The extra session of congress which closed during July last enacted important legislation, and while its fullest effect has not yet heen realized, what it has already accomplished assures us of its timeliness and wisdom. To test its permanent value farther, time will be required, and the people, satisfied with its operation and results thus far, are in no mind to withold from it a fair trial. Tariff legislation having been settled, the question next pressing for consideration is that of the corrency.

Currency Revision Necessary.

The work of putting our finances up seem, will appear easier when we re-call the financial operations of the gov-ernment since 1866. On the 30th day of June of that year we had outstandcall the manuels operations are errors and size of the probable the matter will be fixed up of June of that year we had outstanding demand liabilities in the sum of $728,868,447.41. On the first day of Jannary, 1879, these had been reduced to $413,889,495.88. Of our interest-bearing obligations, the figures are even more striking. On July 1, 1866, the principal was $2,332,231,208. On the first day of July, 1893, this sum had been reduced to $555,038.100. The interest-bearing debt of the United States on the first pay of December, 1897, was $847,365,630.

With the great resources of the government and with the honorable example of the past before us, we ought not to hesitate to enter upon a currency revision which will make our demand obligations less onerons and relieve our financial laws of ambiguity and doubt. The brief review of what was accomplished from the close of the war to 1893 makes unreasonable any distrust of our financial ability, and soundness, while the situation from 1893 to 1807 must admonish congress of the immediate necessalty of leedslating to make the return of saving $2.389 per vear by the change.

the conditions then prevailing impossible.

There are many plans proposed as a remedy for the evil. Before we can find the true remedy, we must appreciate the true evil. It is not that our currency of every kind is not good, for every dollar is good-good because the government's pledge is out to keep it so, and that pledge will not be broken. The evil of the present system is found in the great cost of mantaining the parity of our different forms of money, that is, keeping all of them at par with gold. It is manifest we must devise some plan to protect the government against bond issues for repeated redemptions. We must either curtail the opportunity for speculation, made easy by the multiplied redemption of our obligations, or increase the gold reserve.

We have $900.000,000, currency which the government, by solemn enactment, has undertaken to keep at par. Nobody is obliged to redeem in gold but the government. The banks are not required to redeem in gold. The government is obliged to keep equal with gold all is friends on Saturday.

ernment. The banks are not required to redeem in gold. The government is obliged to keep equal with gold all its ontstanding currency, while its receipts are not required to be paid in gold. They are paid in every kind of money but gold, and the only means by which the government can get gold is by borrowing. This is especially so in times of business panic, as during the administration of my predecessor, when the proceeds of $262,315,400 of bonds were used to pay the expenses of the government in excess of the revenues, and sustain the gold reserve. With the revenues equal to our expenses, there would nues equal to our expenses, there would be no deficit requiring the issue of bonds. But if the gold reserve falls be low $100.000.000, how will it be replen-ished, except by selling more bonds? Is there any other practicable way under existing law? It no further legis-lation is had, and the policy of selling bonds continued, then congress should give the secretary of the treasury au-thority to sell bonds bearing a less rate
