

OUT OF SORTS.

Nothing tastes good. Nothing gives pleasure. The mind is dull and sluggish. The will is weak. Little things cause great irritation. What's the matter? The probabilities are that the stomach is deranged and the liver inviolated.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes a man who is run down and dispirited feel like a new being. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, stirs the sluggish liver into action, and increases the activity of the blood-making glands, so that there is an abundant supply of pure, rich blood.

Mr. Edward Jacobs, of Marengo, Crawford Co., Indiana, writes: "After three years of suffering with liver trouble and malaria I gave up all hopes of ever getting about again. The last of the summer I received a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one via of his Pleasant Pellets. I took most strictly, and I am due entirely to your wonderful medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing twelve large pages of paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

IT STAGGERED THEM.

Employees in a Department Store Were Dazed by a $1,000 Bill.

There was one division of one of the largest department stores along Sixth avenue that suspended business for half an hour one day last week. A woman bought some handkerchiefs and a pair of towels. The clerk footed her bill, 40 cents, and the woman laid a paper bill on the counter.

The clerk, a girl, looked at it hastily. It read $1,000. She had never seen a thousand dollar bill before in her life, and the amazement it caused made her speechless. With her mouth open in wonder she made out the check, showing that 40 cents was to be taken out of $1,000. The girl who acts as cashier fell back in her chair when she saw the bill. She didn't have change for it, and after gazing at it in wondering admiration for a moment she rushed out to the manager. He asked for the customer who had offered it, and the girl led the way to where the woman was waiting. The clerk had recovered from her surprise enough to point out the customer.

The manager said, "Madam, what did you buy?"

"I gave you this, and it is worthless," the manager said sternly. "Perseverance stood out on the woman's face as she looked in wonder at the bill. She fished a dollar out of her handbag she carried and paid. By that time she had figured out an explanation. She has a son attending a business school, and she had been so stunned by the big figures that he did not see that it was not money at all, but a fake bill.—New York Herald.

A SONG OF LOVE'S COMING.

Love comes with silent feet
Out of the mist of dreams,
With wings in the crowd,
He treads a sword that gleams.

Love comes with a red rose crown
To where the sleeper lies,
And on the breast of love
The red rose leaves drift down.

They touch the sleeper's lips,
And, sleeping still, he is,
They fall upon his breast,
And look into love's eyes.

Oh, waking lover sweet
Of mingled joy and pain,
Thou, dreamer, ere thou dost awake
And close thine eyes again.

He never more may sleep
Who hears the magic word,
Who hears the magic word,
Who hears the magic word.

—Pall Mall Gazette.

THE WILY WIDOW.

And the Visits to Her of Suitors Niles and Giles.

The widow is a resident of Brooklyn. Two of her friends are stockbrokers in Wall street and fellow club members, but they had never spoken of her to each other.

And the widow was wary. While she was undecided, she encouraged both and attracted that they call on different occasions. But one evening, unfortunately, the two suitors met, and the situation became embarrassing. The two men, however, did not mind the fact that they had met, but they had the right of possession. Niles was of opinion that the earlier caller should take his leave first. Therefore both hurried.

At length, as the hour was growing late, Niles suggested that they depart together and discuss a matter of interest in their club. Niles, however, was unable to take a real excuse, agreed.

Together they boarded a car and together reached the ferry for Manhattan borough.

At this juncture Niles, somewhat unnecessarily, it appeared to Giles, became engaged in a controversy with a man who had looked him, but the opportunity seemed heaven sent to Giles, and he embraced it to return the way he had come. He had been on the point of asking a crucial question as general culture is passing away. The universities are using every effort to train men along special lines for definite efficiency in something. The old way of making a general education as general culture is passing away. The university takes men as they are and makes the most out of what they can do. A man today in America is foolish to be "self made" when better means are at hand. It is equally foolish to choose a self taught man as against other men who have worked with equal zest and force and with much better advantages.

Formerly a man of an executive turn, a leader in business or politics, found a man today in America little that could help him. Now he finds everything. In the future the college men will be the natural leaders in industrial and commercial life. The men who are to lead cannot afford to stay out of college.—Success.

CULINARY CAPERS.

If parsley is wrapped up in a piece of wet cheesecloth, it can be kept for some time.

Butter is much used by the Italians when cooking spinach, as it is said to bring out the flavor of the vegetable.

Two or three leaves from a rose geranium added to cranberry jelly while it is cooking will, it is said, impart a delicious flavor.

A pinch of powdered ginger added to cranberries in cooking will bring out the flavor. The ginger should be steeped in a jar, but kept separate, looking more like candied cherries.

For a vegetable puree young fresh nettles turnip tops or even young earth nettle leaves are recommended. They are cooked in the same way—boiled—rubbed through a sieve and added to cream.

Satisfy (oyster plant) is excellent if soaked in vinegar and then dipped in oil, salted and heated in white sauce. Bake in shells, having sprinkled grated cheese and bread crumbs over the top.

