Lincoln League Club.

The time of meeting of the Lincoln League club has been changed from Monday to Tuesday evening.

An entertaining program has been arranged and a Glee Club will be organized.

Speeches will be made by A. G. Williams and Joseph Orwell Esq.

The Country's Verdict.

The official announcement of the vote cast last November in many States has been delayed so unusual time, and in two States it is still lacking.

Another significant feature of the returns is the great increase of the Republican vote in that year the total Republican vote was 5,175,202.

The most important feature of the returns is the great increase of the Republican vote in that year the total Republican vote was 5,175,202.

A notable feature of the returns is the number of States that gave large Republican pluralities. One State—Pennsylvania—gave a Republican plurality exceeding 200,000.

The vote is on the highest State officer voted for, or where there was no State ticket on Congressmen. This is hardly fair to the Republicans, as in several States the opposition fight was concentrated on the Republican candidate for Governor, and resulted in a loss in Missouri, Nebraska and California of at least 50,000 votes to the Republicans.

The official vote of every county in the State of Tennessee, each certified by the county officers, shows that Evans is elected Governor by a plurality of 841.

A BILL will be introduced in the Legislature this winter by Representative Frank L. Ritter, of Philadelphia, retiring Judges with full pay after twenty years service on the bench.

Chairman McCall of the House Labor Committee said, Thursday, that his Committee would make a favorable report on Congressman Phillips' bill for a commission to consider the interests of capital, labor and agriculture.

On Saturday Senator Vest again served notice that soon after the holidays, as soon in fact as the Nicaragua Canal bill is gotten out of the Senate, he will attempt to call up the sugar bill.

No matter what Mr. Vest's motives are, whether they be to affect the sugar stock market or whether they be honestly in favor of carrying out the popular sentiment, the fact is that the chances to get the bill before the Senate are better now than they were when he last made the attempt.

When the motion to take up the bill was made a short time ago it was defeated by only three votes. At that time and since at least three who voted against consideration have stated that they did so for other reasons than opposition to the bill.

Internal Revenue Collector Kearns got back to Pittsburgh from Washington last Sunday morning. He had gone there ostensibly on official business, but his real business was to offset the efforts of Congressman Sibley and Krubbs against him.

The gold hungry leeches of Europe are again pumping the yellow metal out of the Treasury reserve so greedily that Mr. Cattell may soon have to defend a large lot of bonds in order to keep the vaults from being totally emptied.

It requires about 12,000,000 postage stamps a day to carry on the correspondence of this country, or a total of 4,380,000,000 for the year.

The Blair-White Contest.

Judges Barker, Doty and Reburn conferred their Court in Indiana Pa., last Friday, with Judge Doty presiding.

There was only a fair sized crowd at the opening session, but the highest number of people who had come in with the expectation of attending a farmers' institute, which was postponed, going to the court-house.

Attorneys Banks, Cunningham and Scott appeared for Judge White and D. B. Taylor, Esq., who presented the petition to the attorney-general, appeared for the petitioners. The first excitement of the day came when Judge White was seen entering the court room from the rear door.

His objections consisted of the charges of Doty and Taylor, but he denied ever having made public his objections before, and he said he entertained the highest respect for all the parties to a man, and had confidence in his integrity, but he believed it would be better if he was not in the board.

After some consultations Judge Doty announced for Judge White and D. B. Taylor to withdraw, but that in view of the governor's commission, and the evident meaning of the law it was thought best that Judge Reburn remain in the board.

The case the real struggle of the day, which resulted in a victory for Judge White. The original petition cited a certain number of illegal votes, but failed to specify where they were cast, and who cast them.

It was a confirmation of the rumor which had been in circulation for some time, and regarding which no official record could be secured. Mr. Taylor asked the court to protect them in the matter of furnishing the names of those who voted illegally, finally admitting that the reasons for so doing were that it would interfere with the petitioners securing their witnesses.

Their honors finally decided that the petition was vague and that it was necessary for the petitioners to give the names of the illegal votes cast and in what precinct. They will not until the first day of January to prepare their answer.

The Indiana Democrat says that James A. Grossman, Commissioner's clerk for Indiana county, sent out notices to all the judges of election in trusting them to open the ballot boxes of their respective precincts, take out the voters' check lists, and mail them to him.

The Partridge well on the Jacob Gelbach farm is improving daily, it is now making about 40 barrels of milk a day, and is still holding for the lot. Nick & Co. will soon start to drill on the Henderson Brandon farm.

Jack McMullen has a new outfit and will commence to clean out a well for Wick and Sutton on the Jacob Damback farm.

Miss Laura Teckert's nieces and nephews, the McCaffery triplets, and also Mr. Fleming visited her over Sunday.

Miss Beala Staff is visiting in Washington Co. at present.

Mr. William Wall of Dehaven is spending Xmas with her mother Mrs. Margaret McKinley.

Charles Robinson and John Meckling are working near Sistersville and Mrs. Robinson will soon move there.

Purviance's clerk went on a strike, a few weeks ago, and now he has converted to Zetzel's side and has returned to work.

One of the Gas Company dishes out gas by the foot and it has plenty and lots to spare, but it seems the feet are only three inches long.

Charles Eos had a back set. Mrs. Nancy Richardson is not so very well this winter; Mrs. Catherine McNair is very much upset and both were drowsy. He is in poor health, and Thoms Purviance is not well.

