Death of Daniel Harrington.

This old and well-known pioneer of the section of country now known as Forest It is a method that I supposed is well unty died at the residence of his daugh- enough known to the profe ter, Mrs. Mary Spear, at Evans City, But- ably not often used. I allude to warming ler county, Pa., on Monday, Oct. 22, 1894, the body by merely taking deep inspiraaged about 87 years. Daniel Harrington was no ordinary man. Deprived of the advantages of early educasettlers of his day, he had educated him-self by observation and reading till he betion, as was the lot of most of the early came well-informed in local and general heavily gloved hands. In addition, the history. Knowledge thus acquired, and a retentive memory, made him a safe authority concerning the events which had happened around him for more than half a century. Several years ago he wrote for the Spectator a series of very interesting articles, entitled "Recollections of Fifty time experienced. I then began taking an at 60cts. He reached a good old age, notwithstanding the exposure and hardships of his earlier days. It is gratifying to know that after the death of his wife, many ears ago, had left him alone in the world, he found a home and the tenderness of a daughter to soothe his declining years.

The Russian Pacific Railway.

A length of 2,200 miles is now open and $50,000. msk is now reached by rail. The cost has been about $44,000 per mile. The natural conditions were on the whole unfavorable. The men often had to carry their food with them, and they were not unfrequently compelled to allow themselves to be lowered down in baskets in order to prepare the track. On the section between Ufr and the Sima river there was, between Urakowo and Bulaschawa, a bog of about 60 miles extent, which had been formed through the rain water accumulat ing in the course of thousands of years in and the men were for a long time compell-ed to live in huts, built of earth on crossed iles, which they could only approach in boats. The mosquitoes were another trial and 4,000 masks had to be procured, in adlition to which smeking with juniper was

The following testimonials are the strongest proof of the medicines rower to cure:

On the 2nd day of April, 1892, I commenced to use your new cure for one of my horses that had the heaves very bad, and centinued to use the medicine for about forty days and the horse did not show any signs of a return of them. It is now about a year since I quit givin the medicine and the horse has never sowed any signs of heaves, and I feel stisfied that he is properly cured.
