At 4 P. M. of Tuesday the army reached Allegheny city, dusty, weary and footworn An immense crowd of people numbering perhaps 20,000, lined the streets for miles, to see them. They camped in the old Exposition grounds and proposed staying there till Thursday morning Coxey and Brown addressed a large audience on the common, that evening.

At Pittsburg, twenty-eight of the army were arrested as vagrants, and sent to the Workhouse; and twenty more were under arrest. No parade was allowed by the police of Allegheny, but Coxey and Browne talked to a crowd in Pittsburg. Thursday morning the balance of the army passed through the two cities and started towards Uniontown.

The War in South Carolina

A pitched battle occurred at Darling ton S. C. last Friday night between the citizens and the State Constables which re-sulted in the killing of four men and the wounding of a umber of others. The constables had been there on the lookout for whisky. Several houses which were suspected of containing liquor were serched.

This aroused the enmity of the citizens and threats against the officers were freely made. That night the State Constables went to the station to take the train for Elegence. So great was the indignation of made. That night the State Constables went to the station to take the train for Florence. So great was the indignation of the citizens that a large crowd had assembled at the depot. The officers were jeered and it was soon evident that serious trouble would result. The Constables grouped themselves along the platform and the excitement was at fever heat. Suddenly the fight began in which nearly a hundred men took part. Before the combatants could be separated four men had been killed and several others received serious wounds.

Shall the "Old Grave Yard" be Desecrated by Law?

Under the terms of a general law, the last Legislature enacted a piece of special legislation; (we hope not specially to meet a case in Butler,) but which singularly tralian cousins may be in a position to do ing down, vulture like, to prey upon the remains of the dead. Were that the case remains of the dead. Were that the case, they would soon be disposed of. On the contrary, this proposition comes from intelligent, moral, npright officials. They are public officers, however, and their official action is open to criticism and comment. We believe the action of the School Board in this matter has been hasty and inconsiderate. Their proposition should in some way, have been land before the people, and the judgment of the people obtained, before their final action. We still think, after mature reflection, they would reach the conclusion that "certain circumstances," named in the title of their Bill, do not exist in Butler, to warrant them in exnot exist in Butler, to warrant them in ex iting their plan, and that by timely re ensideration, they will set at rest, what therwise, must be a very unpleasant conroversy.
