CHURCH NOTES

The beautiful stone church erected at the corner of Main and Clay streets for the First English Lutheran congre-gation of Butler was formally dedicated to the service of the Creater last Sun day. The old church was torn down, about a year ago, and the corner-stone of the new one laid on August 15, 1897. The total cost of the new building, complete, is about $21,500, and the $1,500 raised last Sunday will clear it of all floating indebtedness.

BUFFALO BILLS REVIEW Of the Representative Rough

On no account should the habitua on entertainment bound, be permitted to rob any pair of eyes of the grand and glorious equestrian review, with which the afternoon and evening's performances of Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Congress of rough ridgers of the World, at Butler on Wednesday, July 6 will be at Butler on Wednesday, July 6 will be inaugurated at precisely 2 and 8 o'clock. "Imagine." says the New York Sun, "a keleidoscope, with an object filed four and a half acres in extent, occupied by a swift-moving mass of figures, individually picturesque, brilliant with metallic reflections and gay with colors, momentarily springing and flashing into new combinations and modes of motion which dazzle confuse and fascingte the new combinations and modes of motion which dazzle, confuse and fascinate the eye of the holder. Such is the spectacle presented by the hundreds of 'rough riders,' forming port of the 'Wild West' show, when gone through their evolutions together. All the rest of the show is interesting and remarkable; the marksmanship of Buffalo Bill and his men, the excellent acrobatic feats of genuine Arabs, the Indians songs and dances, the combat's between the scouts, genume Arabs, the indians songs and dances, the combar's between the scouts, cowboys and red men, and much more that need not be recapitulated: but, after all, the feature which arouses the enthusiasm of the spectators is the temporary Centaur, the horseman combination seen in each of these rough riders when in action. It stirs the blood ers when in action. It stirs the ers when in action. It stirs the blood as no other spectacle could short of a battle, a shipwreck or an earthquake. When band after band of Vaqueros, Gauchos, Cowboy and Indians, gallop-ing swiftly, with wild yells, fluttering drapery and waving lariats, are follow-ed by ponderons German Cuirassiers, dashing French cavalryman, impetuous Cossacks, handsome Royal Irish Lan-cers mysterions. Arab horsemen and Popular Excursions to the Seashore. No other Summer outing appeals so strongly to the people of Western Penn-sylvania as the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's popular excursions to the Atlantic seacoast. For years they have een looked forward to as the holiday event of each Summer. The secret of their great popularity is the phenom-enally low rate and the high character of the service. The limit of twelve days just fits the time set apart for the average vacation, and the dates of the average vacation, and the dates of the excursions are most conveniently adjusted. There is also the widest field for choice in the selection of a resort. Atlantic City, Cape May, Sea Isle City, Ocean City, N. J., Rehoboth, Del., and Ocean City, Md., are the choicest of the Atlantic coast resorts, and any one of them may be visited under these ar-
