

THE CITIZEN. THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1898. THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The high water of yesterday stopped all trains on the "Bessie" and P. W. railroads, and besides this some bridges were washed away, which made it impossible for half of the delegates to the County Convention to reach Butler, that morning.

Chairman McCullough delayed calling the convention to order until 2:15 P. M., and at that time thirty-one of the sixty precincts were represented, and the convention organized by electing Dr. DeWolf, temporary chairman, and W. S. Brantley, J. J. Keck and P. H. Secler, temporary secretaries.

On motion the chairman appointed J. B. Cunningham, Samuel Leslie, F. A. Kingsbury and J. H. Pontius, a committee on resolutions.

The roll was called, and the following delegates answered:

- Co. COMMITTEE FOR 1898. Adams N., Adams S., Allegheny, John Womer, Foxburg, Brady, Flanders, Wm. West Liberty, Buffalo, J. W. Fleming, Elkton, Brantley, Wm. West Liberty, Centre, Porter, Wilson, Souza, Cherry N., Cherry S., J. S. Campbell, Gomersol, Clay, J. S. Christley, Encliff, Clearfield, E. S. DeWolf, Mars, Porterville, Petrolia, M. L. Starr, Sunburg, W. S. Brantley, G. Russell, Valencia, Zelienople.

Of course some of these names have been added since the roll-call. A difference of opinion arose in the Convention as to whether the returns on the secretary's table should be opened and read or whether the tabulation should be delayed until all the returns were in and it was settled by a rising vote in favor of delay, and the chairman and Secretaries are to meet today at 3 P. M. and tabulate and read the returns if then all in.

The Committee on Resolutions agreed to a set of resolutions, and they were read and agreed to without dissent. They read as follows:

RESOLUTIONS. We the Return Delegates of the Republican party of Butler county in Convention assembled declare as follows: 1st. We renew our allegiance to the principles of the Republican party as declared by the National Convention of 1860, and congratulate the country on the faithful services of our Senators and Representatives in framing and passing the American Tariff Bill known as the "Dingley Bill," and the good results flowing therefrom, in opening our ports, nulls and other trade barriers to the labor of our own people, instead of favoring the goods and wares we use manufactured by the labor of foreign countries; in the increased prices the farmers are receiving for their wool, and sheep and other products of their farms, and the generally improved condition of the business interests of our country, that are induced by a protective tariff.

2nd. We heartily endorse the patriotic and business like Administration of our President, to whose wisdom and earnest Americanism is largely due the improved business condition of the whole country, and the feeling due to the business interests of our country, by the last Democratic Administration, we will then derive the full benefit of our American Tariff policy and enter upon the business of our country, and the benefit of the whole country and our people east, west, north and south.

3rd. We urge upon our Representatives in Congress the importance of passing as promptly as possible an emigration bill passed by the Senate and now in the House, restricting the emigration to this country of so many of the undesirable class of immigrants who are taking the place and work of our own labor who need protection from that class the competition of this class of labor.

4th. We congratulate the people of the country upon having the President and Cabinet, and Congress to support them that we have in the present emergency, brought about by the strained relations in Spanish affairs, and feel that our country is in safe hands, and that the best interests of the Nation will be taken care of whatever be the turn our affairs with Spain may take.

5th. We commend to the people of this day nominated for the respective offices believing them worthy the support of all Republicans.

J. B. CUNNINGHAM, J. H. PONTIUS, S. A. LESLIE, F. E. KINGSBURY.

Dr. Pillow and N. C. McCullough were nominated for County Chairman and McCullough won by a vote of 20 to 15, and the temporary secretaries were continued as permanent. The convention then adjourned.

THE RESULT. Reports from all the districts make the vote on Assembly as follows: Jas. N. Moore, 2956; Jas. Dindinger, 2104; M. Christley, 1475; W. M. McBride, 1475; Nelson Thompson, 1384.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY. J. M. Painter, 2079; L. M. Wise, 2061; Jno. W. Coulter, 1909; Returns from thirty districts give Newton Black, 1860; Dr. Crawford, 1438; M. N. Greer, 1439; J. C. McClymonds, 1439; Jno. T. Kelly, 1319.

