The lad took advantage of the weakness in Secretary Carlisle's bond issue notice, and now he is wealthy according to the small boy's standard. When he read the bond notice he saw his opportunity, and put in a bid for $150,000 of the bonds at a price which insured an award to him. He sold his right to receive the bonds for $6,000. Republican Party's Birthday.

The suggestion of the Union Republican Club, of Washington, D. C., that there be a celebration this year of the fortieth anniversary of the birth of the Republican party ought to meet with general favor among Republicans. If there is to be any general observance of of the day it ought to be held on February 22. On that day of that month in 1857 trok place the first national gathering of Republicans which ever met. It assembled in Pittsburg in obedience to a call of the chairman of the Republican State Committees of Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin. As is true, of course of all political parties, the Republican party had State before it had a national organization. The Pittsburg gathering, which was attended by representatives of the party from twenty-four States, framed a national organization for the party, and the National Committee then chosen called the Philadelphia Convention of July 17, 1857, which made John C. Fremont the party's standard-bearer for President.

The impulse, of course, which led to the formation of the party, was generated by the Kansas-Nebraska bill signed by President Pierce, May 30, 1854, opening the territories north of the Missouri line of 36-30 to slavery, which forced all the enemies of slavery extension—Abolitionists, Free Soilers, anti-slavery Whigs and anti-slavery Democrats into the combination which took the name of the Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, and anti-slavery Democrats into the combination which took the name of the Republican party. The Republican name was adopted in Ripon, Wis., as early as March, 1854, before the Kansas bill passed, but when its enactment was seen to be inevitable. Michigan, however, has the honor of holding the first ever, has the honor of holding the first State gathering that selected that name, which met July 6, 1854. As before men-tioned, the first national gathering of the party was that which met in Pittsburg on on February 22, 1856. The fortieth anni-versary of the party's birth will be at hand in a little over two weeks, and Re-publican clubs throughout the country should take steps to bring about an ap-

In the judgment of the United States Board of Engineers which investigated the subject, it will cost $133,472,893 to construct the Nicaraguan canal. This is $64,000,000 in excess of the estimates of the company which now holds a charter from Nicaragua to build the waterway. For obtaining the necessary data for the formation of a canal project eighteen months' time and $550,000 will be required. The most serious problem affecting the construction of the canal is the rainfall. A record of nearly 25 feet of water in a year on the Carribean coast diminished to 5½ feet between the lake and the Pacific indicates the important results that must ensue with reference to local drainage and engineering construction.
