REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION, next week.

Home for Feeble Minded.
On Monday of this week it was reported that the site for the Home for Feeble Minded Children had narrowed down to and between Butler and Westmoreland Counties. The same news however stated that the Commission was to re-assemble at Franklin, Venango County, the home of Judge Heydrick, on that same day to rewamine the site offered near that place. The Commission did meet there again but so far as we can learn ao decision has as yet been reached. Having revisited Venango County we take it for granted that the Commission will revisite Butler and other places offering good sites, and as we said last week, the State Board of Public Charities which has a say in the location, may advise it's location at this place. The great mistake of Governer Pattison in appointing the Commission was that he did not select men outside of Western Pennsylvania. Then there could have been no local influences brought to bear upon the Commission and their work would have been much more pleasant. However, as Butler has offered the best possible site, we believe this Home will yet be located here.

The City Hall and Opera House of Atlantic City were barned last Thursday.

On Thursday the Senate Finance Committee agreed upon a bill providing for the repeal of the Silver-purchasing clause of the Sherman Act coupled with a paragraph pledging the government to retain both metals at their market value.

On Friday Sibley made his funny speech. a note of which is made elsewhere.

On Monday Crisp announced his committees. He deposed Springer of Illinois from the Chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee and gave it to Wilson of West Va. Reed and Dalzell are retained in that committee. Holman was deposed from the Chairmanship of the Appropriation Committee, and Sayers of Texas put in his place. Springer was made Chairman ef the Banking and Currency Committee.

Silver-dollar Bland remains at the head of the coinage committee, but it is almost an empty honor now, with the silver debate well on towards a vote.

Ex-Governor Mocleary of Kentucky, returns to the head of the foreign relations committee from which he was displaced two years ago in order that the speaker might keep his pledge to Mr. Blount of Georgia.

Mr. Holman of Indiana is given the everything for a little spoil. These remarks, of course, were cheered by the free coinage men.

The general impression in the delegation is that Mr. Sibley's speech is a bold bid for the gubernatorial nomination next year on a ticket indorsed dy the Prohibitionists, Populists and Democrats. It is an open secret that Mr. Sibley believes that with such an indorsement he can carry the state against any man except Charles W. Stone. He frankly states he would not run aginst Mr. Stone. But he believes the Republicans will not nominate Stone, and so he is laying his plans on this contingency and proposes to circulate 100,000 copies of his speech throughout the state as soon as they can be printed.

Among those who listened to the whole speech was Representative Charles W. Stone, of Warren. Mr. Stone will speak next week from the standpoint of an honest dollar and no doubt will pay some attention to his erring colleague. Representative Dalzell, who will speak on Tuesday, also paid close attention, while nearly all the Pennsylvania delegation did likewise. As Mr. Sibley concluded his speech every free-coinage man called and congratulated him. Others on the oppesite side of the question did also, not because they indorsed his views, but because from the free-coinage view he made an excellent presentment.

On Thursday last, several hundred
