LOCAL AND GENERAL.

—Valentine day is approaching.

—The boys are having great fun with their "Go Doves".

—Thermometers have their ups and downs.

—We are talking through your millinery—latest elan.

—By the way, bring your job work to the CITIZEN office.

—The mercury stood at 5 to 14 below zero in Butler, this morning.

—National Transit certificates are worth $1.00 a barrel today.

—The average man is now getting quite familiar with 1895.

—Have nothing to do with a thing which has no one in its favor.

—Statistics for 1894 show that it is much easier to travel on water than by land.

—The street-lighting system tested, the other day, and we have since been in darkness, nights.

—T. H. Burton is rapidly closing out the stock of the old Racket Store preparatory to opening his Spring store.

—The cold snap put ten-inch ice on the ponds, and an abundance of it was cut and stored.

—Water set fire to the cargo of a schooner that arrived in New York the day after and destroyed it. The cargo was composed of lime.

—The Allegheny is dammed—dammed by about 25 miles of ice and slush, from Logansport, (a few miles above Freeport) to the mouth of the Red Bank, below Brady's Bend.

—If that "Greater Pittsburgh" bill, which extends the limits of the city up to Butler Junction, becomes a law, why should not the limits of Butler be also extended to that junction. What a comfort it would be to go to Pittsburgh in one step and two motions.

—On the 1st of April next, some changes will be made in business locations here. Geo. Vogele has rented the room now occupied by Frank Kerner, who is going into the baby business with Hartzell in the Alex Williams building.

—The Superintendents and Principals of Western Penna., are meeting at "Round Table" in Allegheny today, and will continue in session tomorrow and Saturday. Prof. Mackey will make the report of the "Outlook Committee."

Marriage Licenses.

Philip Schmidt, Allegheny Co., and Mary E. F. P. O'Brien, Allegheny Co., were granted a license to marry by Rev. J. J. McGowan, pastor of St. Mary's church, at Allegheny, Pa., on the 29th inst.

Henry Wagner Sr. to W. A. Stover, Jr. in Butler for $600.

LEGAL NEWS.

NOTES.

The Governor of Washington, Venango and Marion twps., were present or represented, Monday, at the hearing before Judge Walker in the office of the case of the South Buffalo twp., Armstrong Co. versus the case of Maggie Christy or Miller, now at Warren. The case will now aggregate nearly $1,500. Some testimony was taken and the case continued till Friday of next week. The case is an interesting one. Several years ago, Mag. Christy, a domestic woman, drifted into South Buffalo twp., and as the people there could not find out from her where she belonged they had her sent to the Warren Asylum. At the Asylum her task regarding billiards led to an investigation which put the woman in Allegheny twp., and developed that she was the daughter of Philip Miller, who once lived in Allegheny twp., that Maggie was of sound mind at the time of her birth, that the family moved into Washington twp., where (Miller says) he paid taxes for six years; that Maggie married John, Christy of Marion twp., and the couple settled in Venango twp., where (Christy says) he paid a rental of $10.00 a year; that Mrs. Christy, who did not become domestic until after her marriage, of the date needed were burned with the old Court House; that Christy lived in Venango twp., on a piece of land owned by Duffy, and on said land a man named McBride, etc., etc. It may be well to state that as regarding her residence, an idiot is traced to his or her birth, and also that living in a place for a year and paying a rental of over $10, would establish a legal residence. A Billington justice was considered competent to commit a man for trial, and when he returned the case to the Quarter Sessions court, in order to secure his fees, the jury acquitted the prisoner and placed the case on the afternoon. The judge delivered a long opinion, and the case was ordered the magistrate to appear in court for sentence. It is the first instance of the kind in the county.

NOTES.

P. takes are worth in Pittsburgh, according to a judicial decision, $20 a barrel. For instance, a man's side one used of potatoes, placed and was sent to the workhouse for 90 days. Another man, side $20 and was sentenced by same judge for 60 days.

The next time the people of this county have occasion to visit their court room they will find the scene changed. The judge's bench and law library have been shifted around to the west side of the room and the seats changed accordingly.

Wm. H. Davis has petitioned for a divorce from Mary A. Davis.

Joe C. McClellan had summons in ejectment issued to Austin Flegner and W. A. Deaton for $30 each, also had summons in partition issued to Grace McClellan et al.

Newton and Mittie Gold had summons in ejectment issued to Wm. R. Bell for $100 each for seven acres in Oakland twp.

Alvin and Emma Turner had summons in ejectment issued to W. R. Bell for $100 each for seven acres in Oakland twp.

The Wm. P. Cross property in L. W. Cross was sold at O. C. sale to Jos. L. Cross for $100.

The will of John C. Shanon late of Allegheny twp. was probated, Allegheny Co., by Judge J. J. McGowan, on the 29th inst. Letters and letters were taken out of the estate of late John C. Shanon, late of Allegheny twp. and Wm. A. Shanon, also on estate of Henry Tenkel late of Saxburg by Wm. Tenkel.
