Harmony and Zelienople.

M. H. Stiller of Jackson township and his son, Alpheus merchant of Harmony, returned last week from a trip to New York.

They attended the second annual reunion of the Stiller family.

We city following from the York Gazette of Sept. 22nd '98.

This is a historical society composed of the descendants of one Mathias Stiller.

He was of noble lineage and immigrated to America from one of the German provinces on the Rhine in the early part of the century.

He was endowed with unlimited wealth and his business abilities made him a power in numerous capacities in the earlier days.

After a few years sojourn in Philadelphia and Lancaster he came to this city and one of his first benevolent acts was to build out of his own wealth the First Lutheran church of this city.

He had the honor to entertain at his home in this city General George Washington, and his son Benjamin was commissary to his home in Harmony.

His descendants in the city represent nearly every state in the Union.

Abandoned Her Baby. Policeman Brown, of Martin's Ferry, Ohio, discovered a baby in a basket on a door step, Monday.

An investigation showed in one a baby girl 1 month old but had tried to rub it out. She did not cry and she was dressed in clothing of every description and all of the finest quality.

"I must tell the reason I give up my baby, which I love with all my heart. My family has discarded me for my fall and I am compelled to work and being in poor health can hardly support myself long. I take it away far from home and I am sure you will know the mother. I hope it will find a good home and the new mother have the weakness of her mother. Baby is close to me, who I write and the more I look at her the harder I find it to part with her. I want to keep her, but cannot, and I think God will give me credit for what I have done for her and what I would do to it if I could. The baby's name is Hazel Blanche Harris. The last name being his father's, where I do not know, but he hasly deserted me."

The unfortunate mother made every effort to conceal her identity, but left one very important clue. In writing her letter she had first dated it Butler, Pa. but had tried to rub it out. She did not succeed, and Mayor Shipman wrote to Butler chief of police asking him to investigate.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Miss Bertha Beilstein of Allegheny, daughter of John Frederick Beilstein, deceased, the wealthy hotelier, shot her mother last Sunday morning.

She fired five shots into her own head and body, drank some brandy and then lay down on the bed.

She died in the left breast. Mrs. Beilstein died almost instantly but the daughter was still alive.

The letter was written by Bertha and stated that she was tired of life and wanted her mother to die with her.

She further stated that she had contemplated suicide ever since her father's death on December 18th last, and there was no other pleasure in the world for her.

The letter gave minute instructions for the funeral of herself and noted an instruction regarding the division of her money and property among her brothers and sisters.

Miss Beilstein owned several thousand dollars upon the death of her father. This she desired to be equally divided among her three brothers.

Her mother was married to her sister, Mrs. Nicholas Voegtly, of 30 Boyle street, Allegheny.
