Annexing Cuba and twisting the British lion's tail in the Nicaraguan affair has been all the talk in Washington this week. The vigorous attitude the Administration has taken toward Spain in the Alliance affair has led to hopes that an equally vigorous attitude will be assumed against Great Britain in her bullying demands on Nicaragua.

The annexation of Cuba through the ef forts of the revolutionists and a protectorate over the Central American States seem to be the only thing that will satisfy the radical element in both parties in Washing ton. There are whispers to be heard every where once in awhile of filibustering parties being organized in this country to sail for Cuba from Southern ports. There is no doubt that arms and ammunition are being smuggled to the island from this country in large quantities.

The New Party.

To an outside observer it seems unnece sary to create a new political party to promote the free coinage of silver. The populists appear to be pretty thoroughly committed to that proposition. But it, seems some of the friends of cheap silver money cannot swallow the other doctrines held by the Populists, and so they have thought est to cut loose from that and all other parties and start a brand new organization to be known as the Bimetallic party.

The new party announced itself last cally did they respond! week by a statement of its principles and purposes issued by a committee at Washington and addressed to the people of the country.
