CHAIRMAN REEDER has decided to call the next Republican State Convention to meet in Harrisburg on August 30th. This was done after all the members of the State Committee had been consulted and their answers sent by mail. The date of finely. August 30th was the unanimous choice, finally. while Harrisburg was the choice of all but three members, two of whom wanted the advise you that it is impossible for me to leave here during the session of the Senate. The subject you wish me to discuss I regard as more important than a mere change of Administration, or who should hold pub c offices. What we want is good mone and plenty of it. By good money, I mean coin money, either of silver or gold, and paper money always redeemable in coin and so secured that there can be no doubt ot its redemption in coin. Coin money has not been and will not be used in the United States for current payments, except r change and in small sums. Paper money is more convenient to car ry, and it will always be preferred by our people for all payments, whether for labor or food or clothing or for payment of debts But this paper money must have behind it the highest sanctions of credit that beyond any danger or fear it will be main tained at par with coin. My own observa-tion and reflection lead me to the belief that all such paper money must, in addition to every other safeguard possible, be backed by the wealth and property of the whole people of the United States.

backed by the wealth and property of the whole people of the United States.

Experience has shown that the notes of the National banks secured by an equal or greater amount of United States bonds, form the safest currency that has yet been devised. This is practically the system adopted in the wealthiest and most advanced governments of Europe and by our own country. Notes of the United States, carefully limited in amount, and backed by the credit of our whole people, supported with ample reserves in coin, and with clear authority in case of necessity to redeem them in coin by the sale of bonds, have been proved by our experience since the 1st day of January, 1879, to be a wise and safe currency, the profits of which innreentirely to the benefit of the whole people. The only fear is that these notes will not be safely restricted by law, but that their credit may be impaired and destroyed by the prevalence for a time of the wild and visionary notions of enthusiasts without experience and ability.

The chief difficulty that now exists is that by the course of events, and especially the great increase in the production of silver has fallen far below its relative value to gold. The ratio between the two metals of 16 to 1, fixed by the law of 1837, was then the true ratio of market value, but it is not now. The intrinsic market value of the silver dollar is now only 65 cents. We buy silver in the open market at $4 cents an ounce, when the coinage value of an ounce of silver at the legal ratio is 129. Under existing law silver is purchased at its market value and coined at the old ratio, so that the silver dollar in the markets of the world is worth but 65 cents in gold.

Now, it is proposed that the government the silver all the content in gold.

the markets of the world is worth but 65 cents in gold.

Now, it is proposed that the government of the United States should coin all the silves that may be presented for the benefit of the owner of the bullion, giving him a dollar, either in gold or a note of the United States. The inevitable effect of this policy would be to adopt silver as the only standard, thus reducing the purchasing power of the dollar one-third for the benefit of the producers of silver and at the expense of the people of the United States. tates.

The pensions of our soldiers, the value of the saving deposits of our people and all existing contracts would be reduced one-third in value. Gold would be demonstrated, exported and hoarded, and the basis of our entire financial system and of all values would be measured by money of less purchasing power than now, and on a footing with the financial systems of China and Japan, and all the South American states, and we would be seperated from the standards of universal use in the great commercial countries of the world.

In Indiana county the popular will is opposed to the liquor traffic and Judge white, who presides, although not a prohibitionist, respects the wishes of the people. During his eight years on the bench he has never granted a license to sell or manufacture liquor in the county. In Lancaster county the reverse appears to be the case. At the recent sitting of the court all the old stands were relicensed and every new applicant was refused. The only restriction placed upon the applicants was requiring the liquor to be drunk on retail premises and prohibiting dances to be held in hotels. The "growler" is rushed freely there without comment from the court.

In Dauphin county the only requisite is the bare provisions required by law—relating to accommodations, which requires four rooms and eight beds. Licenses are transferred whenever applied for. In Harrisburg some of the hotels keep open bars all hight, and free lunch prevails. In Washington county, under a special law passed in 1867, the granting of licenses is discretionary with the judge, independent to the views of the community. the passage of the law until 1891. no licenses were granted in the county. Last year five licenses were granted. Judge McIlvaine, the presiding judge, holds the same views regarding the free lunch question as our own judges. He is also opposed to the present system of granting licenses by court judges.

In Blair county, where Judge Landis, a newly appointed judge, presided, the temperance people held sway, and succeeded in having less than half the applications granted this year. There were no special restrictions placed upon applicants.

no special restrictions placed upon appincants.

In Westmoreland county the only restriction is the question of closing. All licensed houses must close at 9:30 p. m.
and at noon on holidays.

