Under the cut in iron and steel the grea mills of Pennsylvania would be forced, many of them, to close indefinitely. What many of them, to close indefiliately. What is to become of the employes—the skilled laborers?

Tunder the reduction the carpet mills must face have and chaos. It is a most alarming state of affairs.
What shall be done with this mischievors till?
Tan the Republicans in Congress allow it to pass?
Can any Democrat from Pennsylvania and other States, where bread and butter and living wages are dependent upon protection, vote to sustain the Ways and Means Committee's raid upon the nation-Philadelphia Inquirer.
The conviction of Boss McKane, the political autocrat of Congr Island, is a matter of congr stulation to all good citit rens, but the sentence of thirty days im prisonment and the paltry fine of $250, is a punishment that hardly fits the crime works and the solitical schemes, and his re ry out his political schemes, and his re fusal to recognize the injunctions of Judge Barnard, were grave offenses against the most honored institutions of the land, and merited a sentence much more severe.

party principles. For these reasons we endorse with great ali-faction the suggestion that Galasha A. Grow, of Susquehanna county, be select-ed to fill the seat vacated by General Lil-ly's death. The ex Speaker is now an old man, but we understand he is still active and vigorous in mind and body; and of the robust character of his Republicanism no man needs an assurance. His fame as a political leader is wide-spread, and his nomination would be a notice to the whole country that Pennsylvania Republicans All that is new in an concluding para-sage is found in the concluding para-graphs. From these it appears that the President, in the innections of his Leart, instructed Mr Willis to tell Queen Lilion-kalani that he would aid in her restora-tion provided she would promise to let by-gones be bygones.
