Beer Club Raid.

Eight men were arrested last Wednesday and Thursday by constables John Herdman and W. P. Brown and County Detective McMarlin. All were proprietors of so called "Beer Clubs" operated on the South Side, and information had been made against them for illegal liquor selling by County Detective McMarlin. The men arrested were John Daprel, Jos. Laurent, James McGraw, Michael McLaughlin, J. G. August Meyers, Dick Spohn, and M. Gallagher. Ten informations were made but two of the men skipped the law. The other eight were held for Court. The authorities are said to be strict cases made out against the defendants and expects to convict them. The prosecutions were brought about this wise: A certain man joined all the "clubs" and saw just what they did and then reported it to the authorities. This man certainly had courage, and if the violations of the liquor laws have occurred as reported, he deserves the commendation of every citizen. Hearty congratulations have been sent to the man who has been seen carried away from the clubs in baskets, and men of known intemperance habits, and who could not get liquor over the hotel bars are said to have been regular patrons of the clubs. The men were held for town for letting their hall, $200 in each case. Of the two defendants who skipped one, the other was held for town for the first Ward, held in his wife's name.

Divorce and Fire. —In the Mars correspondence appear a notice of the burning of the Miles Court homestead. The particulars of the fire have not been heard. Mrs. M. Morrison was the widow of Miles Court, returned home from Butler Tuesday evening after the hearing of her petition for divorce from E. K. Morrison, who was a young man working on the farm at the time of Mr. Court's death, about 1890. E. K. Morrison was a young man who was married after the marriage litigation ensued between the Morrises and the Court. The divorce was granted winter Mrs. Morrison applied for divorce alleging cruelty. The case was heard Tuesday, but a few days pending a coming decision of the Superior Court. Morrison is thought to be in the neighborhood of the Court. The trustees had placed $3000 insurance on the house.
