It is said that "the people" did not know what was being done. How do they ever work. If people do not heed (and of course in nearly all cases they do not) whose fault is it? Who is responsible to go to the 10,000,-000 voters individually and make sure that they heed, lest twenty-five years later somebody may say that the fact that they did not heed lays down a justification for a new project which certainly is "a crime"

It took away an option which ad existed since 1834, but had never been used. and for ten years before this act was passed had sunk entirely out of sight under paper money inflation. Secretary Boutwell, when he first brought the matter to the attention of congress in 1870, explained the proposed legislation as a codification of existing coinage laws. Later it took the shape of a complete simplifi cation of existing law, history and fact, in order to put the colnage on the simplest and best system as a basis for resumption. As we had then no coin, we had a free hand to put the system on the best basis, there being no vested rights or interests to be disturbed. That this was a wise and ound course to pursue under the circus stances is unquestionable. Three years later, by the rise in green backs and the fall in silver, it came about that 4121/2 grains of silver, nine-tenths fine, was worth a little less than a green back dollar. The old option would, there fore, if still existent, have been an advan tage to debtors. Complaint and clamo for the restoration of the option then began but to give such an option, after the ma ket had changed, would be playing with loaded dice. The European countries which still retained the option abolished it as soon as silver began to fall, and we if we had retained it open until that time ought to have done the same.—Professo ing to steal the congressional district, bu nner in Harper's Weekly.

> SENATOR SHERMAN, 1868: SENATOR SHERMAN, 1868; "No single measure will tend in this direction more than the adoption of a fixed international standard of value, by which all products may be meas-ured, and in conformity with which the coin of a country may go with its flag into every sea and buy the pro-ducts of every neution without being ducts of every nation without being discounted by the money changers."

> > A WORD TO LABOR.

There Is Only One Certain Way to Ad vance the Wages of Labor. The men who vote to bring their wor nto competition with the work of foreign laborers must expect to bring their wage to a level with the labor of that foreign mpetition. They must not expect that American manufacturers can pay higher wages than are paid by foreign manufac urers, if the American product is sold for he same price as the foreign product sold. To get up a strike for higher wages murder "scab workmen" and destrop property, and then go to the polls and vot for admitting the products of foreign "scab labor" is a species of lunacy which has no equal. We say to the men who so violently oppose the use of the army to put down riots: "Put them down your elves." Vote to reserve American ma kets for American products, and there vill be no cause for strikes to raise wages Wages will advance as the prices of man nfactured goods advance, and not any sooner .- Meadville Tribune C.