The law suit of Mrs. Henry Aggers vs Henry Eohl came off last Saturday before Judge White. The case was heard by Judge White and the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

MOSIER—At her home in Butler, Dec. 19, 1894. Mrs. C. E. Mosier, aged 35 years.

COUTLER—At her home in Butler, Dec. 19, 1894. Mrs. Margaret A. Coutler, widow of Joseph Coutler, late of Centre township, aged 60 years.

CONNER—At her home in Butler, Dec. 20, 1894. Mrs. Annetta, wife of M. T. Conner, aged 44 years.

West Sunbury Academy and the Banquet.

Just when the Academy at West Sunbury had its origin nobody seems to know.

"Doll" Rebeck took the term of private school there in the Spring of 1853, and Rev. Sam'l Williams a term in Fall of the same year; and towards the close of that year, or perhaps in the beginning of the next, a stranger who called himself William Thomas, located in the town.

It did not take the people of the village long to find out that this new man was an extraordinary scholar, besides being a man of high character, and at their request he opened a private school and taught three terms. His object in doing so seems to have been to oblige his neighbors and occupy his own mind; for he is said to have been a minister of the gospel from the South whose full name was William Thomas Hamilton, and who sought in a quiet northern village, a retreat from domestic trouble. He is said to have stopped at Harrisville for a time after leaving Sunbury, and to have then returned to the South.

In 1856, Rev. William T. Dickson and his family left their way from Maine to Tennessee, stopped at West Sunbury to visit some friends and were induced to remain there and open a high school. The Dunlap building was secured, and the name W. Sunbury Academy given it. The school was opened, and it prospered remarkably until the outbreak of the civil war, when many of the students enlisted in the "Dickson guards" which went to the front under command of Capt. Louisa; and Rev. Dickson himself enlisted as chaplain of a regiment.

After the war Rev. Dickson returned and again took charge of the Academy, but it seems to have lagged. He then went to Pine Grove where he remained eleven years, and then came back to West Sunbury, where he died in 1877. Mrs. Dickson, with assistance, continued the Academy for a while, and then the Principalship was given to Rev. Geo. W. Bean. Since that time, A. M. Cunningham, Henry Shaver, R. H. Gilliland, W. W. Logan, R. W. McVernan, Thomas Moffit, Samuel Christy, F. E. Knoch, and now C. B. Robertson have been Principals.

The new Academy, a handsome and commodious building, well adapted to its purpose, was erected in 1887. The whole community subscribed to it, and they can well be proud of the result of their efforts. During the Principalship of Prof. Logan, in 1884, a course of study was determined upon, and since that time, the Academy has been granting diplomas to the students who completed the course. And this brings us to the banquet of last Thursday evening, (Dec. 20, 1894), which, we understand, originated with some of the Alumni of the Academy, that is with those who hold these diplomas.

These young men and women, with the invited guests, including some of the trustees and part of the faculty of the institution, assembled at the Hotel Willard, after the institute lecture of that night, and had abundant time previous to the opening of the dining hall to renew their acquaintance of former years.

It was after 11 P. M. when the doors were opened, and the people filed into the handsomely decorated dining room, and sat down to the well filled and well appointed tables, for which the Willard is becoming famous.

After the feast, Dr. Hockenberry welcomed the guests in some Medico-humorous remarks which were fully appreciated. Howard Painter of the alumni responded. He spoke in glowing terms of his alma mater, and his sentiment "Long live West Sunbury Academy" was heartily cheered.

T. M. Baker Esq. responded to the toast "Our Academy," giving a history of it, and commending it to the influence of Allen W. Kelley, responded to "Our Alumni," referring to their success in the professions and in business; and also to the duties and responsibilities of teachers.

A. M. Christy Esq. responded to "Our Alumni," and as Roy is a gallant leader, man, they fared well at his hands, and his remarks received their enthusiastic approval.

Rev. McGratham responded to "Light and Shadows Pedagogy," giving some of his experiences while Principal of the Academy, and wishing it a great future under Prof. Robertson.

Andly Campbell, a student and a son of I. S. Campbell of Cherry township, responded to the toast "Here" and put in a few clearly spoken and well worded "century from the nest," the school "where we are" at the one on the hill whose light should be hid. It has turned out one U. S. Senator, one Congressman, and several other prominent men. It has just closed a prosperous term, and has a great future before it.

Rev. Brecken was called upon to speak of "Our present Faculty." He thought his text was a large one, but he mastered it, and the faculty present was informed that in his long school life and learning it stood second to none.

Rev. Decker was called upon to speak of the power behind the throne, the trustees, who, he said, were always a much abused set of men, but that those of W. Sunbury Academy form the Faculty their hearty co-operation and that greatly aided in the success of the institution.

George H. Graham spoke of his attendance at the Academy, after attending the Butler Academy and Witherspoon Institute in 1848. He praised the trustees and quoted "Abou Ben Adam."

Prof. Knoch spoke of Dr. Hockenberry's medical lectures and Rev. Brecken's lectures on moral science; and without W. Sunbury Academy an everlasting God-speed.

Prof. McTollough said that W. Sunbury had furnished some of the best teachers in the county.

Prof. Robertson said that success was only reached through education, etc. It was now nearing 3 A. M. and it was thought advisable to close; so everybody stood up, and joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne" and the banquet and reunion were ended. In closing this meagre account of the banquet we cannot help but refer to the extraordinary ability and versatility displayed by Dr. Hockenberry, the toast-master of the evening. There's many a diamond (some of them perhaps in the rough) on the bills and in the valleys of Butler county, and he is one of them.
