THE CITIZEN

PREHISTORIC AMERICA.

Was the Western Continent the Cradle of Civilization?

The Democrat and Chronicle recently published from Philadelphia Times an account of the alleged discovery by Mr. Le Plongeon of a key to the inscriptions on the ruined cities of Yucatan. With this key Le Plongeon claimed to have deciphered a record of the flood upon the lintel of a door at Chichen. It is asserted that the inscriptions are of a nature of the key found by the explorer is not fully revealed. As a form or dialect of the Maya tongue is still spoken in Yucatan it is possible that some aid was gained from the natives. It is not likely that he found any parallel writings in a known language to throw any light on the hieroglyphics.

The fly nmsence is pretty bad this year. Here is a remedy that is said to be a good one. Take a tablespoonful of ground black pepper and mix it with two teaspoonfuls of brown sugar; place the compound with milk and milk where are rays of light. The flies will generally be attracted to it and eat greedily. If they do it will be their last meal, for the rest of it is poison to a fly.

—After a woman has heard hard stories about a man she always wonders how he can go around so without a look of shame on his face.

—There are two kinds of women—those that think it is nice to kiss a lot of men once, and those that think it is nice to kiss one man a lot of times.

When a woman tells a story to company about a man whom she has trembled and he began to cry, she generally says it quivered like an aspen leaf, and his eyes grew moist.

HOOD'S PILLS cure Liver trouble, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headache. Easy to take, easy to operate. 25c.

A young woman in St. Paul, being at a spiritualist seance the other night, jabbed a baptin in the direction of the materialized spirit, and because she heard profane language, got up and left in indignation. Does she expect self-respecting ghosts to stand every thing.

—The best thing about some men is—the stories their wives tell.

—No man of good character wants to thoroughly understand two women.

—When it's himself, a man says he has accepted a position; when it's about another man, he says he's found a job.

We all want to go to heaven, but there is very little demand for rapid transit in the western globe, and the fact that the ruins now visible at Copan are but the latest of three periods of growth and decay. That is, under the floor of the ruined temple are two other foundations of cities or great buildings buried deeply in debris of unknown antiquity. We quote from the Globe: "Along river front (Copan) for two miles along the Copan river, and near the boundary of Guatemala and Honduras) are found three great strata, divided by floors or pavements of mortar cement. If these floors," says Prof. Putnam, "mark the various levels corresponding to different epochs in the history of the city, the question of the age of the ruins becomes still more complicated; for between each successive period of occupancy there is a period of silence, the length of which can only be inferred from the thickness of the superimposed stratum." At Copan there are 23 sculptured monoliths 12 feet high. The three pavements indicate an age that may be even greater than that of any monument or building now known.

Investigators are beginning to see that the learning and the arts of the world may have had their origin in America, and not in India or Egypt. The pyramids of Egypt may be copies of the pyramids of Mexico, and the highly ornate sculptures and architecture of India may have had their origin in the temples of Uxmal, Mitla and Chichen. At Chichen is found in bold relief the Swastika, oldest of emblems and known for ages throughout the east. This emblem shows common knowledge, that may have sprung from America and spread to Asia and to Egypt. The presence of the Swastika or cross with curved arms, or arms turned in one direction at a right angle, lends plausibility to the supposition that the religion, the Hindu, and the early world religion, may have originated in America, and that the first statues were erected on this continent. Study of the ruins of Central America has only just begun. It was about 1841 that Stephens explored them and gave the first authentic description to the world. His work excited ridicule, because many believed that his pictures and descriptions were works of his imagination; but to-day it is found that he was wonderfully correct in his descriptions. He did not go far enough in describing the cities.

Attention should be constantly directed to the solution of the mystery surrounding America's ruins, and it would be well to look to China and India for a clue.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

A Hard Egg.

"You don't mind to say that it was an egg which made this scalp wound?" said the physician who had been called to dress the lecturer's injury.
