

THE CITIZEN

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1933.

Butler has a population of about 10,000. It is the County seat of Butler County, with 4,000.

LOCAL AND GENERAL. Buckle up. The highest price paid for buckwheat at the mill of Geo. Walter & Son, Butler, Pa.

Fashion is a fickle jade. And her fancies quickly fade. For now we neither sing nor say, 'Tara-tara Boom-de-ay.'

Nothing pays a poorer interest on the investment than wearing a long face. Job had boils, to be sure, but then he didn't have any newspaper portrait.

The P. W. has put some new coaches on the narrow-gauge. Henry Heiger carried a large red fox in a hole on Humes farm in Clearfield township, last Wednesday.

The man who was knocked over and had three ribs broken by a back sled afterward that he felt very much run down. We are under obligation to Rep. Doubtless for a "Sault," and Rep. Mates for a World's Fair Book.

A Greece City young man got eighteen pole-ponies out of one hole a few days ago, and sold their skins for $12. A. J. Frank and Co. intend removing to Wall's Station on the P. R. R. and are building a store room there.

There was a "drip in whisky" last Monday and it "poured five points." This is stock market talk. The newest athletic exercise recommended for girls and women is turning somersaults.

Pork has reached the highest figure known in years. $20 a barrel is the price asked. No, Maad dear, the man who drives a pair that are worth a pile is not necessarily a pile-driver.

The winter winds whistle a particularly mournful tune as they blow through the baseball grounds. The most ardent admirers of feminine loveliness are women who are not beset by an over-supply of comeliness.

Bibbs—"The rainbow has some legend connected with the flood, has it not? Wigwag—"Why, of course; it describes an arc." "Are these cigars strong?" asked the man of the cigar dealer. "Are they?" replied the latter, "well, you try to pull on one, and you'll see if they are."

The County Auditor finished their work of auditing Wednesday, and filed their report with the Prothonotary. On the 24th of January last there was a cash balance in the Treasury of $14,138.02; and the assets of the county over its liabilities aggregate $39,056.57.

It seems to be settled that "citizens" tickets cannot be certified to the township or borough officers excepting by nomination papers; but there is nothing to prevent both parties of all parties nominating the same men, or one party making the nominations agreed upon and the others making no nominations.

The Girls Mission Band of Bethany Reformed Church entertained their friends last Thursday evening at Rev. Limberg's. Quite a pleasant evening was spent in singing, recitations, vocal and instrumental music.

Refreshments were served by members of the Band. The clothing business in Butler lately conducted by Schall Bros. is being conducted by Schall & Nax, this week, advertise a "Disillusion Sale," with extra bargains in heavy weight clothing and overcoats.

The remarkable difference in the results of accidents was never more forcibly illustrated than in two that happened last week. Fred Sharpe of Buffalo towed this county, fell from the top of a 15 or 20 foot ladder, struck his head on a nail, and was instantly killed, while at the same time, Saturday, John Doughterty fell from a elevator shaft, a hundred feet deep, was conscious when picked up, and though lamed, out and bleeding, returned to be taken home in an ambulance.

The woman with one child who complains that she doesn't get "time for anything," may find a little consolation in this story of a Mrs. Yates, of Springfield, Ohio, has just given birth to her twenty-fourth child. Five sets of twins are numbered among them. Mrs. Yates was married at 14 and her oldest child is now 37 years of age. Thirteen of her children still live. Her own husband died when she was 17. Notwithstanding this fact she does all her own housework and always has.

