LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The abundant crop of wild fruit indicates to many, a severe winter.

When tempted to do wrong, every man should remember that he is somebody's hero.

The Y. M. C. A. cadets, under command of Capt. Brymer, picketed at McClellan, last Saturday.

This is a busy world. Few men can find time to have cerebral spinal meningitis.

No, Mando dear, the brushing of one's hair with Consequencing water, so far as we know, does not turn it sandy.

Hair dye is dangerous. A Butler man who tried it married a widow with six small children.

Some citizens of Butler township want the polling place changed from Gerner's to Ad Barkman's.

The greatest study of man is woman; the greatest study of woman is military; so it all ends in Butler, men and feathers.

Beaver Falls will erect new water works at a cost of $24,000, and is advertising for bids.

A most profound philosopher remarks: There are some men who can't take home a breakfast without believing they are making their wives a present.

Noah Shanks, a Brownsville, Oregon, boy got sick, as might have been expected, from his phenomenal feat of eating 17 bolons sausage.

Owing to losses this year, the Tarantum Fair Association will probably abandon the fair business and will run their grounds as a race track only.

C. H. Balph of Pittsburg, a son of our townsmen Joe Balph, was awarded the contract for the buildings for the home of the feeble minded to be erected at Polk, Venango county, at $440,000, he being the lowest bidder.

St. Paul's Reformed Church, at Peteraville, was re-opened for the 16th by a German and English harp festival. The edifice was improved recently by papering, painting, etc., and now presents a handsome appearance.

An old gentleman tells us that fifty years ago, on Sept. 27, there was a fall of snow to the depth of 18 inches, although the weather previous had been warm and pleasant, and there had been no frosts whatever. The snow broke down large quantities of timber and made traveling difficult for many weeks after.

Two men left a large case at a railroad depot in Memphis, recently. As they did not return, the case was opened and found to contain the mummy of a man, which it is said, came from a mine in Norway. The body was 9 feet 11 inches long, and was in a splendid state of preservation.

An old farmer when urged by an implement dealer to buy a new binder, replied, saying he had nothing to sell but a lot of horses and could not sell them, for threshers were now run by steam, street cars run by electricity and this government was run by a lot of d— jackasses, and where does a horse come in anyhow?

Salted peanuts are an inexpensive and good substitute for salted almonds. They are prepared by shelling and putting in boiling water, which will cause the red skin to drop off. Then put in a pan and pour melted butter or olive oil over them, sprinkle well with fine table salt, and put into a very moderate oven for half an hour.

The new rifle adopted by the Army and Navy has a bore but one-third of an inch, or about the size of a lead pencil. The bore is strongly rifled, the bullets are of lead lead and the bullets are smokeless powder is used, and the bullets will pass through a man's body at a distance of two miles.

In certain parts of the west what is called the "hot winds" prevail, and it is this wind during a dry summer that burns up the corn crops. This wind comes from the south west, probably from the arid sands of Arizona and Western Texas. It prevailed in Western Kansas this year and with the drought destroyed the corn crop there, while in the south-eastern part of the state, where it did not prevail, there will be better than a half crop.

Two Marinette, Wis., girls became infatuated with the idea of having their pictures taken with their heads on a posthysterically stuck through a torn newspaper, and visited a local photographer for the purpose. However, when the pictures were finished they were horrified to see what they before had failed to notice—the newspaper that stuck their heads through was a Chicago sheet, and just beneath their smiling faces was a big display advertisement of a clothing firm which announced: "Our pants are lined in the seat."

One hundred and seventy Blackleys and relations held a reunion at Edward Cookson's, in Cranberry township, last week, and Mrs. Cookson who is the only girl in the family of Lewis Blackley, dec'd, got up a dinner for them. The family consisted of eleven boys and one girl, and eight of the boys are yet living. Andy is in Adams township; Isaac in Butler; Thomas and Tom in Missouri; Joseph in Iowa; and John in Franklin, Pa. All of the family yet living were present at the reunion, excepting John, who is sick. The seven men present and Mrs. Cookson, together, weigh 1518 pounds.

The Barnhart Affair.

Last week we noted the cutting affray of Chicago in which Del Barnhart was seriously stabbed by his two brothers. The details of the affair are as follows:

Webster and William Barnhart were at Kittanning on Tuesday and were drinking. They quarreled and William gave Web. a severe beating, after which he left him and went to Del Barnhart's home, near Kittanning, where he was met by the other two brothers.

Del Barnhart was a wagon and asked him to go over. Arriving at Web's home, Del went in first to see him, when Web. made for him with an ax. Del. is a one armed man, and on William's coming at him with a pocket knife, Del. shot him with the ax in the back of the head. He was stabbed through the lungs and was not expected to live, but is mending somewhat at present writing.

No arrests have been made as yet.

ACCIDENTS.

The circumstances attending the death of W. W. St. Clair of Worth township, on Wednesday the 12th inst. were unusually sad.

