OUR CANDIDATES.

The CITIZEN presents its readers with an excellent portrait of our candidate for chools in the winter and assisting his father on the farm in the summer. He studied diligently through the winter evenings, the better to quality himself for teaching, and in 1866 his exertions were rewarded by being elected principal of the High School at Bellefente. This position he filled for eight years. f law, and in a short time became leader at the bar and in politics. In the campaign of 1882 General Hastings was the personal friend and enthusiastic supporter of General Beaver for Governor. Defeated but not disheartented, in 1886 General Hastings presented the name of Governor Beaver to the Republican Conention and asked and secured his renomnation. As a delegate at large to the Republican National Convention in 1888, he placed Senator Sherman in nomination for President. He was equal to the occa sion, and in a single half hour attained a national reputation as an orator. Mean-

General Hastings became connected with the National Guard in 1887, in July of which year he was made paymaster of the Fifth Regiment, with the rank of captain. He served on the staff of General Beaver, then a division commander, during the riets of July, 1887, accompanying he command to Altoona. In March, 1878, June, 1883, be was appointed assistant After serving nearly three years in that rank, in January, 1887, Colonel Hastings resigned his commission and accepted the appointment of Adjutant General of Be it known that:

As a member of the Military Commission created to revise the military code of the commonwealth, General Hastings, in connection with General Hartrant and other able officers of that board, rendered excellent service in the preparation and passage of the present military bill, which places the military of the State on its present basis of efficiency and completeness. As Adjutant General the National Guard openly acknowledges General Hastings' ability, zeal and effici-ency. It recalls the success of the Division Encampment of 1887 at Mount Gretna

In order to give our readers the benefit of the opinions of the leaders of the Demoratic and Republican parties on the new "bargain and sale" tariff bill we append Congressman Cockran (Dem.) of the Ways

Congressman Cockran(Dem.) of the Ways and Means Committee:

The passage of the Senate bill by the House is the most disgraceful chapter in American history. The position heretofore assumed by the House is concealed to be right, even by the Senate, and is now surrendered to some person whose identity even is concealed. There is no evidence that the Senate would not have agreed on a compromise. In the caucus Mr. Wilson was asked to name the men who were holding up the American Congress, but he declined to do so. We have therefor surrendered to a rumor, the source of which cannot be traced. The walls of Jerico falling before a blast of wind yielded to a force much more tangible than that which sent the House of Representatives scurrying into an abject, cowardly, self-confessed betrayal of the principles which they profess.

Ways and Means Committee: I do not consider the Senate bill as any I do not consider the Senate bill as any improvement over the McKinley act. In my judgement it does not reduce the burdens of the people, although there is a reduction of the rates generally throughout the schedule. The tax on articles taken from the free list more than overbalances the reductions on the other schedules. Should there be any reduction in the burdens of the people, such reduction would not compensate for the injury to the public and private morals of the people that must result from the conviction, now, general, that the bill is not the product of the deliberate patrotic judgement of their EVERY Republican should take notice that to-day (Thursday, September 6) is the last day for the registration of voters and the assessment of taxes, and Saturday, October 6, the last day for the payment of taxes in order to entitle one to vote. It is of vital importance that not a single vote be lost to the cause of protection this fall and that the majority for its candidates should be so great as to forever end the possibility of any more Democratic tariff tinkering such as that which has recently inflicted unnumbered evils on the country. Every Republican should see that he is registered and his taxes paid in time t vote. Don't depend on your committeeman; he has enough to look after.

Washington Notes. The scramble among the hangry Deme erats for the $4,000 place made vacant by the tragic death of Bank Examiner Miller for Western Pennsylvania, bids fair to become a national one. Notwithstanding the fact that there are a score of candidates in Western Pennsylvania, applica-tions are coming in from all parts of the country asking for the appointment. They are being filed by Acting Comptroller Tucker until Comptroller Eckels' return. There is no regulation that requires that an examiner shall be a resident of the territory in which he is assigned to duty, consequently it is a contest open to all.
