TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

Notwithstanding the cold weather of Tuesday, the candidates for the various offices in which there was any contest, and heir friends, did considerable hustling and pent most of the day at the polls. The ote polled was the largest ever polled in his town, over seventeen hundred. The contest for Justices of the Peace, this fown, over seventeen hundred. The contest for Justices of the Peace, with 3 to elect, was the most interesting fight and was no doubt the cause of getting out the big vote; and resulted in the election of Messrs Anderson and Gilghrist, Republicans, and Keck, Democrat.

The Republicans elected all the School Directors, while the Democrats captured most of the Town Council. The fight for High Constable resulted in favor of J. B. Mathers.

The Republicans of Butler Township elected their entire ticket. Harmony went Republican, and for the Millerstown vote see our letter from Millerstown. The vote in the wards was as follows:

DEMMAN THOMPSON'S "OLD HOMESTEAD."
FRIDAY, FEB 21st.

"The Old Homestead." like an old friend, comes to us with all "the old boys" and "the gals," and the rest of the tolks that have helped to make the short hours of their former stay pass so pleasaulty. The characters who figure in "The Old Homestead" are as familiar to theatregoers as their own friends about the city. these stage people of Demman Thompson's are a peculiar kind of people. All that they do and all that they say—nay, more, all that they ever did do or ever will say—will be brought within a space of three hours. Yet those who have known Uncle Josb Whitcomb, Aunt Tildy, that goodnets whole lives. They do, in fact, for these three hours are their lives. They are known better than people off the stage can be, for their every act and word is enough to bring a smile or a tear, and the menty of them may, and does lighten, many a gloomy hour. That these people are so real and so tangible, is because they have been created by a master mind, with a master's consummate skill. They have had "originals" in real lite, but the instinct of the master was no less required to picture them before the world, so we might get to know them, and to love them as those who have seen them surely do.

The Scones and incidents of Denman the and the missing a smile or a tear, and the missing them the form the control of the stage of Terrible Atrocities are being committed by Turks upon the Armenians. The Turks are an uncivilized nation. Civilized nations like the American nation do not act aso barbarously. They keep their bodies in good health by eating pure foods like Marvin's Crackers, and might get to know them, and to love them as those who have seen them surely do.

The scenes and incidents of Denman Thompson's idealic creation, "The Old Homestead," are not dependent upon "The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power," but, on the contrary, are a faithful representation of a play that must be called a transcript from life. their minds are proportionately gentle and civilized.

The appearance here of that cleverest of German Comedians, Charles A. Gardner, signalizes the advent of a new play to our city entitled "The Prize Winner." It is the most successful of any of the plays Mr. Gardner has ever produced. The story is unravelled in the Austrian Tyrol, abounding in heart interest, depicting a charming story of love and devotion. The picture-sque and romantic country in which the story of "The Prize Winner" is laid, has been fully taken advantage of. The scenic investiture is exceedingly beautiful, as well as a fac-smile of this graphic locality. It includes an exact reproduction of an avalanche in the winter in the meuntainous country. The action of the story has been enlyened by the introduction of a troupe of Tyrolean singers and danceas, and the capitvating specialty of the Rumley children. Mr. Gardner will at each performance sing several of the songs which so materially added to his fame, special attention being called to "Apple Blossoms," which seems to have become as big a favorite as was the "Lilacs" BUTLER, PA. THEY ARE HERE.

We have just received a line of Rubber Goods that we will sell in addition to egular goods at the following low prices.

We say to you these are not our best goods but an additional line we have added to our stock. Some dealers are continually trying to quote very low prices in footwear to convey the idea that they undersell everybody else when the fact is they are trading in very cheap stuff. There is no trouble to get any amount of these cheap goods at any time.

THE WOODS IS FULL OF THEM.

We merely call your attention to these few facts that will probably be worth consideration in buying your footwear. The cheapest is not always cheapest.
