In Rev. Prugh's lecture of Tuesday evening, he followed the ship only as far as Algiers, leaving the balance of the trip for us to suppose, a subsequent lecture. He has gathered up considerable of the history of Gibraltar and Granada, and his lecture was very interesting, and well delivered. If he continues his lecture, from Algiers east, in Butler, he should have a larger audience than he had in the Reformed Church of the First Ward, Tuesday evening.
Excursion to the Sea Shore.
The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will run four excursions to the Sea Shore this season on the following dates, July 18th, August 1st, 15th and August 29th, on about the same schedule as last year and at the same low rates as heretofore. The first three excursions will probably be run through to Atlantic City arriving at the latter place about 5:00 p.m., leaving the inconvenience of remaining over night in Philadelphia. The fourth excursion, of 62 1/2 miles, on the above dates. For tickets and further information apply to Chas. B. Babin, Ticket Agent, P. R. R. Station Excursion tickets to all Summer Resorts now on sale.

LEGAL NOTES.

At the Session of Court last Monday morning all the bid-over applications for license were granted excepting those of Simeon Nixon and Lewis Ziegler, which were refused on account of their not being filed "three weeks before the day fixed for the hearing thereon."
The applications of B. J. Forger of Millersburg, Mrs. Lou Cunningham of Evans City, A. M. Lewis of Zalesnope and Jacob Reiber of Butler were granted, licenses to issue on July 1, 1895, for a term of one year.
Jacob Reiber filed a paper regarding "not in less quantity than one gallon" and to any person unknown to him; and in a previous paper filed himself never to again apply for license on business.
Something was said in Court regarding a disclaimer being filed in the case of Mrs. Cunningham, but we could not find it among the papers in the case.

Hereafter all applications for license will be heard on the third Monday in June, and petitions and bonds must be filed not later than the third Saturday prior to the day fixed for the hearing of the same; and licenses granted will be for one year from July 1st.

The grand jury of Allegheny Co., in their annual report, filed with Judge White as follows: "This jury is composed of business men and artisans from various parts of the county, some of whom are said to be well versed in personal and business law, and it is believed that the jury will prefer a record of speed in the discharge of its duties, and that it will be able to do so."
No member of this jury had friends to reward or punish, and the decision rendered in every case was based on the facts before us, the exercise of our best judgment, and a sincere regard for the sanctity of our oaths. We held in high respect the honor and instructions of the learned Judge presiding, and in no case were we unmindful of the suggestion of the County Judge, and we are confident that our verdicts will be just and in accordance with our best judgment and conscience.

"In this connection, and with profound respect for the Court, we may remind the Court that in our judgment a bill was returned 'ignorant,' and subsequently sent back to us from the Court, and we are confident that the justice of the case the defendant was found 'not guilty,' and the county added with the costs."
"It has been suggested that grand juries become useless bodies, and we beg to concur in this view, if the conscience as well as the functions of the jury may be directed and controlled.

Sad Affair in Fairview.

An unusually sad affair occurred on the Thos. Hays farm in Fairview twp., last Saturday night. For some weeks, Armstrong Jamison had had charge of the hallow. Late Saturday night or early Sunday morning the rig was noticed to be burning, and some of the neighbors went to it, but it was then almost entirely destroyed, and the iron roof of the boiler house had fallen to the ashes of the boiler work. When Heston Jamison, arrived at the scene he picked up the roof and under it found the body of his brother burned beyond recognition, and yet burning. Armstrong had been in Karns City, Saturday, returned late that night and did not go to the well till towards midnight. Nobody who saw the rig burning had any idea he was there. The well was run by gas; gasoline accumulated, and the fire is thought to have originated from it. Mr. Jamison was married to a daughter of Jacob Kiehnberger, who with three children survive him. He formerly resided in Butler, and worked for John Richey.

Twenty-two car-loads from Allegheny-ten from Butler, five from Freeport and five from the other twps. that gathered in the morning crowd that gathered in the grove at the Orphan's Home near Delano station, last Sunday. Services were held in the grove both morning and afternoon, and an abundance of tables had been provided for those who did not bring their own.
The buildings of the Home are all of frame, and consist of a large three-story house, mostly used as a dormitory for the girls; a dining hall and kitchen, with large dormitory overhanging a school and church building; a bakery and laundry building; the old Oertel homestead, occupied by the principal, Rev. Wilhelm; a large barn and other out-buildings. The place contains a large orchard, and we were pleased to notice that the apple trees were full of apples. It was donated to the German Lutheran church by Mr. & Mrs. Oertel, an aged and childless couple who died some fifteen years ago, and they also gave a church about $4,000 to start the building of the school. The apple trees are now provided there with as good a home as they could wish for.

