The New York Herald has announced a novel plan for the present presidential campaign. To the person who most nearly predicts the popular plurality of either Harrison or Cleveland, it will give a free trip around the world, paying all expenses; to the person making the second best prediction it will provide a trip to London, Paris and return, and the third best prediction will be rewrrded by a trip to London and return. Competition is open to all residents of all parts of the United States, the only conditions being that the prediction must be made on a ballot which is printed in the Herald every morning. Any one can make at many predictions as he has ballots.

The first volume is now ready. It is gotten up regardless of cost, and as a work of Art it stands without arival. No library or reading room will be complete without it. The beautiful illustrations and information it contains render it invaluable to all, and eventually it must be found in every home in which the English language is read or written. Every person, whether lawyer, lecturer, doctor, professor, preacher, teacher, artist, laborer, politician, or prediction will be able to visit the "Great World's Fair" held in Chicago in 1893. It is indored by the press and the clergy and the leading thinkers of the the great work.

Mr. Stamm of the Sidewalks Committee reported that he had seen fit to interfere with the proposed building of a sidewalk on South Main street two feet above grade, and saked for the sense of the Council on the sidewalks question. A general talk on the grader of sidewalks followed, and several cases were mentioned, and the Council does not appear to have experienced any change of heart in the matter, but so much favoritism has been shown that the town will probably go into winter quarters again with some of the sidewalks of its paved streets in bad shape. However, a few more were ordered to be advertised.

The concussion of a charge of dynamite, exploded in a "hole" in the Shenango, lately, was so great as to throw nearly all the water out of it, and lay bare the bottom. A cance load of good sized fish were picked up, and it is estimated by an informant, who was a spectator, having been attracted by the explosion, that not less than a bushel of small fish were destroyed by the charge. This kind of fishing is not even honorable and the perpetrators deserve to take a term making barrels at the workhouse.
