A man in the darkness of hopeless disease is of all men most miserable. When doctors and medicines innumerable have been tried and found wanting, and loving friends vainly urge upon him the food he cannot eat and which brings him no nourishment or strength, what is to be done? Men and women who have sunken so far into weakness and disease that the whole body seems to be permeated and poisoned by it have found health, strength and vigor through the transforming, electrifying power of that wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery" which Dr. R. HOW IT ALL HAPPENED. Terrible Things That Happened to Several Persons Because a

Horse Liked Grass. It would not have happened if it had not rained the night before or if the butcher's boy had hitched the horse when he left the delivery wagon standing on Madison averue while he went in the apartment-house at the persons should ponder over. corner. The horse wanted some of the grass that grew inside the curb, and after he had taken a mouthful or two, horselike, he decided that the grass behind him was better. So he backed up until the wagon covered all the clean crossing and then stood still. One at a time five men came along from the opposite side of the street. Two of them waded through the puddles behind the wagon and three made a detour by going around by the other side of the street. Then a man and a woman came along. Both were nicely dressed, and the woman wore a nice skirt. They were hurrying to the de-pot and had not time to go around by way of the other crossing, so the man waded to where he could lead the horse out of the way. As soon as the crossing was clear the woman started over and the man let go of the bridle. Then the horse promptly backed again and ran the muddy wheel against the white skirt, leaving about two feet of mud on it and causing the woman to squeal and jump into the biggest pud This made the man furious and he savagely whacked the horse with his ambrella and broke the handle of it The butcher's boy came out at this moment and cursed the man for beat ing the horse. Then the man let loose a little profanity on his own account and tried to hit the boy with the um-brella and the boy struck him with the basket he was carrying and jumped into the wagon and started the horse on a run. They headed toward a bi cycle rider who was on a narrow strip road between two pools of water and he promptly fell into one of the pools and the wagon ran over his wheel, while the jolt threw a basket of meat into the other pool. Then a woman who was watching from an upper window leaned too far out and knocked over a vase, which didn't stop falling until it struck the sidewalk.

The man and the woman then turned back toward home. Her skirt and shoes were covered with mud and she was telling him it was all his fault and expressing a very poor opinion of a man who would use such awful lan-
