

Grand Pianos for Sale.

Now is your time to select a good Piano. Do not wait to buy one. Buy one now. Your life-time. So while selecting one it is the best and cheapest to buy a good one.

PROF. MAIERS,

of Boston has opened a Piano and Organ Parlor at No. 218 East North St., where he has on exhibition a new variety of Pianos from the best of makers of Boston. They have a full range of mellow tones, the action is light, quick and powerful. They will be glad to show and explain. Please call and examine before buying elsewhere. You can save money by purchasing a Piano of me, and get an extra year's warranty or guarantee to give entire satisfaction. I have made and tested

Pianos and Organs

For over 40 years therefore know how to select a perfect Piano.

PIANOS AND ORGANS TUNED.

218 E. North St., BUTLER, PA.

We Are Still Offering

through the month of January special bargains in wall paper stock to make way for spring goods. These prices can't continue on new goods, but we must have room.

Also if you want anything in fancy goods left over from the holiday season will sell to you at cost or less than cost.

We're stocking up on all lines of staples and want you to be on the lookout for our new things.

J. H. Douglass,

Near Postoffice, Butler, Pa.

FRANK KEMPER,

DEALER IN

BLANKETS,

ROBES,

HARNESS,

And everything in horse and buggy furnishing goods—Harness, Collars, Whips, Dusters, Saddles, etc. Also trunks and valises.

Repairing done on short notice.

The largest assortment of 5-A Horse blankets in town will be found at Kemper's.

Semi-Annual Clearance Sale.

AS HAS BEEN OUR CUSTOM FOR MANY YEARS WE WILL CLOSE OUT OUR WINTER MILLINERY AT COST.

M. F. & M. Marks,

113 and 117 South Main Street.

B. & B.

Our Regular January Sale of Embroideries is Attracting Special Attention THE VALUES, THE QUALITIES, THE PATTERNS.

Are More Attractive Than Usual. This continuous improvement in methods of merchandising is what is bringing us every day more and more of your patronage.

Special large line of Hamburg Edges at 50c, (3 inches wide) and the kind that always retails at 10c and 12c.

6-inch Flouncings, special good lot at 15c; usual price, 25c.

9 to 10-inch Flouncings at 25c, elegant patterns and fine work. For such quantities were accustomed to pay 50c a yard.

All-over Embroideries at 25c; worth 50c.

Above are all special and early buyers get the best selection! They'll not last very long.

One thousand and one patterns of Hamburg, Swiss, and Nainsook Embroideries, the best values we think ever yet shown in this line.

Late buyers of Dress Fabrics will profit by this January Sale in these departments of new goods just bought at half-price and to be sold the same way.

We only mention this one lot of ALL-WOOL SUITINGS At 50 cents, in both 36 and 50-inch goods.

Choice stripes, plaids, mixtures that have sold earlier in the season at 75c, $1.00, $1.25.

Write for information about the others.

A late-season sale of Alaska Seal Jackets, Alaska Seal Capes, and Mink Capes, at prices very much lower than they've been sold this season.

Correspondence invited.

Boggs & Buhl,

115 to 121 Federal Street, ALLEGHENY, PA.

WANTED—Agents to solicit orders for our

Choice and Heavy Duty Stock.

Steady Work For Excessive Temperate Money.

Salary and expense paid weekly. Full or part time. Guarantee not required. Stock complete, including many fast-selling specialties. Elegant outfit free. Address: C. H. HAVNER, 115 to 121 Federal Street, Allegheny, Pa.

LOST $1000

Unless you write us quickly, we will guarantee permanent positions with salary and expense paid weekly. Full or part time. Guarantee not required. Stock complete, including many fast-selling specialties. Elegant outfit free. Address: C. H. HAVNER, 115 to 121 Federal Street, Allegheny, Pa.

L. C. WICK

DEALER IN

Rough and Worked Lumber

OF ALL KINDS

Doors, Sash, Blinds, Mouldings, Shingles and Lath Always in Stock.

