OUR CANDIDATES

The Citizen presents its readers with an excellent portrait of our candidate for Lieutenant-Governor.

WALTER LYON

Walter Lyon, well-known throughout Western Pennsylvania as a lawyer of ability and a staunch adherent to his party. He was born in Shaler township, Allegheny county, April 27th, 1833.

In 1854 Mr. Lyon was the leader of the movement in Western Pennsylvania which resulted in the nomination of Blaine for President of the Republican party.

The Veterans at Pittsburg.

Comrades and friends flocked in to Pittsburg all week, and took complete possession. It was estimated that one-hundred-thousand visitors were in the city on the eve of the encampment, and each of the big days has seen nearly a million strangers in the town.

A copious shower fell on Sunday afternoon, clearing the atmosphere and tempering the heat so as to make pleasant weather.

This had the effect of crowding the streets to an extent never witnessed in Pittsburg, which is rather a staid old town, and noted for its quietude on the Sabbath.

The universal comment of the visitors regarding the decorations and display of arms is that at no time in the past has the encampment at Pittsburg been so grand.

As the different visiting posts arrived they were met by bands of music and the local regiments of the National Guard, and with flying colors and bands playing, were taken to the places assigned on the parade.

At the Westinghouse Hall, that night, a great affair was held which was attended by 7,000 guests.

The foot races were held Wednesday. J. Z. Smith won the trophy offered by the Dispatch in the time of five, which is very good time for a mile considering everything.

"Heaven was kind to us in sending us a perfect day," said an invalid resident, who sat in a chair on the steps of a fine house on Irving avenue.

"Not at all likely, my dear. My discharge papers are made out and only need the countersign of the commanding officer. But this is no time to talk about such things.

Inequalities of Assessments.

The annual report of Thomas J. Stewart, Secretary of Internal Affairs of Pennsylvania, is just at hand, and it contains interesting statistics about boundary lines, the weather, the revenue department and county assessments and taxes.

There is a lamentable difference in the basis of valuation adopted by the Assessors and Commissioners of the various counties. Most of our Commissioners and Assessors seem to forget that it is the sworn duty of the triennial Assessor, when estimating the value of property for the purposes of levying a county tax, to assess and value every separate lot, piece or tract of land, with the improvements thereon, at or near its true value.

While we do not ask for any special favor under the law, we do demand that it shall be administered fairly and equitably. Owing to the inequalities of assessment, the tax is a burden, and is a source of complaint on the part of the consumer.

It should be accorded no more protection than is accorded to the counterfeit money. In some respects, the counterfeit money is more dangerous to the public than the counterfeit money, as has been shown by thorough investigation of the processes of manufacture.

Of the one hundred and two sales of property taken in this county, it will be seen that 41 of them were farm lands, and 61 were city lots.

Our record shows 103 sales in this county. Of these, 41 were farm lands, and 62 were city lots.

The table will show 1,972 acres, 3 parcels of farm land, at a consideration of $145,000, or $73.57 per acre, with a corresponding assessment of $90,816, or $46.07 per acre, being 55.5 per cent of the actual value.

Address of the Legislative Committee of the Pennsylvania State Grange.

The Legislative Committee of the Pennsylvania State Grange, P. O. H., aware of the effort of the oleomargarine manufacturers to effect the repeal of the restrictive law of 1885, after due consideration, would respectfully report: That we regard any modification of the act of May 21, 1885, looking to the removal of its restrictions upon the manufacture or sale of counterfeited butter as injudicious and wholly unwarranted.

On the contrary, we would urge the more effective enforcement of the present law, not merely for the advantage of the dairy interest, one of the most important to the prosperity of the country, but for the sake of the preservation of the health of the whole community, than which there can be no more vital issue.

While we do not ask for any special favor under the law, we do demand that it shall be administered fairly and equitably. Owing to the inequalities of assessment, the tax is a burden, and is a source of complaint on the part of the consumer.

Re-union at Euclid.

One of the happiest and most successful reunions of the many relative and friends of J. Miller and family of Euclid, was held at their home on Tuesday, Sept. 4, 1894.

The meeting was especially called in honor of their niece, Mrs. Maggie Fryar, of Lawrence, Kansas, now residing in Euclid, who is now paying a visit to the home of her childhood after an absence of about 15 years.

Early in the day the McDanielss coming to the reunion, and the latter were met by the inner man. Not only the host but the entire household was in the street, and the entire household was in the street, and the entire household was in the street.