About two weeks before his death Mr. St. Clair went into the pantry in the dark, and dipped what he supposed a drink of water from a pail, as he had sent the children to the spring during the evening, but somebody had disrobed some potato in a pail of water that evening, and he stood in the pantry, and Mr. St. Clair took a mouthful of the mixture. He did not swallow any of it, but some of it entered his windpipe and caused an inflammation and swelling that gradually suffocated him. His wife died several years ago, and all his children are of age.

Campbell Bartley of Clinton township, tripped and fell in his stable a few days ago, and broke his high bone. Mr. Bartley is now well up in years, which makes the accident a serious one.

Abraham Martin of Oakland township, was killed by a horse a few days ago and badly injured. He was kicked in the breast and some ribs were broken. His life was despaired of at first, but he is now getting better.

"Ham" Laycock, aged 46, a well known figure in this town and county, sustained injuries on Monday morning that are believed to be fatal. He was driving a milk wagon into town and his horse ran off near the stone house, north of Butler and threw him out. His head struck a tree and such injuries were inflicted that it is impossible to say whether his recovery is impossible.

Dr. Byers and Bricker were summoned and did all within their power for the injured man. He is of a simple turn of mind and has been living with Wm. Moore, who resides north of Clinton township. He was taken after the accident.

Stewart Peoples of Evans City dropped his line from front of Papa's store on Tuesday noon, and his team started off and ran to the top of Cemetery Hill where they were caught and brought back.

Ol. Notes.

William Haskell, was accidentally shot and painfully but not dangerously injured by Mac Brown, near Pleasantville, on Friday afternoon. The two men were hunting for squirrels. Haskell started through the woods to beat up game and Brown stationed himself beneath a large tree. After a short wait he saw something move in the bushes about 80 feet away, thought it was a black squirrel and fired. It was Haskell's hat and almost the entire charge entered his face and upper part of the body. The wounded man was placed in a buggy and driven home as rapidly as possible, where the shot was picked out later by a physician.

McKeespert celebrated the 100 anniversary of its existence, last Thursday. They had a big procession, a tin-plate gateway, and a big meeting addressed by Gov. Pattison and McKinley.

The well on the Rice farm, southwest of Mars, in the Brush Creek district, has filled up 300 feet with fluid and will be shot. This is the well that was erroneously reported flowing at the rate of 20 blis. an hour.

The Wallace farm well in the same part of the field has been drilled through all sands and is a duster. A little show of gas was developed in the third sand.

Short & Co's well on the Campbell farm, North Washington field, is good for less than 5 blis a day and gives the southern extension a blis of gas.

Bartlett & Co. are drilling on the Michael Gallagher farm, in southern part of Clay township.

Phillips, well on the Berg farm is doing 30 blis a day.

The Byers well on the Bergigler, Herman farm, is down 1500 feet.

The Dixon Oil Co's well on the Dixon in Penn township is down 600 feet. Hoffman & Co. have moved their location 500 feet to the west on the same land.

Cooperstown now has a telegraph office, a lively stable, a barber shop, an Oil Well Supply store, restaurants, billiard halls, etc.

Some Chicago men intend drilling on the top of the hill at Middletown, the highest hill in the county, and the name is that Jim Kearns owned it, which have won the genny river to flow over.

Mark, McCandless & Co's well on the Walter's lot in Cooperstown is said to be doing 125 blis a day.

The Eiler well on the Henninger farm has been abandoned. Gahagan is drilling on the Henry Knight, half a mile west of it.

The Conneautville Fair.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Constable Thomas D. Gray, of McDonald shot and killed James Morgan, also of McDonald last Wednesday. Morgan was under arrest and attempted to escape Gray shot at him three times. The third bullet entered his back and penetrated his lungs. He ran for several squares and then fell down dead. The shooting caused great excitement. Gray immediately dispersed and several searching parties were scouring the surrounding hills last evening looking for him.

William Law of Allegheny Co. charged with attempting to wreck an excursion train on the West Penn railroad last Thursday night, was given a hearing Monday before Alderman Adam Stork, of Allegheny. Law's wife and 13-year-old son testified that he piled logs on the track, and had made attempts at other times to wreck trains in the same way. Once he drove her away when she tried to remove the obstruction. Gray immediately reserved his decision to determine whether the wife's testimony is competent, and remanded Law to jail.

A peculiar phenomenon was noticed in Neshaunock township, north of New Castle, after a late storm. No sooner had the rain ceased than the hoarse croaking of hundreds of frogs was heard on every side. To the surprise of those residing in the vicinity innumerable full grown bullfrogs were found hopping along the road and in the meadows. The batrachians were everywhere. Farmers turned out and readily caught them by the basketful, without seemingly to lessen their number. Everybody now has frogs at meals. It is thought they fell during the rain. There are no streams within several miles of where they were found, and such a large number of frogs has never before been seen in Lawrence county.

At Scioto, over in Harrison county, Ohio, the great sheep and wool county of that State, last week, sheep were sold at 40 cents per head, and it was neither at shepherd's nor assignee's sale either. This comes directly from persons on the ground at the time, who saw it.

Haskell started through the woods to beat up game and Brown stationed himself beneath a large tree.
