PARK THEATRE.

TUESDAY OCT. 10TH.

There is the life and fire, the richness of the far away India, the pomp of military glory and the circumstances of war in The Cherry Pickers, the stirring play announced for appearance at the Park Theatre. Tuesday, Oct. 10.

The mere fact that it is a Pitou production conveys volumes as that famous manager has never attempted anything but what has proven thoroughly artistic and entirely first class. The Cherry Pickers being a veritable East-Indian military romance contains many scenes of unusual interest and affords remarkable scope for rich colorings and effects. It is presented by a strong company including Grace Cahill, Laura Lorraine, Margaret Tinnant and Garland Gaden.

It is in this play, a political, romantic comedy, that the eminent comedian Tim Murphy will be seen at the Park Theatre Thursday evening, Oct. 12.

"The Carpetbagger" is a clean-cut comedy of American manners, the time chosen being the reconstruction period in the South after the war of the rebellion; the hero a carpetbagger in the Governor's chair in Jackson, Miss., and its chief thread on interest, a love story of the good old kind, which it is to be hoped our fathers, as well as our mothers, used to make. An impressive picture of reconstruction times in the South is drawn, but the great dramatic interest lies in the human and absolutely natural characters moving in an interesting story. The play is conceived in the best artistic spirit, and its execution is really beautiful. The story is developed in a series of situations which are by turn humorous, tenderly suggestive of pathos and dramatic. The dialogue are not timed in the supervisor, who is paid for his services.

sustained his report allowing an appeal to the higher court on bill sealed.

The history of this case is this, J. S. Wick was the owner and in possession of a coal yard at Harmony this county, on September 16th, 1896, he also owned much other personal property, book accounts, notes and bank accounts, which be turned over to L. C. Wick by bill of sale and executed Power of Atty. The whole with interest when suit was brought aggregated *3267.87.

J. S. Wick, plaintiff, contends that aforesaid transfer of his property was made conditionally viz. that he had debts and L. C. Wick was to dispose of property and collect enough money to pay his debts and return surplus if any remained to him. Plaintiff says no debts were paid, no property was returned or consideration paid him whatever and therefore he brought this suit.

The Referee found that the bill of sale was conditional and that no possible was conditional and that no possible was conditional and that no loss of the Committee compared its adoption to that of the Declaration of Independence
