Women wearing Worth dresses and men wearing diamonds, are just as unhappy and uncomfortable over stomach and bowel troubles as are those who have only calico and bone buttons.

None of us live natural lives. We eat too much and are careless about our health. Abused nature finally revolts. The rebellion is slight at first, but it grows. Occasional constipation becomes chronic. Bowels won't work. Stomach gets sour and generates gas. Liver gets full of bile. Bile gets into the blood. Headaches come, dizziness, loss of appetite, loss of sleep, foul breath, distress after eating—and all because Nature did not have the little help she needed.

One of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets would start the poisonous matter in the way it should go. If there's a good deal of it, better take two—that's a mildly cathartic dose.

Dr Pierce's Pleasant Pellets never gripe and they cure permanently. You needn't take them forever—just long enough to regulate the bowels—then stop. In this way you don't become a slave to their use as with other pills. Once used, they are always in favor.

Some designing dealers do not permit their customers to have Dr. Pierce's Pellets because inferior pills afford greater profits. Such dealers are short-sighted. They overlook the fact that next time you will go where you are supplied with what you ask for.

Where Bad Buddists Go.

In enlightened Christian countries the department of Hades is pretty generally abolished. Salvation is no longer regarded an escape from everlasting torture in a life to come, but the beginning of a new and broader life in this world—an opening of the eyes from the blindness of selfishness and error to the glorious light of love and truth—to an appreciation of the beautiful in morals, and a realization of the sublimity of the character of Christ.

But the Buddhists still deem it necessary to frighten their votaries into godliness by depicting to them the horrors of a physical hell—a place where they will inhabit their old bodies, and their nerves will possess all their sensitiveness. Here is a discription of it:

"The Buddists hell is a sort of apartment house, divided into eight "easy stages." In the first the poor victim is compelled to walk for untold ages in his bare feet over hills thickly set with red-hot needles, points upward. In the second stage the skin is all carefully filled or rasped from the body; and irritating mixtures are applied. In the third stage the nails, hair, and eyes are plucked out, and the denuded body sawed and planed into all sorts of fantastic shapes. In the fourth stage is that of "sorrowful lamentations." In the fifth the left side of the body and the denuded head are carefully roasted, Yoma, the Buddistic Satan, superintending the work. In the sixth stage the arms are torn from the body and thrown into an immense vat among the eyes, nails, and hair previously removed. Then, in plain hearing of the sore-footed, blind, maimed, roasted, and bleeding victim, the whole horrid mass is pounded into a jelly. In the seventh stage the other side of the victim and his feet are roasted brown, and then comes the eighth and last stage, in which the candidate is thrown into the bottomless pits of perdition."

Mark Twain's Yell.

Mark Twain, who recently started on a tour around the world, told an interviewer at Winnipeg how he often felt a desire to "cut loose" from civilization and to get away by himself where he could run and yell to his heart's content. In this connection there is a story about the humorist and Canon Kingsley. Walking along the street one day, Mark felt the impulse to yell coming on him with irresistible force, and said to Kingsley, "I want to yell, I must yell." The canon said, "All right, yell away; I don't mind." "And with that," said Mark, "I stepped back a few steps, and, throwing my arms above head, let out a war whoop that could be heard for miles, and in less time than you could count Canon Kingsley and myself were surrounded by a multitude of anxious citizens who wanted to know what was the matter. I told them nothing was the matter. I just wanted to yell, and had yelled."

They are guaranteed to cure or money will be refunded. Tablets may be given secretly in tea or coffee and the free use of stimulants allowed until voluntarily given up. Price $1.00 per package. —Practically all the wood used in making spools for thread in this country and Great Britain is cut in Maine forests, but so great is the amount of lumber required each year for the making of these seemingly insignificant articles that Maine will not be able to supply the raw material much longer. The spools are made of birch wood, and the birch for the Maine forests is the best for the purpose. More than two million feet of lumber is shipped to Scotland every year for the use of the great thread manufactories there, and almost as much is supplied to domestic manufacturers. The busines began in Maine twenty-five years ago, and land that was cut over at that time is now well covered with young trees, but not for twenty-five years more will this timber be fit to cut.

—In Louisiana a constitutional amendment is pending which imposes an educational requirement in the matter of the suffrage. Its object is, of course, to disfranchise the negroes, but, strangely enough, a large proportion of the negroes favor it as a stimulant to education, while the opposition to it comes mainly from white men who object to the taking of the franchise from illiterates of their own color. The situation is a surprising one, and the politicians do not know what to about it.

Don't Snub the Boys.

Don't snub a boy because he wears shabby clothes. When Edison, the inventor, first entered Boston, he wore a pair of yellow linen breeches in the depth of winter.

Don't snub a boy because of the ignorance of his parents. Shakespeare, the world's poet, was the son of a man who was unable to write his own name.

Don't snub a boy because his home is plain and unpretending. Abraham Lincoln's early home was a log cabin.

Don't snub a boy becauses he chooses an humble trade. The author of the "Pilgrim's Progress", was a tinker.

Don't snub a boy because of dullness in his lessons. Hograth, the celebrated painter and engraver was a stupid boy at his books.

Don't snub a boy because he stutters. Demosthenes, the great orator of Greece, overcame a harsh and stammering voice.

Don't snub him for any reason. Not only because some day he may outstrip you in the race of life, but because it is neither kind nor right nor Christian.

—Druggist—Did you find that preparation I sold you good for the moth? Lady—It seems to be. "Drove 'em all away, eh?" "No! They grew fat on it."

—Aristocratic young Englishmen are taking jobs as stable boys in various parts of Kentucky and the West. Their object is to learn American methods of breeding fast horses and to secure some flyers for the English turf.

—Kansas legislates against certain noxious weeds not by making an appropriation, but by adding to the tax bill of the farmer who neglects to cut them down. It is hardly necessary to say that the weeds are disappearing rapidly.

—It has been decided to make a due celebration of the Pennsylvania days at the Atlanta exposition and on the Chickamauga battlefield. Arrangements will be made to have both occasions occur in the same week of November.

—Family wines that rival the world in excellence are from Speer's Passaic, N. J. Vineyards. The Claret, vintage 1881, the Burgundy and Port is especially for invalids. The Climax Brandy is very superior.

—One of the first things to be expected of the new Congress is a resolution of encouragement for the Cuban patriots regardless of the unfriendly attitude of the Cleveland Administration.
