Manufacture of Lead Pencils.

The Monde Economique, quoting from work recently issued by Ernest Faber a the manufacture of lead pencils, pub ished on the occasion of the business of ohann Faber, of Nureinberg, being turn l into a limited company, says that here are twenty-six manufactories lead pencils in Bovaria ty-three of which are twenty-three uremberg. These employed 9,000 o 0,000 workmen, and turn out 4,400,000 ead pencils every week: In the above umber of workmen are not included arners, boxmakers, etc. The factory o ohann Faber alone turns out 1,280,000 pencils per week. The protective cu oms duties of the United States prohibit ne importation of cheap pencils, and is country itself turns out almost a any pencils as all the Bavarian factor
