JOHN DALZELL'S CANDIDACY. Now is the time. Wellborn Agitator.

The statement that Mr. Dalzell is a candidate for this position is gratifying in itself, for his advancement to the Senate would be creditable and advantageous to the State.

Mr. Dalzell's announcement comes none too soon to arouse the people to the necessity of this election.

Ring Out the Old.

But this I say, brethren, the time is short—1 Cor. vii, 29.

A time to be borne, and a time to die—1 Cor. vii, 29.

For a thousand years in this sight are as yesterday when it is past, and as watch in the night.—Psalm, xc, 4.

The year which is just now saying farewell to the world has borne itself toward the American people with generous courtesy.

Indeed, if we recall the war clouds which threw their deepening shadow over so many other nations we are half inclined to add that the year has shown something like favoritism in dealing with them.

From the sea to the Rockies no bugle blast disturbs our serenity; from the Rockies to the ocean no cannonading fills the air.

So did the old year a grateful farewell, and extend the hand of welcome the new year—1892.

The National Convention of this year will be held from 7th, and as the delegate to it must be elected at least one month before it convenes, or May 7th, the State convention which will name the delegates-at-large, will have to be held before that date.

One of the Cooley gang of Fayette Co. was accidentally shot, Monday, by one of his brothers.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

A couple of Puntnamway men, the other day, were hunting a natural gas leak in a new house with a match.

The verdict was a surprise to judges, spectators and even the prisoner himself.

Maggie Conlin, a pretty Miss of about 16 years, who claims to be the daughter of a wholesale groceryman living in Kittanning and to have graduated from an Allegheny private school with high honors, was arrested in Pittsburgh and sent to the work house last Saturday for thirty days.

Comment. On a fruit evaporating establishment that has just finished work for the season, having evaporated about 60 tons of apples in three months, and made several hundred barrels of cider, the larger part of which is being made into vinegar.

Prof. G. W. Innes, principal of the District school in charged with the school and has left the neighborhood to escape arrest.

In Pittsburg, the other day, one man tossed a baby to another, the catcher "made a muff" and the baby went out the window.

Baker's hardware store in Greenville was burned, Tuesday night.

The Mexican Government has entered a complaint against our allowing Garza and his band of revolutionists to pass and re-pass our Southern borders, and to organize his forces on this side, and some troops of the regular army have been detailed to stop it.

Collector WARMACOSTE of Pittsburgh was removed from office last Wednesday, and the office has since been vacant.