LIME, HAIR AND PLASTER.

Office opposite P. & W. Depot.

LUMBER YARD.

L. M. & J. J. HEWIT,

Dealers in all kinds of

Rough and Worked Lumber.

DOORS, SASH, BLINDS, SHINGLES, LATH, ETC.

We have a large stock of all kinds of Lumber, Oil Well Pipe, Etc. Call and get our prices and see our stock. Mail Orders Promptly Attended To.

Office and Yard on MOSKOW ST., NEAR WEST PENN. DEPOT, BUTLER, PA.

Planing Mill

—AND—

Lumber Yard

J. L. PURVIS L. O. PURVIS

S. G. Purvis & Co.

MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN

Rough and Planed Lumber

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

SHINGLES, LATH & SEWER PIPE.

Butler, Pa.

ACME BLACKING RETAILS AT 20c.

At that price sells readily. Many people are accustomed to buying a dressing or blacking at 5c, and 10c, a bottle that they cannot understand that a blacking can be cheap at 20c. We want to tell them with cheques if we can, and to accomplish this offer a reward of $10,000.

For a recipe which will enable you to make WOLFF'S ACME BLACKING at such a price that a retailer can probably sell it at 10c a bottle. We hold this offer open until Jan. 1st, 1910.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.

REDUCE YOUR BILL BY TRYING YOUR CLOTHING

Gents' Furnishings, Hats, Caps, Trunks and Bags at the One Price Net Spot Cash.

RACKET STORE

120 S. Main St. Butler, Pa.

Christmas Gifts For Everybody.

J. C. REDICK,

Redick's Drug Store

Fancy goods and Novelties, Toilet Articles and Notions. While we cannot describe or enumerate our great variety, we are very glad to show them to all visitors. We claim for our stock excellence, inequality, variety in design and reasonable prices. Whatever your wants may be, we can meet them with beautiful and appropriate selections. We solicit a comparison of our goods and prices. Knowing you find our Holiday goods the best and cheapest.

Respectfully,

TURN ON THE LIGHT

And let it enlighten man, woman and child.

Knows of the skill and excellency of

Gosser's Cream Glycerine.

It is the ideal Cosmetic. It stimulates the nerves, quickens circulation, carries away dead particles of the skin, leaving it fine and clear. It has no equal for Chapped Hands, Lips, Face, or roughness of the skin, and is not excelled as a dressing for the face after shaving. It is a bland, creamy emulsion, which, when used, causes the skin to soften the skin. No lady or gentleman should be without it. Be sure to get the genuine. Take no substitute.

"For sale by J. C. Redick, Drugist, Butler, Pa."

DOCTOR J. B. HOBSACK'S

206 North Market St. PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Are the oldest in America for the treatment of SPECIAL DISEASES and YOUTHFUL ERRORS, including: Gonorrhoea, Stricture, Gleet, Syphilis, Discharges, Eruptions, Itching, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, etc.

Permanently without detention from business. The Doctor's success is due to his scientific method of study; to the pure vegetable remedies used and to the thorough examination and selected attention given patients during treatment. A lady's youth establishment is one guarantee of success.

Old Jones St. N. E. of P. M. C. 10 P. M. All day Saturday, Sundays, 10 to 12 A. M. Send stamp for book.

WASHES WITHOUT WEARING OUT CLOTHES.

AS LITTLE OR NO RUBBING IS REQUIRED. FOLLOW DIRECTIONS CLOSELY.

FARM FOR SALE.

The undersigned has an excellent farm containing 100 acres, well watered, and situated in Adams Township, near the head of Old Mill Creek, and near the Allegheny River. It contains a good house, good barn, good stock, good outbuildings, good orchard, level and good ground, two springs, near house, pump, barn, and all in good order.

James Davidson, Myoma P. O., Butler Co., Pa.

