—OF THE—

Great Pittsburg Exposition

Will open Wednesday, September 7th, at 8 P. M. and close Saturday, October 22d, at 11 P. M., with an array of attractions unprecedented in the history of this organization.

Four Concerts daily, afternoon and evening, by the bands under the direction of JULES LEVY and ELIAS BROOKS of New York. These artists are unrivaled in their profession. An exhaustive and comprehensive exhibit in practical operation, of the best and most recent inventions in the line of GAS SAVING APPLIANCES. Cookery of all kinds, such as game, bread, etc., done in the building. This exhibit will be especially valuable to hotel proprietors, housekeepers and everyone who desires to learn how to cook properly, and at the same time economically.

The finest and most novel collections of exhibits in all departments ever seen on public exhibition. The management has purchased the largest and most attractive CAROUSEL, or merry-go-round, ever built, for the enjoyment of its patrons.

SPECIAL FAVOR. CROWELL will give four illustrated Lectures in the new hall daily. These lectures are extremely interesting, lasting one hour each. An extra admission of ten cents will be charged those who desire to attend those delightful entertainments.

With the above exception, prices of admission will remain as heretofore.

ADULTS, 25 CENTS. CHILDREN, 15 CENTS.

THE CITIZEN MISCELLANEOUS.

FATALISM IN RUSSIA.
"Hark! hark! from the East, the East,
The Russian peasant is like a child, ignorant of the practical bearings of events, and utterly unable to cope with them. Yet he never loses his faith in God. During the famine, when the peasantry were living, or rather dying, on bread made of pigweed, chaff and other equally nutritious and more notorious articles, they endured in submission. 'God's will is at the bottom of it,' said they. 'He gave and He takes away.' A writer in Temple Bar gives the following illustration of their fatalism, and the excuses they invariably find for inaction:

One day, a Russian village official was riding with the mob in search of some strayed horses. The black soil was like dust, and he sighed heavily as his mare stamped in the light stuff.

"Ah," he said, "what land is this? It is like a woman broken with sorrow.
How can she find food for her child?"

"Has it been so all summer?" I asked.
"Not so, indeed. There was frost in the spring, and men said 'frost and fair weather.' But then came the drouth, and now," he shrugged his shoulders, "it went to nothing. And then we dug out the drunks."

"The drunks, your honor. Often it is that when the drunks are pulled out of their graves, and flung into pools of water, that rain will come and not only rain, but not only rain, but hail and fierce storms and fire, and withered the little that was grown. Then after that, drouth again, and now," he shrugged his shoulders, "it

out the drunks."

"The drunks, your honor. Often it
and not only rain, but not only rain,
but hail and fierce storms and
grown. Then after that, drouth again,
out the drunks."
