GRAND OPERA HOUSE, PITTSBURG That soul-stirring drama, That soul-stirring drama, "Monte Cristo," is to be presented at the Grand Opera House next week, with a wealth of scenery and realistic effects that will make Alexandre Dumas' great work a stupendious revelation. There never was a more interesting play written than "Monte Cristo." The sufferings of Dantes at the hands of unscrupulous enemies; his inprisonment in the awful memies; his inprisonment in the awful lungeon; his extraordinary escape; his acquistion of untold riches, and the acquistion of untold riches, and the dramitic revenge he takes on the scoun-drels who have ruined his early life, are all followed with breathless interest by the audience. Every phase of life is set forth in bold colors in this drama.

SHREWD BUYERS.

Taking Advantage of Ambuhl Brothers' Great Piano and Organ Sale—Interested Parties

Unusual offerings in the sale of all kinds of goods have been made in the past few years, but never in the history opportunity like this presented itself, whereby private parties could buy pianos and organs on easy payments, if desired, for less money than many dealers can buy them for cash.

These goods must be sold in ten days and will go for less money than many dealers can buy them for.

Then, too, they are brand-new, fresh from the factory, not used or shop-worn. As we said before, this sale is to introduce ourselves in Butler, and a piano sold is the best advertisement we can have; everyone sold will bring us more friends, so we are going to sell these pianos and organs at wholesale prices for ten days to accomplish this.

Eyeryone will admit that there are no better pianos unade than the "New