WASHES WITHOUT WEARING OUT CLOTHES.

AS LITTLE OR NO RUBBING IS REQUIRED. FOLLOW DIRECTIONS CLOSELY.

FARM FOR SALE.

The undersigned has an excellent farm containing 100 acres, well watered, and situated in Adams Township, near the head of Old Mill Creek, and near the Allegheny River. It contains a good house, good barn, good stock, good outbuildings, good orchard, level and good ground, two springs, near house, pump, barn, and all in good order.

James Davidson, Myoma P. O., Butler Co., Pa.

Nothing on Earth Will MAKE HIS LAY!

Sheridan's Condition Powder!

KEEPS YOUR CHICKENS Strong and Healthy. Prevents all Diseases. Good for Hatching Eggs.

It is absolutely pure. Highly concentrated. In granulated form. It is a powerful disinfectant. It kills all germs. It is a powerful stimulant. It keeps the chickens healthy. It is a powerful purgative. It keeps the chickens clean. It is a powerful tonic. It keeps the chickens strong. It is a powerful preservative. It keeps the chickens fresh. It is a powerful restorative. It keeps the chickens healthy.

Time: 11:45 P. M.

HUMPHREYS' VETERINARY SPECIFICS

For Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Dogs, Hogs, AND POULTRY.

500 Page Book on Treatment of Animals and all their Diseases. For Sale by

HUMPHREYS' VETERINARY SPECIFICS

FOR HORSES, CATTLE, SHEEP, DOGS, HOGS, AND POULTRY.

500 Page Book on Treatment of Animals and all their Diseases. For Sale by

HUMPHREYS' SPECIFIC No. 28

NERVOUS DEBILITY, VITAL WEAKNESS, LOSS OF MEMORY, AND ALL THE SYMPTOMS OF NERVOUS EXHAUSTION.

For Sale by

We use Alcohol

pure alcohol to make WOLFF'S ACME BLACKING. Alcohol is good for laundry. It is good for the skin. It is good for the hair. It is good for the eyes. It is good for the nose. It is good for the throat. It is good for the lungs. It is good for the stomach. It is good for the intestines. It is good for the bladder. It is good for the kidneys. It is good for the liver. It is good for the spleen. It is good for the pancreas. It is good for the gallbladder. It is good for the biliary system. It is good for the circulatory system. It is good for the respiratory system. It is good for the nervous system. It is good for the muscular system. It is good for the skeletal system. It is good for the integumentary system. It is good for the reproductive system. It is good for the excretory system. It is good for the digestive system. It is good for the absorptive system. It is good for the eliminatory system. It is good for the assimilatory system. It is good for the assimilatory system.

SKIN DISEASES SWAYNE'S

ABSOLUTE CURE OINTMENT

For Sale by

FOR MEN ONLY!

WOLFF'S ACME BLACKING

For Sale by

DOCTORS LAKE PRIVATE DISPENSARY.

206 North Market St. PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Are the oldest in America for the treatment of SPECIAL DISEASES and YOUTHFUL ERRORS, including: Gonorrhoea, Stricture, Gleet, Syphilis, Discharges, Eruptions, Itching, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, etc.

RUPTURE!

Entirely cured of rupture by Dr. J. B. Hobsack, 206 North Market St. Philadelphia, Pa.

WASHES WITHOUT WEARING OUT CLOTHES.

AS LITTLE OR NO RUBBING IS REQUIRED. FOLLOW DIRECTIONS CLOSELY.

FARM FOR SALE.

The undersigned has an excellent farm containing 100 acres, well watered, and situated in Adams Township, near the head of Old Mill Creek, and near the Allegheny River. It contains a good house, good barn, good stock, good outbuildings, good orchard, level and good ground, two springs, near house, pump, barn, and all in good order.

James Davidson, Myoma P. O., Butler Co., Pa.

FARM FOR SALE.

