C. E. MILLER, SHOE MAN Makes a Grand Offer to the Trade.

A GREAT REMODELLING SALE We Must Have Money, We Must Have Room.

We are making a big change in our building. New basemen new front, another story and a large addition on the rear. Our large and increasing trade makes it necessary for us to make this change, and to make this change we need money and room. Our fall goods are all in and our building is packed from cellar to roof. While we don't prospose to lose any money on these fresh, seasonable goods we intend cutting our profits so as to make this large stock move quickly. To our old trade we just have to say to them, we are going to close some goods cheap; they know what it means.

TO OUR NEW FRIENDS.

We wish to say that when we advertise a sale of goods it genuine and the trade knows it and approves and profits by it. We wish to impress on your minds that just now we are having a Great Sale of Shoes, just such as you need at this time of the year. Bette take advantage of this sale.

Origin of Cake Walk. The cake walk proper had its origin mong the French negroes of Louisithan a century ago, says the ables several of them in form. m New Oricans it spread over the ntire south and thence north. It was found of convenience to the plantation negroes. They were not wedded by license, and it was seldom that the services of a preacher were called in. At a cake walk a man might legitimately show his preference for a woman and thus publicly claim her for a wife.

In effect the cake walk was not different from the old Scotch marriage which required only public acknowledgment from the contracting parties. So this festival became in some sense and a ceremony. This explains its popularity with the blacks outside of its beauties, with the accompaniment of music, which is competent at all times to command negro support. Cake walking has improved, as do most things that are constantly prac-ticed. It has lost its old significance in the south. Negroes now get married when they marry at all in the white folks' fashion. It has become, howev er, a pantomime dance. Properly per-formed, it is a beautiful one. The cake is not much of a prize, though the negro has a sweet tooth.

A Discovery by Chance. Finiguerra, the master of early en-graving, delighted in doing deeds of kindness. One day a washerwoman in washing a piece of clothing in which a needle had been carelessly left had the misfortune to run it into her hand. The needle broke, and more than half of it was left imbedded in the flesh. It gave her much pain, and as soon as she could she went to Finiguerra's studio, put down the bundle of damp clothes that she was carrying to their owner and asked the artist to help her. After much patient, careful manipulation with his fine tools he succeeded in ex-tracting the broken needle. The woman thanked him, and as she lifted her damp bundle to leave the studio Finiguerra noticed that it had rested upon one of his engravings and had received an excellent impression om it. The engraving, like all others of that time, was a metal plate comupon the damp cloth suggested to the alert mind of Finiguerra the possibility of producing an indefinite number of pictures from a single original. By experimenting he perfected his discovery and eventually made it possible for all homes to have beautiful engravings, for previous to his discovery only the wealthy could afford them.

The forage allowance is often con muted by turning over the same to the quartermaster, and this practice once betrayed a suspicious new member of the house into a curious blunder. He announced that he had discovered that "officers of the army are selling the forage allowed to them, and one such case I am prepared to cite from the records of the war department, a case in which the oats and hay were transferred, doubtless for a consideration, to a person named Q. M. Corral." There was an exchange of looks and winks among his astonished hearers, and then an old member kindly rose and said, "I presume, Mr. Speaker that the memorandum referred to by my distinguished friend refers to a transfer of forage, in the ordinary course of business, to the quartermas

Washington Post. Coins and Conductors. A new industry among street car onductors was revealed to a patient passenger on an up town Sixth avenue car the other day. The conductor, who was in a talkative mood, opened conversation by exhibiting a coin of a mintage which commands a premium and remarking that many such coins, which were carried as pocket pleces, came into the hands of himself and his fellow conductors in the course of a year, either from passengers who were temporarily oblivious more or less of their surroundings and their actions or from men who had gone broke and had to get up town. From that he passed to the topic of bogus coins, ingenuously confessing plete in itself and was regarded as a that conductors who took bad quarters single picture. The impression made or half dollars by mistake and were too conscientious to try to work them off on passengers sold them at the car house to other conductors at a discount of 5 cents. The squeamish conductors, he explained, had rather lose cents than to try to pass the coins or to lose the face value of the coins The other conductors, he said, were always ready to make the 5 cents and there were of course always passengers available to whom the coins might be given in change.-New York Sun.

"And why?" was asked, with the air of one who thinks she has been deeply wronged. "It is because I believe you love me and I care enough for you not to make you miserable. Nothing could be more unselfish than my action. You are poor. You could not supply me with those luxuries that I crave, and the fact that you had to deny them to me would make you unhappy. The greater your love the more wretched you would be in such circumstances, and it is to save you from this unhap-piness that I refuse you. I shall sacrifice myself by marrying some one with lots of money, but it will be for you—all for you."—Chicago Post.

"Last Friday Lucy (Mrs. Knox) dined at General Washington's. Last Sat-urday, let it be remembered to the honnot a greater distance than half point blank shot-and did what? THE OUTLOOK

For a woman's happiness in the married state depends less, as a rule, upon the man she is to marry than upon her own health. The woman who enters upon marriage, suffering from womanly weakness, is "heaping up trouble against the day of trouble."