Italian dried peas are popular still in Great Britain under the familiar name of peas pudding. The vegetable is soaked overnight, then boiled, rubbed through a sieve and sent to the table with the addition of a little thick cream.

Professions Not Overcrowded.

There is a dearth of thoroughly trained men in all professions. The more exacting the conditions the greater the need. The thoroughly trained man nowadays must be a college man. The universities are using every effort to train men along special lines for definite efficiency in something. The old way of making a general education as general culture is passing away. The university takes men as they are and makes the most out of what they can do. A man today in America is foolish to be "self made" when better means are at hand. It is equally foolish to choose a self taught man as against other men who have worked with equal zest and force and with much better advantages.

The Reading Cure.

Reading aloud is recommended by physicians as a benefit to persons affected with any chest complaint. The recommendation is made because in all cases of lung trouble it is important for the sufferer to indulge in exercise by which the chest is in part filled by and emptied of air, for the exercise is strengthening to the throat, lungs and muscles of the chest.

Reading aloud can be practiced by all and besides being a curative act can be a pleasure and profit to both reader and hearers. In this treatment it is recommended that an overdose of medicine be avoided, that the reading be deliberate, without being allowed to drag, that the enunciation be clear, the body be held in an easy, unstrained upright position, so that the chest will have free play, and that the breathing be natural and as deep as possible without undue effort.

How Many People Know that the Custom of Throwing Rice at a Wedding Symbolizes not the expression of good luck, but it is a metaphorical flight of arrows shot at the bridegroom. In uncivilized ages most nations were accustomed to the forcible capture of a bride, and the bride and bridegroom were part of her male relatives to a way by her husband from carrying her prevent this, the bridegroom is to be a way by a volley of rice. Instead of more fatal missiles.

The Interval of Effort.

"My man, you are a professional beggar, aren't you?"

"No, sir, I'm a professional loafer."

"When I give you money, then I give you and beg."—Chap. ago Herald.

Where He Failed.

The young man drew himself up to his full height.

"I have," he cried, "an unusual character, an ardent heart, a versatile mind and strenuous biceps."

The young girl yawned and seemed interested.

He was quick to push his advantage. "I am the possessor of a town and country home, a yacht, a stable of thoroughbred and a box at the opera."

She hesitated, and a slight flush betrayed that she was listening.

"I have 500,000," he continued, "with a certain number of servants, 40 pairs of trousers, 50 ancestors, three automobiles, six prize bull pups and an army commission."

At this she burst into a fit of laughter. "And how many golf medals?" she asked.

The young man stammered.

He felt that he had lost. He had played nervily and high, but she was above his limit.—Judge.

They Like Fast Girls in Tents.

A Tunisian girl has no chance of marriage unless she tips the scale at 200 pounds, and to that end she commences to fatten when she is 15 years old. She takes appetizers and eats a great deal of sweet stuff and leads a sedentary life to hasten the process. Up to 15 she is very handsome, but at 20 what an immense, unwieldy mass of fat she becomes! She waddles, or rather, undulates around the street. Her costume is very picturesque, especially if she be of the richer class. They are clothed in fine silks of resplendent hues of a bright red, yellow or green and wear a sort of central shaped headpiece, from which depends a long white drapery, Turkish trousers and dainty slippers, the heel of which barely reaches the middle of the foot, complete the costume.

OUR
17th Semi-Annual Sacrifice Sale

4 DAYS—4 DAYS—4 DAYS

Wednesday, July 10th, Thursday, July 11th, Friday, July 12th, Saturday, July 13th.

The No. 17 at the head of this announcement, showing that we have had 16 of these semi-annual sacrifice sales previous to this one we announce for the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th of July, ought to convince you that they are what the word implies—genuine sacrifice sales, successful ones, too, or we could not come before you with the announcement. Right here in our town they are patiently looked forward to and waited for. Our out-of-town friends are often on account of their occurrence at Holiday time or near it not notified of the date of this great bargain opportunity in time to come in and reap the benefit of it. We therefore announce it early and invite you to come, assuring you that we never had such a sale as this one will be. The cause is easily made known. A backward, rainy season leaves us over-stocked in Dress Goods, Silks, Ladies' Jacket Suits, Millinery, Wash Goods; Lawn Wrappers; Lace Curtains. Every department must have the knife applied.

This price-cutting will enable you to buy as much with one dollar as two dollars would buy for previous to this date.

Remember time—July 10, 11, 12 and 13, and place,

Mrs. J. E. ZIMMERMAN.

The pride of white linen

Every housewife knows how difficult it is to have snowy linen and get good wear from the fabric. Some soap will not wash out ground-in dirt and stains; some soap eats the fabric; some soap leaves a yellow tinge.

Walker's Soap
CONTAINS NO ALKALI

It dissolves and expels dirt and stains with practically no rubbing and no injury, and leaves the fabric white and strong as ever. Read the wrapper and learn washing without working.