The undersigned has an excellent farm containing 100 acres, well watered, and situated in Adams Township, near the head of Old Mill Creek, and near the Allegheny River. It contains a good house, good barn, good stock, good outbuildings, good orchard, level and good ground, two springs, near house, pump, barn, and all in good order.

James Davidson, Myoma P. O., Butler Co., Pa.

FARM FOR SALE.

The undersigned has an excellent farm containing 100 acres, well watered, and situated in Adams Township, near the head of Old Mill Creek, and near the Allegheny River. It contains a good house, good barn, good stock, good outbuildings, good orchard, level and good ground, two springs, near house, pump, barn, and all in good order.

James Davidson, Myoma P. O., Butler Co., Pa.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities and political convulsions of sixty-three years.

In his beautiful home, with its luxurious furnishings and pleasant surroundings, he passes much of his time, where his friends, whose name is legion, are thrice welcomed and hospitably received.

"So firm he stands across the room, So stately was his air, So serene his face, that eighty years Had whitened through his hair."

A perfect gentleman of the old school; a millionaire and splendid financier; a lover of books; a friend of science and education; and a believer in the broad principles of humanity—schools, colleges, universities, churches and all benevolent societies alike receive liberal benefits from his bountiful hand. The cut is reproduced from a recent photograph, presented by Mr. Bradbury to his friends as a souvenir to a Detroit Free Press correspondent.

Politeness Made Him a Canon.

Canon Duckworth of Westminster Abbey, is said to owe his placidity, his Christian life and his favor in royal eyes to a slight act of courtesy to the princess of Wales. The scene of his graceful gallantry was at Oxford, a number of years ago, when the princess, on her way with the prince and a party of friends to embark in a barge on the river, became separated from the others and stood at the river side alone and irresolute. A young man who happened to be near by saw her dilemma, stepped forward, and offered her to accompany him to the barge. The princess, who was in the royal train, noted his gallantry, and within a few years that youth was a favorite with royalty and well on his way to preferment in the church. Now he is canon of Westminster.

And Still They Kick.

Madagascar people twenty-five days in a year and make enough time to support them in idleness the rest of the time.

The Twins.

So like are they that people say They can't tell me from Jim. But I can tell you from my own eye, I'm one, and he is him.

—Harpers' Young People.

Had a Prejudice Against Water.

Brooklyn, N. Y., columnar and editor advise you to buy some P. D. & Q. R. E. Col. Blood—Isn't that a Gould stock?"

"Yes."

"Then I don't want any. You forget I am from Kentucky!"—Jury.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities and political convulsions of sixty-three years.

In his beautiful home, with its luxurious furnishings and pleasant surroundings, he passes much of his time, where his friends, whose name is legion, are thrice welcomed and hospitably received.

"So firm he stands across the room, So stately was his air, So serene his face, that eighty years Had whitened through his hair."

A perfect gentleman of the old school; a millionaire and splendid financier; a lover of books; a friend of science and education; and a believer in the broad principles of humanity—schools, colleges, universities, churches and all benevolent societies alike receive liberal benefits from his bountiful hand. The cut is reproduced from a recent photograph, presented by Mr. Bradbury to his friends as a souvenir to a Detroit Free Press correspondent.

Politeness Made Him a Canon.

Canon Duckworth of Westminster Abbey, is said to owe his placidity, his Christian life and his favor in royal eyes to a slight act of courtesy to the princess of Wales. The scene of his graceful gallantry was at Oxford, a number of years ago, when the princess, on her way with the prince and a party of friends to embark in a barge on the river, became separated from the others and stood at the river side alone and irresolute. A young man who happened to be near by saw her dilemma, stepped forward, and offered her to accompany him to the barge. The princess, who was in the royal train, noted his gallantry, and within a few years that youth was a favorite with royalty and well on his way to preferment in the church. Now he is canon of Westminster.

And Still They Kick.

Madagascar people twenty-five days in a year and make enough time to support them in idleness the rest of the time.

