THE CITIZEN
 A RAILROAD ADVENTURE.
 It Was Amusing, But Not at the Time It Happened.

A lady who has been traveling abroad related an adventure, says the Youth's Companion, which befell her in Italy in a railway train, an adventure that is not without its amusing side.

Her husband put her into a compartment alone, and went to attend to the luggage. After he had gone a villainous-looking fellow got on the train and followed her. Then he came to a station, and he did not intend to diminish her agitation.

Suddenly, still with his eyes fixed upon her, the man took from his pocket a large clip-knife and, with a flourish, he rose and deliberately cut from the window blinds their cords, and began to knot them together.

The husband, who had by mistake got into the wrong compartment, just as the train was starting, and who joined his wife at the next station, found her on the verge of hysterics from the effects of the fright she had undergone.

THE AMERICAN SOLDIER.
 To Know Him Well You Must Tell Him.

To know the American soldier well you must tell him with him on the desert trail when the sun beats hotly down on the dry and veridulous earth, and, an answer to his Italian, of which she did not understand a word.

Then he pulled off his coat and waistcoat, and just as the terrified woman was almost prepared to sling her trunk out of the compartment of the swiftly moving train, he knotted the cords so as to piece out a broken suspender, put on his cap and waistcoat and sat quietly down in a corner, where he went quickly to sleep.

The husband, who had by mistake got into the wrong compartment, just as the train was starting, and who joined his wife at the next station, found her on the verge of hysterics from the effects of the fright she had undergone.

ANECDOTES OF TENNYSON.
 The Foot Laureate's Opinion of the Birds in "Maud" Very Peculiarly Given.

In Annie Thackeray Ritchie's book just published, "Records of Tennyson, Ruskin and Browning," the following anecdotes are given:

One day Tennyson was with Mr. Hallam, and there, too, he first met Mr. Gladstone. John Forster, Leigh Hunt and Landor were also present.

It may interest admirers of Tennyson to learn that once, when the poet was reading "Maud," surrounded by a silent company in the twilight, when he came to the birds in the high hall-garden calling "Maud, Maud, Maud, Maud," he stopped short and asked an author who happened to be present what birds these were.

The Paris Rappet, not to be outdone by its contemporaries, who during the summer, started the public of the French capital by the most surprising newspaper stories, recently capped the climax by mentioning among the wonders to be exhibited at the Chicago world's fair in the department for amphibians the elephant frog.

It is a grotesque amphibian, which gives expression to the utter satisfaction enjoyed by its owner. This orphic frog, as may be expected, will also be on exhibition at Chicago amid innumerable other curiosities of nature.

If you are offered a bottle of Salvation Oil, be sure you get the one that is labeled "LIFE" at any price, you may be sure that there is something wrong. It may be a worthless or dangerous counterfeit. Insist upon getting a perfect, unbroken, genuine package in a yellow wrapper. Be on your guard!

—It is India there is a species of crow that looks like a human being. That is the kind some of us are eating these days.

—Rheumatism cured in a day—"My wife" cured for rheumatism and neuralgia, radically in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. It is sold by J. C. Redick, druggist, Butler.

—A false statement is going the rounds of the press to the effect that visitors will not be able to get any drinking water at the World's Fair without paying for it. There will be an abundance of excellent water free to all who want it. Those who wish to drink mineral spring water, pipe to the Exposition grounds from Waukesha, Wis., a hundred miles distant, will have to pay one cent a glass for it. The free water will be that of Lake Michigan, brought by tunnel from a point four miles from shore, and much better than the inhabitants of most large cities are supplied with.

Consumption Surely Cured.
 I have a positive remedy for the above-named disease. It is a sure cure of all kinds of consumption, whether it be of the lungs or of the throat. I have cured many cases. I have cured many cases. I have cured many cases.
