"I have been told," said Mr. Dubois, watching the great steam hammer in the rolling mill, "that a good hammerman can break the crystal of a watch with that ton hammer. "Yes, sir." said the hammerman, "it can

"I should like to see it," said Mr. Dubois eagerly, feeling in his watch pocket.

"I can do it, sir," replied the man.;

"And will you t" replied Mr. Dubois, drawing out his watch. "Come I am nxious to see it tried." He laid his watch on the great anvil late. The hammer rose to its full beight, and the next instant all its ponderous weight, with a crushing force which shook he ground for an acre round, came down on the watch. "There, sir," said the hammerman, "if ou don't believe that crystal is broken, ust step down and you can see it sticking to the hammer."

"But I forgot to say," he exclaimed, that it was to break the crystal without juring the watch.". "Oh, yes," said the hammerman-"Yes, an break the crystal any time."

From time to time I see in the papers recipes for curing the bites of poi snakes, reccommended by medical and other people. In California, where I come from we have occasion at times to treat animals for the bite of the deadly rattlesnake. I have seen two kinds of herb used, one is called in Spanish "la golondrina" (the swallow). growing in the most arid plains; the other is the rattlesnake weed. Both are very effective, but it is not every one who can tell them, even when at hand. What know from my own experience to be an infallible cure is the gall of the snake itself One drop on the wound will effect a cure, even when inflammation is far advanced I have seen a dog treated whose head had already swoolen to twice its natural size and it cured him almost instantaneously. The gall may be preserved in alochol, or even dried, requiring in the latter case only to be moistened; even saliva alone between two stones will do. (I have seen a case af this kind.) If preserved in alco hol, of course, the whole bag of the gall is put into the liquid entire. If true of the rattlesnake, and, as I said before, I know it is infallible from my own experience, it is probably true of all poisonous snakes and might it not be true in the case of the Mr. Dubois swallowed a whole mouthful

Then come almost innumerable small herds, scattered all over the Bad Lands, of from 100 to 5,000 head. These large companies have vast sums invested and make big returns, but there are risk in the business, as many have found to their sorrow. A blizzard of unusual severity, or protracted duration, may kill thousands of valuable cattle. After the very hard winter of 1886-87 one of the big companies rounded up but 1,500 out of more than 25,000 put on the range the