The Twins.

So like are they that people say They can't tell me from Jim. But I can tell you from my own eye, I'm one, and he is him.

—Harpers' Young People.

Had a Prejudice Against Water.

Brooklyn, N. Y., columnar and editor advise you to buy some P. D. & Q. R. E. Col. Blood—Isn't that a Gould stock?"

"Yes."

"Then I don't want any. You forget I am from Kentucky!"—Jury.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities and political convulsions of sixty-three years.

In his beautiful home, with its luxurious furnishings and pleasant surroundings, he passes much of his time, where his friends, whose name is legion, are thrice welcomed and hospitably received.

"So firm he stands across the room, So stately was his air, So serene his face, that eighty years Had whitened through his hair."

A perfect gentleman of the old school; a millionaire and splendid financier; a lover of books; a friend of science and education; and a believer in the broad principles of humanity—schools, colleges, universities, churches and all benevolent societies alike receive liberal benefits from his bountiful hand. The cut is reproduced from a recent photograph, presented by Mr. Bradbury to his friends as a souvenir to a Detroit Free Press correspondent.

Politeness Made Him a Canon.

Canon Duckworth of Westminster Abbey, is said to owe his placidity, his Christian life and his favor in royal eyes to a slight act of courtesy to the princess of Wales. The scene of his graceful gallantry was at Oxford, a number of years ago, when the princess, on her way with the prince and a party of friends to embark in a barge on the river, became separated from the others and stood at the river side alone and irresolute. A young man who happened to be near by saw her dilemma, stepped forward, and offered her to accompany him to the barge. The princess, who was in the royal train, noted his gallantry, and within a few years that youth was a favorite with royalty and well on his way to preferment in the church. Now he is canon of Westminster.

And Still They Kick.

Madagascar people twenty-five days in a year and make enough time to support them in idleness the rest of the time.

The Twins.

So like are they that people say They can't tell me from Jim. But I can tell you from my own eye, I'm one, and he is him.

—Harpers' Young People.

Had a Prejudice Against Water.

Brooklyn, N. Y., columnar and editor advise you to buy some P. D. & Q. R. E. Col. Blood—Isn't that a Gould stock?"

"Yes."

"Then I don't want any. You forget I am from Kentucky!"—Jury.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities and political convulsions of sixty-three years.

In his beautiful home, with its luxurious furnishings and pleasant surroundings, he passes much of his time, where his friends, whose name is legion, are thrice welcomed and hospitably received.

"So firm he stands across the room, So stately was his air, So serene his face, that eighty years Had whitened through his hair."

A perfect gentleman of the old school; a millionaire and splendid financier; a lover of books; a friend of science and education; and a believer in the broad principles of humanity—schools, colleges, universities, churches and all benevolent societies alike receive liberal benefits from his bountiful hand. The cut is reproduced from a recent photograph, presented by Mr. Bradbury to his friends as a souvenir to a Detroit Free Press correspondent.

Politeness Made Him a Canon.

Canon Duckworth of Westminster Abbey, is said to owe his placidity, his Christian life and his favor in royal eyes to a slight act of courtesy to the princess of Wales. The scene of his graceful gallantry was at Oxford, a number of years ago, when the princess, on her way with the prince and a party of friends to embark in a barge on the river, became separated from the others and stood at the river side alone and irresolute. A young man who happened to be near by saw her dilemma, stepped forward, and offered her to accompany him to the barge. The princess, who was in the royal train, noted his gallantry, and within a few years that youth was a favorite with royalty and well on his way to preferment in the church. Now he is canon of Westminster.

And Still They Kick.

Madagascar people twenty-five days in a year and make enough time to support them in idleness the rest of the time.

The Twins.

So like are they that people say They can't tell me from Jim. But I can tell you from my own eye, I'm one, and he is him.

—Harpers' Young People.

Had a Prejudice Against Water.

