JOHN L. JONES.

A FURIOUS hurricane swept over day of last week. The city of Ponce, and El Caney, Humaco and other towns were partially destroyed, with great loss it.

Bain Forrester is a sharp little fellow but the next time he bargains to cate a quart of grass hoppers, you will know it. Porto Rico from east to west on Tues-Saturday's papers put the loss of life at five hundred, with 100,000 people left desolate, and Sunday's papers put marketing gilt-edge butter, which si the loss of life at two thousand. It is knows how to make. said to have been the worst hurricane there since 1876.

Soon One-hundred Years Old.

EDITOR CITIZEN-On March 12, 1800 the Act of Assembly was passed creating Butler, Co. or rather taking it from Allegheny Co. to be formed into a new county. It remained attached to the mother county of Allegheny for judicial two county of the and nearly all other purposes until the year 1803. In 1803, March and April, other acts were passed providing for this as the county seat (here at Butler) and the erection of public buildings. Court House, and so forth, and in 1803 we began doing business on our own account.

And now the question is beginning to be discussed, what is the proper date for us to have a centennial celebration of the be discussed, what is the proper taxes to have a centennial celebration of the birth of our county? On March 12, 1900 or in 1903? If on the first then we should begin preparing. If on the second we need not move in the matter yet. We would like to hear the opinion of other citizens of the county. And of the press of the county. And of of other citizens of the county. And of the press of the county. And of the press of the counties of Beaver, Mer-cer, Crawford, Erie, Warren, Venango and Armstrong, all of which were creat-ed by the same law of March 12, 1890. Yours etc. J. H. NEGLEY.

Col. Hawkins' body arrived at Washington, Pa., and was taken to his old home last Thursday, and was placed in a vault where it will remain unti the arrival of the regiment from San Francisco, on the 28th.

The First Train.

All aboard for Punxsutawney next Monday if the train runs. The following is from the Commerical Gazette. While the Buffalo, Rochester & Pitts burgh will not formally begin its traffic in and out of Allegheny and New Castle over the Pittsburgh & Western till September 4, an accommodation train between Punxsutawney and Allegheny will begin running on the 21st inst. This train will be brought over the Butler branch of the Pittsburgh & Western as the second section of No. 16. which reaches Allegheny at 11:40 a. m., will start from Allegheny about 3:30 in the afternoon, the train running as the second section of No. 47. The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh trains will make no stops between Allegheny and Butler, 40 miles, in accordance with the agreement with the Pittsburgh & West-Oddfellowship, not long since. gheny and Butler will be an hour and 10 minutes on the fast trains that the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh will install on September 4. The opening of the acodation service two weeks prior to the full passenger service is being done so that enginemen may become accustomed to the new road before handling way each day, to run at a rate of about cent Saturday eve. 40 miles an hour.

THE trial of Dreyfus, the discovery of a conspiracy to overthrow the French republic and the shooting of M. Labori are matters in which the American public is deeply interested. Time was when these events, pregnant of momentous issues though they be, would have excited but the merest passing in terest in this country Now, however, it is different. Rapid ocean transit and the electric cable have brought Europe to our doors and we now follow the leading events in the old world even more closely than we do those of Canada or Mexico.

where the first Presbyterian sermon in Butler county was preached by Rev. McPherren, grandfather of Col. John M. Sullivan, deceased of Butler.

John McPherren made a missionary tour to this portion of the state in 1799, and preached to a congregation under the spreading branches of a large tree that stood near the site of Concord church, which tree is standing there today, I believe. Several of his audience requested him to name the church Concord, and that name it has borne until the present time. If I am rightly informed the founder of this church was William Christy, my grandfather. informed the founder of this church was William Christy, my grandfather, who came to this neighborhood about 1798 and settled in the bounds of what is now Concord twp., and he being an elder from a church in Westmoreland county, and his brother Anderson and Jeremiah Sutton, with the assistance of several other families in the neighborhood was the property of the p

This congregation has had but four pastors, and one of them is preaching there at the present time—the other three having died in the harness.

This congregation embraced a large scope of territory, taking in what is now North Butler, Anisville, Pleasant-ville, North Hope, Fairview, Petrolia and Sunbury, including the two Luth eran churches—Zion and Springdale—also the Methodist churches at Greece City and Troutman. All of which are streams gone out from old Concord to gladden the cities of our God.

The present edifice is a brick building, 45x55, erected in 1838, and is today a comfortable and decent church. I was there a few Sundays ago at a communion and on looking over the house I could see but one man (and him blind) who attended Sunday School with me in the old log house in the grove when I was a little, barefooted boy, clad in home-spun linen.
