champion Clothier & Furnisher.
And strange to say, he informed me that he had never heard of me. Well it is just such people we are after, and if this should catch their eye, we hope human curiosity will lead them to read it for it is one of the commonest traits of the race. It was curiosity that led Eve to taste the forbidden fruit; and her offspring have their curiosity excited every day as a hereditary temptation, from the small boy everlastingly peeping into boxes to the hired girl with her eye to the key hole. Everlastingly curious that is it. Properly directed, this curiosity often leads to satisfactory results, and D. A. Heck invites all curious people to make a voyage of discovery to his store and see the largest store, the largest stock of clothing—in Overcoats and Suits for men, boys and children, Hats, Caps, Gloves, Mitts, Shirts, Underwear, Corsets, Jackets, Leather Coats and Pants, Overalls, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Rubber Coats, Collars, Cuffs, Ties, Hdkfs, Mufflers, Brushes, Purse, Pins and Pocket-Books, Ladies and Gents' Watches, Chain-Charms, Rings, Pins, Sleeve and Collar Buttons, Silver Card-Cases, and a full line of Notions—at remarkably low prices; no matter how low you have been offered goods we have them still lower and for quality we never take a back seat. It will be to your personal advantage to give us an early call and get our prices, and you are sure to give us a large share of your patronage hereafter.
Thinking our many friends for their very liberal patronage.
We remain, yours to please.
