HUSELTON'S SHOES! Worth Looking Into.

Our Boots and Shoes are making
an impression "on the sands of time."

We help our customers to make their walk in life easy by fitting them with Shoes that fit their feet comfortably.

We pay special attention to this, as no
Boot or Shoe will wear well that does tumble and pain in life without increasing by wearing ill fitting shoes.

All our footwear is selected carefully from the most improved lasts as well as quality of stock etc.

We know you will fit comfortably and wear, we keep the best in the lowest prices.

We don't keep a Ladies Shoes at $1.00 and say it is worth $2.00 than is an old, old chestnut, but we do say we have a Ladies fine Shoe at $1.00 that cannot be matched either for Style or wear, we say the same of our Ladies entire line from $1.25, $1.50, $2.00 $2.50, and $3.00 and up to $4.00
and $4.50.

Don't you get tired of reading some few advertisements when they say gods are being slaughtered at any price to clean up, etc., that this or that Boys Boot is selling at $1.00 worth $2.00 Now there is just one of two things, either they made a big profit before or not telling the truth, recollect these liberal fellows don't lose any money, goods are perhaps dear the low prices named after you see them and more especially after you wear them.

It seems useless to quote a long list of prices as you cannot judge unless you see the goods, but if you want the best Boys Boots at $1.00—$2.00 I to 5 you ever saw you can get it here, a Man's Boot at $1.50 Children's Shoes at 25, 50 and 75 cts., Boy's fine Shoes at 85 cts., these are straight prices to be pulled in you, neither are they sold at

50 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR.

Have a lot Misses Rubbers at 10 cts a pair and they are not worth 30 cts. either, recollect we have the largest stock to select from, best goods and lowest prices, we don't handle any old jobs, sold cheap on account of some imperfections, but sold, new and desirable unequal the lowest price

B. C. HUSELTON, 102 N. MAIN ST., BUTLER, PA.

mad, only I must hurry home. O dear!"
with a rueful glance at the clear stream,
"I wonder if there isn't a bridge somewhere."

"I doubt it. Give me your hand and I'll help you across."

"But I'm afraid of the quicksand."

"I won't let you harm you this time.
Come, let's go home again now! Now,

just now, you are all right."

"Thanks!" exclaims Miss Harcourt,

in whom the reader has probably recognized Doris Wilford.

"She's the one who has been reciting to me all day."

"Well, Doris, it is my dearest wish,"

sighs Doris, as she sits in an arm-chair by the fire.

"We've had such a nice evening,"

says Doris, as she looks at her niece.

"It's been a bit bad, that time. No, you mustn't come alone with me. Uncle

Charles might catch you."

"Would he? I'm sorry; but I hope we will meet again before you leave, Miss

Harcourt."

"Very likely, as I am, as my eyes

are deceiving me."

"In a moment, Uncle Cal," answers

Doris, who is already straightening her hair.

"I'll send you a march upon Uncle Cal,

for the customary greeting, then descends. Her uncle turns as she enters,

therefore he does not see the expression of pleasure that passes over Vance's

face.

"Miss Evans, let me present you to my niece, Doris Wilford. Doris, this is Vance Evans."

"Tell him I'll see him in a moment,"

says Doris, as she turns to leave.

"I'll tell him," replies Uncle Cal.

"Well—but why did you tell me you

were Doris Harcourt?"

"I didn't tell you. You merely jumped at the conclusion, and I let you stay where you landed. You fell in love with Miss Harcourt."

"Won't you forgive Doris?"

"I never do, but I'll tell him."

"In Heaven's name, Doris, what is the meaning of this?" asks Uncle Cal.

"Very well, Doris, you know the meaning of this?" asks Uncle Cal.

"I don't know, but I'll tell him."

"I'll tell him it is a secret between

you and me."

"I'll tell him it is a secret between

you and me."

"I'll tell him it is a secret between

you and me."

"I'll tell him it is a secret between

you and me."
