Cause Was Urgent.
One of the most famous of the old
Puritan divines was Dr. Mather Byles, who was born in Boston in 170G and treet Congregational church, to which breet Congregational that the ministered for more than 40 years.

Dr. Byles was famous as a humorist and wit, and innumerable anecdotes are related of his clever quips and retorts. He was a zealous Tory and varmly advocated the cause of "the nother country" against the colonies. In November, 1777, he was arrested as a Tory, tried, convicted and sentenced to be confined on board a guard ship and sent to England with his family within 40 days. The sentence was afterward commuted by the board of war to confinement in his own house, a guard being placed over him with instructions not to permit him to leave his residence for a moment under any his residence for a moment under any

Very few of the people to whom ma-Elliputian watch that it keeps excelent time and is a marvelous piece of commonplace thing are aware of the was taught to the white people by the Indians and that they made sugar long before the discovery of America. This is only one of the many things that the white people learned from the Indians. Others were the weaving of cotton, the case, of brass, covered with black sugar and that they learned how to ather thickly studded with big silver sap was collected in a rude way, a gash being cut in the tree, and into this a stick was thrust, down which the freely flowing sap dripped into a vessel of birch bark or a gourd or into wooden troughs hollowed out by fire or the ax. Then into larger wooden troughs full of the sap redhot stones were thrown, just as in old times they used to be thrown into the water in which food was boiled, and by constantly throwing in hot stones and taking out those that had become cool the sap was boiled and evaporated, and at length sirup was made, which later became sugar. This manufacture of the sugar wa not confined to any one tribe, but was practiced by all northern Indians and was known to those living as far sout as Florida and Texas. Among th sugar making tribes a special festiva was held, which was called the maple

Among all the older writers who had much familiarity with the customs of the Indians accounts are given of the manufacture of sugar, and this custor was so general that among man tribes the month in which the sap ra best was called the sugar month. By the Iroquois the name Ratirontaks meaning tree eaters, was applied to the Algonquin tribes, and an eminent au thority, Dr. Brinton, has suggested that they were probably "so called from their love of the product of the sugar maple." On the other hand. A. F. Chamberlain has very plausibly said "that it is hardly likely that the Iroquois distinguished other tribes by this term, if its origin be as suggested, since they themselves were sugar makers and eaters."

A more probable origin of the word is that given by Schoolcraft, in substance as follows: "Ratirontaks, whence Adi rondacks, was applied chiefly to the Montagnais tribes, north of the St. Lawrence, and was a derisive term in dicating a well known habit of these tribes of eating the inner bark of tree n winter when food was scarce o when on war excursions.
