JUST A WORD OR TWO.

We want to talk with you a few minutes-You know us but do you know there are hundreds of people in Butler, Co. who do not know we are in Butler, if they did we would have to enlarge our store to let the crowd in. Why what do you think. Nearly one half the people who come into our store didn't know we made harness hile we have been running that part of our business for two years with a capacity of 10 sets per day, but we are glad to know they are pleased to find it out as it saves them money and will save you nvite money if you mind it. However we did not intend talking about harness more than to say that we make all kinds of harness and parts of harness at less than factory price. It was surries and buggies we wanted to tell you about. We have a larger stock than we have had at any time for fifteen years. We hav'nt a last year surrey in the house. Don't buy old stock, they are old style, and every year grow more so. Buy the latest design and be in fashion especially when you can buy them for less money than others charge for old style work, as for the price, whoever heard of anyone paying too much for anything bought here. We hav'nt in our employe asalesman with whom we would be afraid to send $10,000 to Europe, when you deal here you know you are dealing with a reliable firm and you know just what you are getting, and also know the price is lower than you could get any where. Come and see us and have the satisfaction of knowing you have been in the largest store of the kind in the state.

generally may engender disease. Symptoms vary, but by far the majority of diseases are marked by a loss of vitality, a wasting of flesh. The lungs and the stomach suffer. Disease germs enter the system through these two organs.

Recovery means driving out the germs and building up strong, healthy tissues. The medicine that will do it quickest and most thoroughly is the medicine to take. That medicine is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It searches out disease-germs wherever they exist and exterminates them. It is a powerful, invigoratthem. It is a powerful, invigorating tonic. > Her Ideal Shattered. Miss Clara Louise Kellogg tells the Miss Clara Louise Kellogg tells the following story of her introduction to one of the British aristooracy. She was very young at the time of her first trip abroad. A gentleman who felt an interest in the talented young American took her to call on the dowager Duchess of Somerset. Miss Kellogg says that she had never before seen a duchess, and that she fully expected the lady to come that she fully expected the lady to come into the room attired in velvet and ermine and wearing a coronet on her head. She was quite bereft of speech when a very ordinary looking person, wearing a black bombazine gown and prunella shoes, appeared on the scene. The gentleman who had brought Miss Kellogg told the duchess that she would be glad to sing for her, to which her grace responded:

"But I have no piano."
This was the finishing touch to the young singer's childish ideals regarding persons of high degree. A duchess who wore prunella shoes and did not own a Later a musicale was given by her grace at which Miss Kellogg sang—to the accompaniment of a hired piano choosing for one of her songs an arrangement of Tennyson's "Tears, Idle Tears." The verses were quite new to the duchess, who had "heard of Tenny-son, but had never read anything that son, but had never read anything that he had written." The next day the gen-tleman who had introduced Miss Kel-logg, and who, by the way, was an American, bought a copy of the poems and sent it to her grace.

He Had Heard Her Say So. That it is only a step from the sublime to the ridiculous is well illustrated by the following amusing incident that appened a few Sabbaths ago in a well known church, and caused no little mer-riment among the teachers. The superntendent was telling the wee small folks of the custom in certain countries of chaining the prisoners' hands and feet together. "And," she asked, "don't you suppose that if some one came and released them they would be very happy and grateful?"

It was unanimously agreed that they "And," continued the superintendent, coming to her point, "Jesus was sent to the world to release people from their sins. Are any of you here bound with the chains of sin?" "No," piped the 4-year-old offspring of the minister, "I'm not, but my grandmother is."—

Ventilated Gloves For Officers. There are very few novelties in military goods, but some gloves recently put on sale by a dealer are novelties. They are for officers who have to wear white leather gloves according to regulations. The new gloves are of wash leather and have ten holes in the palm of each hand, while the space between the fingers is cut away toward the palm. The object of the holes is to keep the hands from perspiring. From behind, when the hand is closed, the holes do not show. The gloves are successful in their object.

What He Could Sec. "What is there to see at the theaters tonight?" asked the man from the country. His city friend sighed. "A large hat, with four ostrich feathers, enameled buckle, a cluster of roses and several jeweled hatpins," he said. "Be sure and take your opera glasses, for then you can distinguish the minor details of the trimming."—New York Tribune.