Brooklyn, N. Y., columnar and editor advise you to buy some P. D. & Q. R. E. Col. Blood—Isn't that a Gould stock?"

"Yes."

"Then I don't want any. You forget I am from Kentucky!"—Jury.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities and political convulsions of sixty-three years.

In his beautiful home, with its luxurious furnishings and pleasant surroundings, he passes much of his time, where his friends, whose name is legion, are thrice welcomed and hospitably received.

"So firm he stands across the room, So stately was his air, So serene his face, that eighty years Had whitened through his hair."

A perfect gentleman of the old school; a millionaire and splendid financier; a lover of books; a friend of science and education; and a believer in the broad principles of humanity—schools, colleges, universities, churches and all benevolent societies alike receive liberal benefits from his bountiful hand. The cut is reproduced from a recent photograph, presented by Mr. Bradbury to his friends as a souvenir to a Detroit Free Press correspondent.

Politeness Made Him a Canon.

Canon Duckworth of Westminster Abbey, is said to owe his placidity, his Christian life and his favor in royal eyes to a slight act of courtesy to the princess of Wales. The scene of his graceful gallantry was at Oxford, a number of years ago, when the princess, on her way with the prince and a party of friends to embark in a barge on the river, became separated from the others and stood at the river side alone and irresolute. A young man who happened to be near by saw her dilemma, stepped forward, and offered her to accompany him to the barge. The princess, who was in the royal train, noted his gallantry, and within a few years that youth was a favorite with royalty and well on his way to preferment in the church. Now he is canon of Westminster.

And Still They Kick.

Madagascar people twenty-five days in a year and make enough time to support them in idleness the rest of the time.

The Twins.

So like are they that people say They can't tell me from Jim. But I can tell you from my own eye, I'm one, and he is him.

—Harpers' Young People.

Had a Prejudice Against Water.

Brooklyn, N. Y., columnar and editor advise you to buy some P. D. & Q. R. E. Col. Blood—Isn't that a Gould stock?"

"Yes."

"Then I don't want any. You forget I am from Kentucky!"—Jury.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities and political convulsions of sixty-three years.

In his beautiful home, with its luxurious furnishings and pleasant surroundings, he passes much of his time, where his friends, whose name is legion, are thrice welcomed and hospitably received.

"So firm he stands across the room, So stately was his air, So serene his face, that eighty years Had whitened through his hair."

A perfect gentleman of the old school; a millionaire and splendid financier; a lover of books; a friend of science and education; and a believer in the broad principles of humanity—schools, colleges, universities, churches and all benevolent societies alike receive liberal benefits from his bountiful hand. The cut is reproduced from a recent photograph, presented by Mr. Bradbury to his friends as a souvenir to a Detroit Free Press correspondent.

Politeness Made Him a Canon.

Canon Duckworth of Westminster Abbey, is said to owe his placidity, his Christian life and his favor in royal eyes to a slight act of courtesy to the princess of Wales. The scene of his graceful gallantry was at Oxford, a number of years ago, when the princess, on her way with the prince and a party of friends to embark in a barge on the river, became separated from the others and stood at the river side alone and irresolute. A young man who happened to be near by saw her dilemma, stepped forward, and offered her to accompany him to the barge. The princess, who was in the royal train, noted his gallantry, and within a few years that youth was a favorite with royalty and well on his way to preferment in the church. Now he is canon of Westminster.

And Still They Kick.

Madagascar people twenty-five days in a year and make enough time to support them in idleness the rest of the time.

The Twins.

So like are they that people say They can't tell me from Jim. But I can tell you from my own eye, I'm one, and he is him.

—Harpers' Young People.

Had a Prejudice Against Water.

Brooklyn, N. Y., columnar and editor advise you to buy some P. D. & Q. R. E. Col. Blood—Isn't that a Gould stock?"

"Yes."

"Then I don't want any. You forget I am from Kentucky!"—Jury.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities and political convulsions of sixty-three years.

