MEETING OF CONGRESS.

The fifty-sixth Congress of the United States met at Washington D. C., Monday noon.

In the House 336 members answered when their names were called—21 were absent.

Representative Henderson, Rep. of Iowa, was elected Speaker over Rep. Richardson, Dem. of Tennessee.

That the merchant marine be built up through the means used by other nations—namely, subsidies.

That the Sherman anti-trust law be extended so as to more fully check trusts, and that without delay.

That there be no delay with regard to action of legislation that will result in the construction of the Nicaraguan Canal.

That a commission be appointed to consider the opportunities for and obstacles to the enlargement of the markets for our products in China.

That a law be enacted giving the Federal courts jurisdiction to try the lynchers when a citizen or subject of a foreign State is murdered by a mob.

That attention be given to the subject of a cable to Mexico.

That early action be taken to give an authority for buying armor plate for naval vessels already under contract and for those authorized by the removal of the $300 per ton limit.

That a soldier's widow be not debarred from pension unless her income exceed $350 per annum.

That better government be provided for Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Alaska as quickly as possible.

That no recommendations be made with respect to the Philippines or Cuba.

That the President deem it inadvisable to make any recommendations for the Philippines while the insurrection is in progress.

That the history leading up to the Philippine insurrection be recited at length to answer the Atkinson charge that the hostilities resulted from breach of faith on our part.

That the President announce that he does not recommend that municipal government of Cuban cities by Cubans be inaugurated as soon after April 11 next as possible.

That the President choose their allegiance, whether they will remain Spaniards or become citizens of the United States.

That the President choose their allegiance, whether they will remain Spaniards or become citizens of the United States.

That the President choose their allegiance, whether they will remain Spaniards or become citizens of the United States.
