THE CITIZEN.

A VANTAGE BOOK.

Personal Record Keeping Whose Interest Excuses Its Vanity.
In the beginning one's parents must be the authors, or if the parents will not, then some devoted aunt may write for herself the warmest thanks in years to come. When Heart's Delight came along a few years ago, a small volume was bought to her book. Into this went first the genealogy of the family on father's and mother's sides as far as there was knowledge of it. Photographs of great-grandparents, grandparents and parents were pasted in. The addition of a few pages to the volume, however, was the only trouble, grandmother was shown by a small piece, and the material side was rich with bits of the wedding dresses of mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. Photographs of father and mother, at the time of their marriage, were pasted in. The maid and house were also added. To these were added one of the house and the room which the little maid made blessed by her coming. The announcement card went in, and letters written for her welcome, Mamma wrote a description of the wonder, and pap took her photograph.

"My youngest daughter, Mrs. Julia Raphe, was all run down with nervous prostration and heart trouble, so I sent her to Dr. H. C. Jackson, Reno, Colo., Kansas. She took Dr. Pier's "Favourite Prescription" and "Golden Medical History," and she got well again. Her doctor said she had a nervous condition, the task is too much. If she tries to do too much, unless the right remedy is used, the poor woman will soon break down completely and an early grave over 60,000 women in America die every year from the use of Dr. Pier's Favorite Prescription. Many of their names, addresses, photographs, experiments, etc., were sent by personal letter to Dr. Pier's Common Sense Medical Adviser. The "Favourite Prescription" contains 21 most delicate and important organs that bear most directly upon health. It makes them well and strong. It builds up the body. It makes weak, sickly, nervous, fretful women strong, healthy, amiable wives. All men strongly desireable husbands."

"But I assure you"—

"Don't you dare say one word to me!"

Then a mutual friend took him by the arm and led him to his side.

"Really old man," he said, "it was courageous. I am almost tempted to think you've been drinking."

"But hang it all!"

"It was neither the time nor the place for cheap wit," broke another friend.

"But I didn't intend—"

"I am not the time or the place for cheap wit," interrupted still another friend, "but you ought to have some regard for the feelings of his wife."

"I tell you I!"

"That's what comes of cultivating one's sense of humor at the expense of one's better feelings," put in the friend who had been led away by his wife.

Of course we know that you did not intend to say anything that would seem harsh and cruel, but—"

"Now, look here!" exclaimed the man who had made the original remark, breaking away from them angrily. "I am not the time or the place for cheap wit," said all right.

"What would you have me say that I am sorry to hear, that he has one foot in the grave? That would be a nice, sensible thing to say when I happen to know that he is a cromatist and he always bought a silver urn to hold his ashes, wouldn't it? The trouble with you people is that you are not up to date!"—Chicago Post.
