Gov. Stone signed the bill retiring in-valid judges on half pay for the balance of their terms, last Saturday, and he may make the State campaign more ining than it is at present expected to be by going ahead, and filling the vacancies, before the 1st of August.

The local candidates are having one month of tolerably good weather for etting over the county.

HARRISBURG.

At the session of the House last Friday morning the calendar of bills on first and second reading was cleared. Bill after bill was moved up without any fuss and went to enlarge the second and third reading calendars. Mr. Harrison of Philadelphia made the motion for adjournment. The vote on it showed 61 members present. Before the last measure was acted upon there were less than 50 members in the House. The other 150 had run away This riled Mr. Coray of Luzerne and he spoke as follows: 'Collectively we are the most distinguished body of asses in the United States. I do not think this adjournment will hasten the final adjournment of the Legislature, nor do I think it will delay it. But the members of the Leislature, and especially of the House ould appreciate the painful and mor-ying situation in which they are placed. It is a situation that the memers should be thinking about.

"The members are being kept here tinued Mr. Coray, "and prevented rom going to their homes, and the citizens of the State are mulcted daily of $2,000. We are being kept here because certain gentlemen of highly distinguish ed position are using this Legislature or their own political ends. We are being played as pawns in the game of these politicians. We have become the hing stock and the peg for ridicule in the eyes of the people of the State. Our position is humiliating and one of contempt. We should not allow ourves to be used as passive pawns in politics." Mr. Mayne of Lehigh wanted some renson to be assigned for the adjourn-ment, but there was no response to his question. On motion of Mr. Creasy of Columbia the motion to adjourn was Columbia th