The Beaver county court does not look upon wholesale licenses as so great a necessity as retail, and restricts the granting of such places to the three principal towns of the county. Uncontested applications for license are granted without question. The only requisite in new applicants is to prove the necessity and character of the applicant. No special restrictions are placed upon the traffic, and aracter of the applicant. No special trictions are placed upon the traffic, and he court appears to encourage the con-ucting of good hotels.

At the recent court in Lawrence county, wer which Judge Hazen presided, the aplicants were subjected to a rigid ordeal. he special features insisted upon were accommodations for travelers in reference to boarders, selling in buckets and to club rooms.

This would be a dangerous and destructive revolution in our whole currency system, affecting the purchasing power of all forms of money and changing all diversified contracts now existing. I hope this delusion has passed away and that the good sense of our people will resent and reject it and stand by the financial policy that has made our country the greatest and richest in the world.

The real remedy of the silver problem is to put into our silver dollar enough silver at market value to be equal to a gold dollar, and to maintain all forms of money, whether coin or notes, of equal or interchangeable value.

The Pennsylvania Schools.

The annual report of State Superintendent Waller for 1892 has just been published. It is a volume of over 400 pages. From it we learn that the number of pupils in the public schools of the State during liquor law by some of the Judges of Western Pennsylvania, as follows:

In Crawford county where Judge John J. Henderson is sole presiding judge of the court, his power is supreme. He can grant or refuse at his own pleasure.
Remonstrances appear to have no effect and no special restrictions are placed upon the licensed houses.

In Armstrong county almost the same conditions prevail. The only stipulation is that all ideensed houses must be closed at 10 o'clock at night.

In Jefferson county the only question that appears to figure in the granting of a license is to show to the court the necessity for the place. Judge White, who presides, looks upon wholesale licenses as unnecessary.

Admistrator. Joseph Nowalk, a prisoner in the Western Penitentiary, for murder in the second degree, committed suicide last Saturday, because his wife married another man.

Promised Land and nive now over. Sister Permillia was of a retiring and modest disposition, very much attached their friends and loved by all who knew her. In early life she made a public profession of her faith in Christ and reprofession of her faith in Christ and reprofession of her waws and engagements mained true to her yows and engagements to the last, and told her friends that she to the last, and told her friends that she was ready for the Master's call to depart and be with Christ which is far better. Therefore we sorrow not as those who have no hope. But we are assured as Jesus died and rose again, even those who sleep in Jesus will God bring with Him. But O how we miss thee, Dear Permilla, we do not hear thy loving voice and do not see thy gentle form, but Jesus has taken thee to Himself where there is no cloud and is no storm.

not see thy gentle form, but Jesus has taken thee to Himself where there is no cloud and is no storm.

Her beloved spake and said unto her, rise up my love, my fair one, and come away for lo! the winter is past, the rain is over and gone, the flowers appear on the earth, the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the dove is heard in our land. Arise my love, my fair one, and come away.

Fair grounds. Take for example, the cost of eating at the restaurants. Although the eating house and lunch counter privileges have been sold to contractors the scale of charges for eatables must be approved by the Exposition authorities. It is therefore by no means probable that the cost of eating within the grounds will be greater than in any good restaurant out side. Large numbers of tables will be provided by the Bureau of Public Comfort for the use of such as bring their lunch with them. There will also be abundant provision for seating people without charge. Take into consideration that money saved is as good as money earned. The best way to save money is to buy good goods at the right price. The only reason that our increasing constantly is the fact that we handle only goods of first quality and sell them at very low prices. We have taken unusual care to provide everything new in Hats and Furnishing Goods for this season, and as we have control of especially good articles in both lines we can do you good if you come to STORM 9459.

Record, 2:35 at 4 years. Sired by Lerd Russel, full brother to Mand 8, 2.082.

STORM BIRD is balf brother to the mighty Kremlin, 2:072, king of trotting stallions. His dam has a trotting record of 2:262, and his grand dams are the greatest brood mares thatever lived. Each are the dams of stallions having one hundred in the list. The two together have 614 of their descendants in the 30 list and hold 43 of the world's records. He is a grand individual and a trotting-bred stallion, combining in his pedigree the two most fashionable and intense trotting families in the world. He is a rich cherry bay, 154 hands high, perfectly sound, strong and handsome.

He will be found at my barn, 3½ miles northeast of Prospect, the three first days of each week, and the last at the Butler Fair Grounds during the season of 1893, at the very low terms of $35 to insure.