In his beautiful home, with its luxurious furnishings and pleasant surroundings, he passes much of his time, where his friends, whose name is legion, are thrice welcomed and hospitably received.

"So firm he stands across the room, So stately was his air, So serene his face, that eighty years Had whitened through his hair."

A perfect gentleman of the old school; a millionaire and splendid financier; a lover of books; a friend of science and education; and a believer in the broad principles of humanity—schools, colleges, universities, churches and all benevolent societies alike receive liberal benefits from his bountiful hand. The cut is reproduced from a recent photograph, presented by Mr. Bradbury to his friends as a souvenir to a Detroit Free Press correspondent.

Politeness Made Him a Canon.

Canon Duckworth of Westminster Abbey, is said to owe his placidity, his Christian life and his favor in royal eyes to a slight act of courtesy to the princess of Wales. The scene of his graceful gallantry was at Oxford, a number of years ago, when the princess, on her way with the prince and a party of friends to embark in a barge on the river, became separated from the others and stood at the river side alone and irresolute. A young man who happened to be near by saw her dilemma, stepped forward, and offered her to accompany him to the barge. The princess, who was in the royal train, noted his gallantry, and within a few years that youth was a favorite with royalty and well on his way to preferment in the church. Now he is canon of Westminster.

And Still They Kick.

Madagascar people twenty-five days in a year and make enough time to support them in idleness the rest of the time.

The Twins.

So like are they that people say They can't tell me from Jim. But I can tell you from my own eye, I'm one, and he is him.

—Harpers' Young People.

Had a Prejudice Against Water.

Brooklyn, N. Y., columnar and editor advise you to buy some P. D. & Q. R. E. Col. Blood—Isn't that a Gould stock?"

"Yes."

"Then I don't want any. You forget I am from Kentucky!"—Jury.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities and political convulsions of sixty-three years.

In his beautiful home, with its luxurious furnishings and pleasant surroundings, he passes much of his time, where his friends, whose name is legion, are thrice welcomed and hospitably received.

"So firm he stands across the room, So stately was his air, So serene his face, that eighty years Had whitened through his hair."

A perfect gentleman of the old school; a millionaire and splendid financier; a lover of books; a friend of science and education; and a believer in the broad principles of humanity—schools, colleges, universities, churches and all benevolent societies alike receive liberal benefits from his bountiful hand. The cut is reproduced from a recent photograph, presented by Mr. Bradbury to his friends as a souvenir to a Detroit Free Press correspondent.

Politeness Made Him a Canon.

Canon Duckworth of Westminster Abbey, is said to owe his placidity, his Christian life and his favor in royal eyes to a slight act of courtesy to the princess of Wales. The scene of his graceful gallantry was at Oxford, a number of years ago, when the princess, on her way with the prince and a party of friends to embark in a barge on the river, became separated from the others and stood at the river side alone and irresolute. A young man who happened to be near by saw her dilemma, stepped forward, and offered her to accompany him to the barge. The princess, who was in the royal train, noted his gallantry, and within a few years that youth was a favorite with royalty and well on his way to preferment in the church. Now he is canon of Westminster.

And Still They Kick.

Madagascar people twenty-five days in a year and make enough time to support them in idleness the rest of the time.

The Twins.

So like are they that people say They can't tell me from Jim. But I can tell you from my own eye, I'm one, and he is him.

—Harpers' Young People.

Had a Prejudice Against Water.

Brooklyn, N. Y., columnar and editor advise you to buy some P. D. & Q. R. E. Col. Blood—Isn't that a Gould stock?"

"Yes."

"Then I don't want any. You forget I am from Kentucky!"—Jury.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities and political convulsions of sixty-three years.

In his beautiful home, with its luxurious furnishings and pleasant surroundings, he passes much of his time, where his friends, whose name is legion, are thrice welcomed and hospitably received.

