One Woman's Career.

From Town Topics. A story has recently come to my ears concerning certain episodes in the career of a brightly and dashing American matron who long ago threw off both the parental and matrimonial yokes, and whose house in London has been for some years past the center of artistic, literary and even royal interest.

The career of the woman is still fairly in the twilight of her life. She is petite, with a figure rounded and sweet, and her face is piquant and radiant in spite of the fact that she is not a demi-mondaine in Europe.

She is a woman of the world, and her life is a story of adventures and vicissitudes. She has been married and divorced, and has lived in various parts of the world.

A Romance of the Oil Fields.

One of the most productive oil wells in the well-known Titusville district was sold as a salted one, according to B. E. Richmond, of Meadville, Pa., who recently related the following story to a friend: "It was in the early days of the oil excitement and capitalists were eagerly seeking lands where surface indications gave prospects of a find. Three brothers owned a small, sterile farm worth about $500, and they thought they saw a chance to sell out at a big price. They had no indications, but they had enough money to buy a few barrels of oil, and by judicious use of it they made the indications all right. Then they told it to a great secret, they did not want to sell; what they wanted was to get enough money to sink a well. The brothers had arranged that the farm should be sold to a party of prospectors, and they had $30,000 in cash and 10 per cent. of the oil farm produced during the first two years, they binding themselves to sink two wells at once. When the brothers received the money they arranged that their share should be placed in the bank to their credit, and fearing exposure from their friends they went west, and were never heard from. The wells were sunk, and both wells were gushers, the 10 per cent. was paid, and the sum reached $100,000. Years passed by, and nothing was heard of the brothers, they fearing to write, as they thought they might be subject to criminal prosecution for swindling. Finally an uncle, learning the true state of affairs, concluded to look them up. If they were dead he would get the money, being the nearest living relative. After two years' search he located one of them in a Colorado poor house; the others were dead. The pauper was brought home, and lived in wealth for a year before he died, and the money is now being enjoyed by his relatives."

Any one in possession of 25 cents can go to the nearest dealer in medicines and procure a bottle of Salvation Oil. It is cured at once of rheumatism, neuralgia, or any pain or ache.

When one finds that he has broken a good resolution, or that he is to begin over again, and that at once.

Rheumatism is a disease of the blood and is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The great Rothschild requires of his cook a different kind of soup for every day in the year. While it can't be said that Rothschild is in the soup, it is evident that the soup is in Mr. Rothschild to a large extent.

Consumption Surely Cured. To the Editor:—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. It is timely as thousands of people are suffering from it. I will send you two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their names and addresses. Express and P. O. address. Support me by sending me your name and address. They think they know that their generosity makes them troublesome.

A well-known scientist says that ptomaines are found in influenza patients. The grip patient still has something to live for, even if it's only to find out what ptomaines are.

Rheumatism cured in a day—"Mystic cure" for rheumatism and neuralgia, radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. 75 cts. Sold by J. C. Redick, druggist, Butler.

Cleveland is shocked because two aristocratic girls have joined the Salvation Army. The same society would have been delighted had they gone to perdition by marrying foreign noblemen.

J. W. Hague, the fish and game warden of Pittsburg, says he will have 2,400 quail distributed in this section by the middle of March. He will place them on farms and hunting reserves on the line of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie, Ft. Wayne, Pittsburg and Western, Panhandle, Baltimore and Ohio and Allegheny Valley railroads.

Mrs. E. P. Buckingham, of Vacaville, Cal., embarked in the fruit business ten years ago with twenty acres planted in fruit trees. She now cultivates over 300 acres, which yield her a comfortable income.

Drunkenness, the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by administering Dr. F. H. Smith's "Golden Specific."

It is manufactured as a powder, which can be taken in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely painless, and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or a confirmed drunkard. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails to improve the system, and with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Charge guaranteed 49¢ per bottle of particulars free. Address, Golden Specific Co., 185 Race St., Cincinnati, O.

Philip D. Armour, Chicago's richest citizen, employs 12,000 persons, pays $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 yearly in wages, owns 3,000 railway cars, which are used in transporting his goods, and has 700 or 800 horses to haul his wagons.

Fear of detection is a great disciplinary. Women in conversation seldom get beyond the interrogative and declarative sentence.

The world is scant of its praise of quiet characters—it likes pyrotechnics best.

It is always the steady horse that is called the old nag.

Victory comes with the last breath.

Our souls were made for us, but we mould and color them.

Duty is a rock that keeps many souls from a sliding undertaker's case: "If you are in doubt about whether or not a man is dead apply a flame to the flesh of the man, and if the heat shows a moist blister, one that contains water instead of air, the subject is not dead, and now a warrant is out for his arrest. Thus far he has escaped; the warrant doesn't catch either."

A hard up individual took advantage of the smallpox scare at Clifton Forge to earn a honest penny. He procured a bottle of vaseline and a darning needle, and went among the people and vaccinated them for 20 cents apiece. Of course he was not dead, and now a warrant is out for his arrest. Thus far he has escaped; the warrant doesn't catch either."

There's money in match-making—that is of the lumber kind. The annual statement of the Diamond Match Company or combine shows that the company paid four quarterly dividends in the year amounting to $1,612,000.

He who knows the catechism better than he knows the pany or the mountain peak is not for a certainty the best ground to rely on. God made the flower, man made the catechism.

A city physician goes back on quinine as a remedy for the grip. He says that it is one of the most potent drugs that can be taken for the disease. He states that quinine is likely to cause congestion of the mucous membrane of the head, and grip acts the same way. He has had a number of cases of grip disease resulting from the use of quinine.

Men who have nothing important to say are generally great talkers. Ignorance and error are always noisy. Those who think much talk little.

McCANNLESS' HEAVE CURE.

I have a Heave Cure that will cure any case of heaves in horses in forty days, if used according to directions, and if it does not do what I claim for it, I will refund the amount paid and no charges will be made for the treatment. The following testimonials are the strongest proof of the medicine's power to cure:

A. J. McCANNLESS, Butler, Pa., 1893.
Mr. A. J. McCANNLESS: On the 2nd day of April, 1892, I commenced to use your new cure for one of my horses that had the heaves very bad, and was unable to work. He was about forty days and the horse did not show any signs of a return of them. It is now about a year since I quit giving the medicine and the horse has never showed any signs of heaves, and I feel satisfied that he is properly cured.

W. C. CRISWELL, Butler, Pa., April 3, 1893.
I have used your Heave Cure and found it will do the work if used according to directions. Yours truly, W. C. CRISWELL.
