A CAVALIER OF FRANCE JAN. 10. "A Cavalier of France" is one of th most picturesque plays on the board-to-day. The period of the play is on of the most romatic in the world' of the most romane in the worlds, history. France always was, and in fact still is a land of poetry and flowers, but during the reign of Henry the III., the spirit of adventure was rampant, every court gallant fought for his particular lady love, and defended his name at how with his good sword. SPAN OF LIFE.

The highly realistic and successful melodrama, "The Span of Life", will be seen at the Park Theatre Jan. 15th. The story of the play is famillar to theatregoers, and the piece with its wonderful human bridge and great when the serve has siven its last prewonderful numan bridge and great lighthouse scene has since its last pre-sentation here become the talk of fou Continents. While all the scenery of the original production was duplicated the popular piece will be seen this year with all its mechanical effects new with all its mechanical effects new. The company is a very strong one and contains many well known artists. The famous Donazetts, who stand at the head of the acrobatic profession will form the wonderful human bridge.

It is a marvelous feat and no doubt the "The Span of Life" owes much of its longevity and success to this and its great lighthouse scene.

Grand Opera House, Pittsburg

Next after this week's pretty, laughable comedy, "Why Smith Left Home" at the Grand Opera House, Pittsburg, comes one of the biggest events of the season in a magnificent production of "Romeo and Juliet", which will be given next week by the Grand stock company, and for this great production the management of the Grand has specially engaged the celebrated actress Katherine Grey, who will appear in the part of "Juliet" Miss Grey was last seen in Pittsburg as the leading woman for Richard Mansfield, and appeared as "Roxan" in "Cyrano de Bergerac", and in the female star part in the "First Violin." There is no more widely known actress in Europe or America, possibly outside of very few of the great stars like Bernhardt than Katherine Grey. Her engagement at the Grand Opera House for the "Romeo & Juliet" production will be an event of extraordinary importance.
