the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg extension near Punxsutawney and along the line. Great bridges from 20 to 120 feet in height and several half a mile in length are being built, and at one place a tunnel 2,800 feet in length is being bored through a hill. The work all along the new road is of a stupendous nature, and the scenery is magnificent. It was a great undertaking, but there appears to be plenty of capital backing the enterprise, and before long Pittsburg people can expect to see a rough, hilly country, cut up by nu merons deep ravines, the new road will not have very many heavy grades, and it will have few severe curves, On the B. R. and P. main line most of the heavy grades were eliminated during the past four years and it now has a splendid line and are hauling heavy train loads. The B. R. & P. extension will develop a new and important region, where there is plenty of good coal.—Pittsburg Post.

The Pennsylvania Railroads Popular Excursions to the Seashore.

No other Summer outing appeals so strongly to the people of Western Penn-ylvania as the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's popular excursions to the Atlantic seacoast. For years they have been looked forward to as the holiday been looked forward to as the holiday event of each Summer. The secret of their great popularity is the phenomenally low rate and the high character of the service. The limit of twelve days just fits the time set apart for the average vacation, and the dates of the excursions are most conveniently adjusted. There is also the widest field for choice in the selection of a resort. Atlantic City, Cape May, Sea Isle City, Ocean City, N. J., Rehoboth, Del., and Ocean City, Md., are the choicest of the Atlantic coast resorts, and any one of them may be visited under these argineer saw a bear on the track ahead of the locomotive. He blew the whistl but the hear kept right along ahead of the train. The passengers noticed that something out of the ordinary was transpiring and soon the bear was seen by those in the train. Heads went ou of the windows, one man in his excite ment of the passengers. Finally he left the track and entered the woods. This occured it must be remembered on the Fourth of July but the story is vouched for by all the trainmen and the passen-gers as well, so we do not doubt the truth of the matter.

A few nights ago Martin Meehan,