"So firm he stands across the room, So stately was his air, So serene his face, that eighty years Had whitened through his hair."

A perfect gentleman of the old school; a millionaire and splendid financier; a lover of books; a friend of science and education; and a believer in the broad principles of humanity—schools, colleges, universities, churches and all benevolent societies alike receive liberal benefits from his bountiful hand. The cut is reproduced from a recent photograph, presented by Mr. Bradbury to his friends as a souvenir to a Detroit Free Press correspondent.

Politeness Made Him a Canon.

Canon Duckworth of Westminster Abbey, is said to owe his placidity, his Christian life and his favor in royal eyes to a slight act of courtesy to the princess of Wales. The scene of his graceful gallantry was at Oxford, a number of years ago, when the princess, on her way with the prince and a party of friends to embark in a barge on the river, became separated from the others and stood at the river side alone and irresolute. A young man who happened to be near by saw her dilemma, stepped forward, and offered her to accompany him to the barge. The princess, who was in the royal train, noted his gallantry, and within a few years that youth was a favorite with royalty and well on his way to preferment in the church. Now he is canon of Westminster.

And Still They Kick.

Madagascar people twenty-five days in a year and make enough time to support them in idleness the rest of the time.

The Twins.

So like are they that people say They can't tell me from Jim. But I can tell you from my own eye, I'm one, and he is him.

—Harpers' Young People.

Had a Prejudice Against Water.

Brooklyn, N. Y., columnar and editor advise you to buy some P. D. & Q. R. E. Col. Blood—Isn't that a Gould stock?"

"Yes."

"Then I don't want any. You forget I am from Kentucky!"—Jury.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities and political convulsions of sixty-three years.

In his beautiful home, with its luxurious furnishings and pleasant surroundings, he passes much of his time, where his friends, whose name is legion, are thrice welcomed and hospitably received.

"So firm he stands across the room, So stately was his air, So serene his face, that eighty years Had whitened through his hair."

A perfect gentleman of the old school; a millionaire and splendid financier; a lover of books; a friend of science and education; and a believer in the broad principles of humanity—schools, colleges, universities, churches and all benevolent societies alike receive liberal benefits from his bountiful hand. The cut is reproduced from a recent photograph, presented by Mr. Bradbury to his friends as a souvenir to a Detroit Free Press correspondent.

Politeness Made Him a Canon.

Canon Duckworth of Westminster Abbey, is said to owe his placidity, his Christian life and his favor in royal eyes to a slight act of courtesy to the princess of Wales. The scene of his graceful gallantry was at Oxford, a number of years ago, when the princess, on her way with the prince and a party of friends to embark in a barge on the river, became separated from the others and stood at the river side alone and irresolute. A young man who happened to be near by saw her dilemma, stepped forward, and offered her to accompany him to the barge. The princess, who was in the royal train, noted his gallantry, and within a few years that youth was a favorite with royalty and well on his way to preferment in the church. Now he is canon of Westminster.

And Still They Kick.

Madagascar people twenty-five days in a year and make enough time to support them in idleness the rest of the time.

The Twins.

So like are they that people say They can't tell me from Jim. But I can tell you from my own eye, I'm one, and he is him.

—Harpers' Young People.

Had a Prejudice Against Water.

Brooklyn, N. Y., columnar and editor advise you to buy some P. D. & Q. R. E. Col. Blood—Isn't that a Gould stock?"

"Yes."

"Then I don't want any. You forget I am from Kentucky!"—Jury.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS

THE OLDEST POSTMASTER.

A Man Who Has Served the Government Sixty Years.

Below is presented the portrait of a man who, during the honor of being the oldest postmaster in the United States and probably in the world—Roswell Bradbury, of the North-Western Postoffice, Kings county, N. Y. Appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and when this republic was yet in its infancy, and the recent discoveries in modern science, thought of, he assumed at the age of a little less than nineteen years the duties of a responsible position that he has continued to hold through all the vast changes, party animosities