The meeting of last Sunday was to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the dedication of the Home, and the occasion was the receipt of the eating stand, rebates, etc., netted the institution about $1,000. The section of county about Delano, is an unusually fine one; the soil is good, and the roads are kept in excellent repair.
Next week their last.

Oil Notes.

A DEAL—Hartman & Co., and Gallagher, purchased from the trustees of Greenlee & Forst, last week, their nine-sixteenths interest in the West Virginia property, for something like $200,000. Greenlee & Forst made an assignment last October, and in November Joe Craig and J. V. Ritts were appointed trustees. Some more wells were drilled, and the production has paid debts aggregating $150,000, in about seven months. The whole property of the firm consisted of 22 producers, with about 500 barrels production, and about 14,000 acres of leases.
THE GREAT GASSE—"The Big Moosa" gas well in West Virginia was first by lighting a few days ago; then it blew itself out, and now it is spouting salt-water.

BUTLER—A strong pressure of gas was struck at 900 feet in the well on the Bredin place, opposite the Fair grounds. Nothing has been done at the Wilson well in the Water lot for three weeks.
Boydtown—Phillips has four new rigs up, Bradner's, E. Baber's and McCone's. McGill & Co's well on the Robb is making 10 barrels. The South Penn's well on the Barretta is in the sand and showing good.
RENFREW—Phillips No. 21, in the McAlmont tract was completed last week and is doing 100 barrels. He has located five more wells in the tract.

ROWLANDS—The Forst's Co's 3 Barretts is blowing about 50 barrels; the Eastern Co's 2 Marsh was dry in the third and well shot in the 100 foot; Shanor & Co's 2 Brown is dry in the third.
COOPERSTOWN—Shaffer & Co's Moore is doing 25 barrels; Marks & Co's 2 is doing 40 barrels; the Forst's Co's Thompson 3 barrels is doing a half mile west of Frank's Mills.
Great Belt—The Lawrence Oil Co., finished a dry hole hole on the Korumpum, a mile west of Great Belt, last week. It was drilled to the 5th sand, and was still in the 3rd sand on the surface, a mile west of the Korumpum. Frank's Co. is still drilling a hole about a half mile west of Frank's Mills.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Fifty years ago, Emanuel Beck and Miss Sarah Irwin, both residents of the Ligonier Valley, united in wedlock. Subsequently they removed to Wisconsin. Beck served through the war as a member of company B, 33rd Wisconsin regiment. They next located in Dakota and took up government land. Later Beck went to the Black Hills to dig gold and a few years afterward his family received the news that he had been found murdered in his cabin near Deadwood. Mrs. Beck applied for a widow's pension, but the matter got into a tangle of red tape and the years rolled by. Recently she was informed, officially, that her application was refused, because her husband was living at Montrose, Colorado, and had asked for a pension for himself. Letters began traveling to and fro and last week Beck returned to his family.

By the explosion of a milk and cream separator in Pittsburgh, Monday Phillip Diehl, vice president of the milk dealers, was instantly killed. A piece of the metal embedded itself in his stomach, carrying with it his penknife, part of his watchchain and some money. The separator was supposed to be revolving at about 8,300 per minute.
Two thousand sheep were sold in Washington Co. a few days ago, at fifty cents per head for three weeks.

At Homewood in Beaver Co. an Italian named Mito quarrelled with his employer named Ritchie, at a stone quarry, and was discharged. That night, out of revenge, he set fire to Ritchie's barn, burning it, with its contents, to the ground, and while sitting in front of the burning barn, he was shot by a gang of toughs, who beat him badly and robbed him of his grip, 20 cents in money and a bundle of clothing. When he came to be reported to the police, and a notorious character named Clark was arrested as the assassin. A lot of the stolen clothing was found at Clark's house. He admitted his guilt and was sent to jail for trial.
Mito then went to an Italian friend, a print dealer, and while sitting in front of his store Ritchie, his late employer, drove through town on his way to Beaver to notify the officers to look out for the incendiary. He recognized Mito and called an officer, had him arrested, but not before a desperate struggle. He was taken before Justice Piper, committed to jail to await trial, and he and Clark, his late assailant, handcuffed together, were taken to that institution.

Public Notice.
Whereas my wife, Martha Fleming has left my bed and board, without just cause or provocation, this is to give notice to the public not to treat or harbor her on my account, as I will not be responsible for any bills of her contract.
Alfred Fleming, Esq., Butler Co., Pa.
May 15, 1895.

A Suggestion.

Did it ever occur to you that there are drugs and drugs—that drugs are like everything else—there are good, bad and indifferent. There is nothing else which is positively bad if it is not the best. Our policy has always been to have nothing but the best.
When you want drugs come to us and be assured of fresh pure goods, and always what you ask for or your prescription calls for. It may not always be drug you want either. We always have on hand a full line of sick room requisites.
