LOCAL AND GENERAL. —Course tickets for Teachers Institute $1.50 on sale at Holsenhaus.

—G. W. Cooper of Slipperyrock twp. started up his saw mill this week.

—Kellar, the magician, will be here next Monday night. His bills represent him as raising the devil.

—A case to the murder of old man Kline is said to have been discovered. The parties live near Johnson's.

—Harvard Male Quartette, at the Opera House, this evening, and the Gilted-toes tomorrow evening.

—If you want a pretty home calendar or handsome office calendar, call upon D. A. Heck.

—Twenty-eight elk, captured in Idaho, have been placed in Shenley and River View parks, in Pittsburg.

—A school for two weeks—institute and holiday weeks. School will begin again on Monday, the last day of the year.

—Mrs. Blinn sold her hotel in Brass City to E. Cunningham of Beaver Falls for $7,000. Mr. Cunningham took possession Monday.

—A dead man can drift down stream, but it takes a live man to pull against it. That is the time that a man's soul—when the tide is against him. Advertisers in the Citizen.

—The teachers attending the Institute next week will have an opportunity of seeing the wonderful Kellar, the magician. Every person should see, at least once in his life, the brilliant performance of this great mesmerizer.

—Many young persons, intending to teach, will this year at the Teacher's Institute, register at the same enrollment fee as the teachers, and enjoy the full benefits of both day and evening sessions.

—At the meeting of the School Board last Thursday night it was decided to purchase the first 10 days, the second 10 days and the third 10 days, for $1,900, provided the Council assent that part of North St. that runs through them.

—Four alleged cases of selling liquor without license, heard by the Grand Jury last week, were returned as "no true bills" and the county to pay costs. Consider the advantages of the State in developing this business of returning persons for selling liquor without license.

—The 6th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Music Teachers' Association will be held at Harrisburg on Dec. 26-28, 29, 30. Prof. Gattly will deliver the address of welcome, and a musical fine program has been arranged. Mrs. E. K. Colburn, Vice President, for this county can be consulted regarding arrangements for attending.

—The holiday season is the great time for handkerchiefs. There is no better product than a good handkerchief, and some of our advertisers, this year, make immense displays of them. Have you seen Stein's handkerchief show-window? It is a beauty. Mrs. Zimmerman's window is as pretty as it can be; and Kaufmann displays some very fine goods in his window.

—Dr. Clarke Robinson's last lecture, the one on the Tempest last Monday evening, was splendid. It finished the course, and the Doctor is now trying to secure a class here for his course of lectures on English Literature, which, no doubt, will be very instructive and entertaining. Persons who wish to join this class can inquire of Prof. Mackey.

—Since Wednesday of last week A. W. Shannon of Franklin twp. has had a strange bee-hive in his lot. While he and some other men were cutting timber on the old Shannon place that they had failed a large tree that proved to have a hollow place in it about six feet long and a foot or so in diameter, and this was filled with bees and honey. One cut the tree off and took it home, and set it up.

—A timely hint to Christmas givers is offered by First Assistant Postmaster General Stone. He calls attention to the fact that Christmas packages are subject to different regulations than those which govern the transmission of letters. The lack of sufficient postage stamps will prevent any such not fully prepaid packages from the hands of the postal inspectors. Even if ultimately released, Christmas will have passed them by. Every remembrancer of distant friends should paste this advice in a conspicuous place.

—What a matter of luck the oil business in the Gilted-toes. Dr. producer on the John Johnson place that they had failed a large tree that proved to have a hollow place in it about six feet long and a foot or so in diameter, and this was filled with bees and honey. One cut the tree off and took it home, and set it up.

PERSONALS.

S. C. Glenn of Butler twp. was in town on business Monday.

Henry H. Morrison of Harrisville has been granted a pension.

Dr. Leake has located in Fremont, Neb., and has family with him in January.

Thomas E. Coulter of Clay twp. was in town on business, last week.

Geo. Rider of Centre twp. was in town on business, Tuesday.

Valentine Whitner of Peachville, John McSmith of Butler and Henry Gorman of Hillsdale have been granted pensions.

Jas. Harrison's second son is down with typhoid fever, at his home in Buffalo twp.

Dr. A. C. Davis of Sarsersville is attending him.

THE GILTED-TOES ABROAD, FRIDAY.

There are no more popular people in the dramatic profession than the Gilted-toes.

John Gorman as "Jonathan Tabbs" and George Gorman as "Owen Whitby" are two of the big hits in farce-comedy this season.

KELLY, MONDAY, DEC. 17.

Slight of hand and strength of intellect are nicely combined with the masterly spirit and cunning of genius which are necessary in conjunction to the make up of a master of the stage.

However, Kellar, the Prince of Living-wire workers, undoubtedly is, and the high praise of the public is his due.

He holds the story of Lew's surrender in a masterly and most effective manner. He has outlined the early stages of the war and rested the burden of his narrative on Gettysburg and Appomattox.

His story was simply told. More than one audience has been so completely fascinated by the story that they have not been able to leave the theatre until the very latest achievements of magical art.

It is a subject matter is more accessible than any other.

We will give a few testimonials to encourage you to examine the work for yourself.

Dr. Moffat, President of Washington and Jefferson College, Pa.

I have bought Johnston's Universal Cyclopaedia, and I believe it to be the best for general use.

It has been edited by a man of high ability, and is giving sufficient ground in American topics, and its being up to date, its illustrations and style of composition make it popular and instructive.

I know of no Cyclopaedia I can more heartily recommend for general and family use.

A. Lattimore, Jr., J. D. Professor of Chemistry in the Rochester (N. Y.) University.

An examination of the new edition of Johnston's Universal Cyclopaedia, published by the American Book Company, has convinced me of its value as a work of reference.