McIlwain, aged 50 years, whose home is at Evans City, is at the South Side Hospital, Pittsburgh. Last October he sailed for California for his health, and he gradually grew worse. He started for home and arrived in Pittsburgh last Saturday. He had to be removed to the hospital. He will remain at the hospital for a few days and then go home.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES. Rev. Covert has entered suit against the officers of the order of Solon for conspiracy to defraud. According to Mrs. Russell's evidence in her suit against H. H. Russell for divorce at New Castle last Thursday, Russell is a conualter. Mrs. Russell told how he had pointed firearms at her, how he had knocked her down, how on one occasion he had drawn a knife across her throat. She said her husband had threatened to prosecute her brother, Rev. James Brandon, of Westmoreland county, on a charge of having committed a felonious assault on her 8-year-old daughter. He had told her he knew the accusation would be false but all the same, it would be the means of driving her brother out of the ministry. He said Judge Martin would not dare to decide a case against him, because, as he alleged, he and the Judge had been engaged in several little speculations together. While John Doughterty was repairing the electric car, the driver shaft of Kaufmann's store building in Pittsburgh, last Saturday, the pit slipped and he fell head-first to the pit, a distance of 100 feet; and though terribly bruised and cut, was not killed. Three of the churches of Cambridge, Crawford county, have united in revival. The meetings are drawing large crowds and promise a general awakening. A company has been incorporated at Harrisburg to build an electric street railway between Philadelphia and Lancaster. This line, if built, will be the longest electric road in existence. Charles A. Hennig, a dyer and scourer of No. 29 Federal street, Allegheny, was found dead in his shop last Saturday morning with his throat cut and his skull fractured. There is much mystery about the case and it is not certain whether it was a murder, and the Allegheny police say that their investigation has strengthened the suicide theory. The postmaster of Kittanning was in a queer predicament one day last week. There was a two-day strike of the railroad. Both were soldiers during the war of the rebellion. Within the past year both have been granted pensions one of them only recently. Both get their mail at the Kittanning postoffice. The postmark showed that both were mailed from Pittsburgh the same day. There was no way to distinguish them so the postmaster had to refuse to deliver either of them until he would write for further information. The Kittanning Times tells the story of a sensible man. While in that town Tuesday last week, William Yeagie, purchasing agent for the Pennsylvania Electric Co., was just put a piece of pipe on his stove got some wood and some coal, started a fire in his stove and was warm the whole way home. The people of Honey Brook, Pa. in the hard coal region are alarmed with a worked-out coal mine beneath their feet and a few remaining pillars gradually and crumbling to the ravages of fire which has been burning for a month, a collapse of the surface is likely to occur at any moment. To be precipitated into the recesses of an abandoned coal mine is bad enough, but to tumble into a seething furnace is no such for even the sturdy miner. The incendiary, who has been causing so much alarm in New Castle during the past three weeks, was captured last Monday. He is a boy about 15 years, named William Roberts. Mayor Brown began to suspect him about two weeks ago, when it was found that he had ways of turning in the alarm at the fire house. He has been shadowed during the past week and was caught running away from a stable, that he had fired that evening. The Pittsburgh and Western shops on River avenue, First ward, Allegheny, including the blacksmith and engine rooms, the mechanical departments and the round house were totally destroyed by fire Wednesday morning involving a loss of about $100,000.

Accidents. Nannie, eldest daughter of W. H. McElvain, of Penn twp., who had her face and hands badly burned, a few days ago at Zelenople, while rendering tallow, came home Wednesday, and is doing well. Fred Sharp, an employee of the distillery at Freeport, fell from the top of a ladder last Friday, and was instantly killed. He had his wife and two children. His wife is a daughter of Theo. Parker, of Buffalo twp. While John Wagner, a student of the Orphans Home here, was skating on the board walk, a few days ago he jumped from one walk to another, and in so doing injured himself internally. A severe pain in his back set in; he became delirious and died on Tuesday of this week. His home was at St. Petersburg, Clarion Co. August Preuling of windfall twp., fell from the loft of his barn to the threshing floor, a distance of 12 to 14 feet, a few days ago, and was badly hurt. Army Opera House. Monday, Feb. 6th, Miss Hettie Bernard Chase in Uncle's Darling Last Night. Miss Hettie Bernard Chase and company appeared at the opera house last night in "Uncle's Darling" to an audience that was simply wild in its demonstrations of approval. Especially in the third act where "Alaska, the land of ice and snow," was presented, centered most of the interest. The introduction of the bears, the dogs and reindeer were the signal feature of the evening and the house was not satisfied until three "contests" were responded to. Another feature that afforded much amusement was the tri-horn-bowdye eye in the second act when George, by imitation, joined in the singing. The play went with a whoop from beginning to end, and the audience seemed never to let their fire. Miss Chase captivated them with her chic ways, singing and dancing, and Frank Calvert, as Uncle, was the crowd immensely. There were some particularly ending to the acts and the one in the second act especially. The audience was daily, Saturday, November 24. Prices: 25, 50, and 75.
