Sudden Death of George Ziegler.

This useful citizen and good man died suddenly at his home on N. Main street, Butler, last Monday evening. During the Butler, last Monday evening. During the day he appeared to be in his usual good health, and that afternoon had mowed the lawn fronting his residence. Towards evening he walked up to his office in the Diamond block, attended to some business matters, and returning again went to work on his lawn, and was engaged but a few minutes when he fell under a tree. Nobody saw him fall or knew that anything had happened until they heard a piercing scream from his wife, who calling him to his supper and receiving no answer went over to where he was lying and found him speechless, with his face discolored. A physician was hastily called and an effort was made to resuscitate him, but it was useless, his heart had stopped beating and he was dead. He had been troubled with heart-disease for years, and the immediate cause of his death was the clogging of the artery from the heart to the lungs by a blood-clot or clots, which, forming within the heart, in the course of time force their way through the valve and clog the passage, which causes instantaneous death. George W. Ziegler was a son of Eli Zieler, dec'd, of Harmony. He was about 36 years of age, had been engaged in the saw mill and lumber business for several years, was a thorough business man, and was recognized as a man of integrity in act and purpose. He was married to a daughter of Ex-St eriff Donaghy, who with one child survives him. day he appeared to be in his usual good

His funeral was largely attended by our citizens, Revs. McKee and Oller presided, some of his fellow members of the Town Council were his pall bearers and three of the Hose Companies escorted the hearse to the cemetery.

About one hundred people from this vicinity took advantage of the Ruperts' excursion to Niagara Falls and a most delightful time they had. Arriving, after a pleasant ride, at Niagara shortly after 2 P.M., the wonders of the mighty falls were viewed from different positions until 9 o'clock, when most returned, loud in the praises of Mr. Rupert's care of and thought fulness for them during the day.

A few, however, went on little excursions from Niagara, some to Toronto; some to the Thousand Isles, and some to other interesting points. We want to Toronto and Buffale. Toronto we found a beautiful city, rich in large and costly buildings, especially churches and schools. At one place our guide stopped and pointed out a beautiful church on one corner, a fine school building on another, the Parliment building on another, and on the fourth—a prespecous looking saloon! "There" he said. "Is salvation, education, damnation and civilization." As this bit of bonhomme was not found in the cabby's bill, we subsequently had a hearty laugh at it, but at the time thought it politic to appear as unconcerned as possible. We found Toronto supplied with good hotels and restaurants. Our return was accomplished without any incident of note.

We heartily commend all who wish to see Niagara to the care and advantages of one of Messers Enperts excursions.

Elder Breedlove and Farnum T. Fish of Meadville, and some companions, lately perished in a California desert, while prospecting. A San Diego dispatch says: The position of the bodies told the tale of a horrible death. They had struck out on muleback for water, which the animals scented. They reached within two miles of it when Fish fell, unable to hold his head up. His companions made him comfortable with a blanket and pushed on, trying to follow the trail of the mules. The younger man evidently fell soon, but his father staggered on for a mile. He struggled up to a heap of sand, fell, rose again, fell, staggered to his knees, crawled a few feet, fell again, and died within three-quarters of a mile of an abundance of water.