Nobody kept track of the Quay, Shawalter and McQuiston vote and the official figures cannot be given until next week.

DURING the past year 6,600 men and women have committed suicide in the United States. Of this number only 1,174 were women. The statistics do not include cigarette smokers or men who didn't know the gun was loaded.

POLITICAL. Republican Primary, March 22, 1898, UNOFFICIAL.

At the Republican primaries in Blair county last Saturday John Wanamaker's candidacy for Governor was endorsed by a majority of 500 and five delegates elected in his interest.

In Lancaster county the Quay people had everything their own way, and Senator Kaufman was the only independent member of the last State Senate, was defeated for re-nomination.

Two of the Franklin county delegates will favor Wanamaker; the McKean county delegates are for C. W. Stone; the Clarion county men are unpledged; Venango county is for C. W. Stone; Cameron county is for C. W. Stone; Adams county is for Croft; of Somerset county, and Indiana county was so close that it took the official ballot to decide in favor of THE MAINE REPORT. The report of the Court of Inquiry investigating the disaster to the Maine was forwarded to the President from Key West, last Saturday.

An epitome of it reads as follows: First—That the explosion that destroyed the Maine was not the independent one on the port side, leaving the ram all in its original position, driving the bow and forward structure to starboard, and the mainmast to starboard, and the ship swinging slightly to starboard and then sinking.

Second—That the first explosion was followed by a second in the interior of the ship as a result of the exterior blow.

Third—That the second explosion was in the reserve magazine. This destroyed the superstructure of the ship.

Fourth—That the big magazine forward was exploded. This is demonstrated beyond doubt.

Fifth—That the exterior explosion destroyed the mainmast, and that a mine might have caused the disaster was produced, but it was not sufficient to cause the ship to sink.

Sixth—That the impact came low under the hull of the Maine on the port side, blowing one of the big rivets to the surface, where it is still in sight.

Seventh—That the ship is broken in two and probably cannot be raised.

Eighth—That the forward turret was hurled far to starboard, its top being intact.

Ninth—That the solitary plate showing above water is a bottom plate, not from along the keel, but on the bottom.

Tenth—That the bow of the Maine now points nearly east, while the rest of the ship lies along a line nearly at right angles.

Eleventh—That the ram of the Maine lies off to port of where the bow lies, nearly on a line parallel to the bow of the ship.

Twelfth—That no evidence was adduced implicating the Spanish Government in the sinking of the Maine, or in the preparation for the destruction of the ship.

WASHINGTON. The cabinet meeting of Tuesday lasted something over an hour and was devoted exclusively to the Spanish situation.

The tone of the discussion was generally in favor of the report of the Maine court of inquiry in particular. The tone of the discussion was generally in favor of the report of the Maine court of inquiry in particular.

Other cabinet officers stated that the general plan included the sending of a presidential message along with the report, stating that Spain had been called upon to make suitable response to the case presented by the court of inquiry.

While the cabinet associates of the president maintained their usual reserve as to the exact character of their deliberations, it was conceded that the discussion proceeded on the theory that the coming report would show a black and white explosion was not the result of an accident, but was due to an external cause, and that the responsibility of the disaster rests on the Spanish government.

The possibility of a recourse to intervention, in case Spain failed to meet the requirements of the representations we will make after receiving the Maine report has been fully discussed, although the cabinet associates of the president are of the opinion that no such course is warranted.

It is believed that the intention of the President, however, to bring about a very material and satisfactory compromise with Spain, and that the best and most practical method of obtaining this end, is the hope of the cabinet associates of the president.

It is also believed that the President will so far realize the situation as to see the necessity for such radical action on our part with respect to Cuba as to command the approbation of this country and thus at once put an end to all differences.

Pending a decision on the government's final policy, no overtures or intimations have been conveyed to the Spanish government, and there is no official knowledge as to how Spain will regard a recognition of Cuban independence, or intervention.
